F.D.R. DEMAND FOR NEW POWER IS TURNED DOWN

House Committee to Draft Own Plan.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—The house ways and means committee today refused to accede to administration demands for hurried action on pending legislation which would grant vast increases in President Roosevelt's wartime powers.

Rep. R. L. Doughton.

After a preliminary hearing, the committee voted to table the original bill and announced it would write its own measure drastically limiting both the life and the extent of the new authority to be conveyed to the President.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.] said at the conclusion of a day long, closed session that he had appointed a subcommittee of seven members to draft the new bill with the aid of various department heads. He declared frankly that congressional leaders held little hope that the administration measure would pass the house.

Opposed in Committee.

"Or even be approved by the committee in its present form," interposed Rep. Allen T. Treadway [R., Mass.], ranking minority member of the ways and means group.

"Yes," Doughton readily agreed, "there is doubt it would ever get to the floor unless revised."

The action was regarded as all the more surprising as it came immediately after the members heard seven top ranking department officials testify in favor of the bill and urge its speedy adoption. Before the election, it had been predicted freely that the measure would pass both houses with little delay.

Delay Is Expected.

With the tabling of its bill, apparently went the administration's hope of passage at the present session. Unlike today's session which was held behind locked doors, it was said the hearings on the new measure will be public. Hearing of numerous witnesses on so controversial a measure is expected to consume much valuable time with further time to be taken by debate in both the house and senate.

As introduced, the bill would empower Mr. Roosevelt to suspend tariff and immigration laws and any other legal restrictions deemed as interference with the movements of persons, property, or information in and out of the United States. The request for these unprecedented powers was contained in a Presidential message to congress earlier this month.

Gives Unlimited Powers.

Almost unlimited in its dictatorial aspects, the bill would permit the President to junk tariff regulations at his discretion for acquisition of raw

Hospital Hit; Blame Federal Surplus Eggs

Salem, Ore., Nov. 18 (Special).—Thirty-two persons died at the Oregon State Hospital for the Insane tonight within a few hours after eating eggs given the institution by the federal government from surplus stocks, Dr. J. C. Evans, superintendent, announced. Four hundred others were ill.

Dr. Evans said the eggs, which were put up in 2 gallon tin containers and had been kept in cold storage at the hospital for about two months, had been served for dinner tonight in four wards housing working patients who are given a special diet because of the nature of the work they perform.

Illness Noted at Once.

The first illness was noted within a few minutes after the eggs were eaten, and the first deaths occurred within an hour, Dr. Evans said.

The patients were stricken with "an extreme gastro-intestinal disturbance," Dr. Evans said. "The situation is terrible. We are doing everything possible to prevent further deaths."

Among the dead were two women inmates. One regular employe of the hospital staff, who also had the eggs for dinner, was ill. Dr. Evans said those who partook of the eggs were seized with extreme nausea, hemorrhage, and "appeared to be in an acute toxic condition."

Six Doctors Called.

Six doctors and eight nurses are caring for the patients, providing stimulants and emetics.

The coroner was notified immediately after the first death, Dr. Evans said, and members of the institution's board of control were at the hospital, where "an immediate investigation" will be launched.

The institution has 2,738 patients, about 1,400 of them men.

AIDS ARMY; ASKS ALASKA FOR JAPS

Find Sir Hubert Wilkins on U. S. Pay Roll.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—Sir Hubert Wilkins, Australian citizen and explorer, who has been advocating on the lecture circuit that the United States give Alaska to Japan after the war to provide this country's Pacific enemy with living room, today was disclosed as attached to the military planning division of the office of the quartermaster general in the war department here.

Sir Hubert Wilkins.

The proposal of this Australian to give away Alaska while American troops are defending Australia was disowned by the Australian legation here. At the legation it was said that Sir Hubert has no official status with the Australian government and has no status as a spokesman for the Australian government.

Retained as Consultant.

At the war department it was acknowledged that Sir Hubert had been retained by the quartermaster general's office on a per diem basis as a consultant on clothing and supplies for the arctic and antarctic regions, where he has headed exploring expeditions.

Asked why Sir Hubert was employed in this capacity, it was said that his status as a citizen of an allied nation made him eligible for such employment. It could not be learned readily whether any American explorers have been similarly employed.

Sees Japs as Traders.

Sir Hubert is at present on a lecture swing in which he has repeatedly stated that the transformation of Alaska into a Jap colony is the solution of not only the prewar but postwar Pacific problems. At Chicago Nov. 10 he spoke before the Geographic Society of Chicago in Orchestra hall. He said then that Japanese colonization of Alaska might have prevented the present war in the Pacific and may still be the best solution to Japan's need for "living space" after the war.

"There is only one area on the face of the earth that can reduce the threat of Japan," he said. "Alaska has not been considered an important cog in the Pacific, but that is not true. Alaska can fulfill all the requirements of the Japanese nation."

In his lectures Wilkins has insisted that the Japanese do not want to invade Australia but wish to trade peacefully with his birthplace.

After his lecture in Chicago Sir Hubert was asked by one of his listeners why he did not, as a British subject, propose to give away British Columbia rather than the American territory of Alaska. He evaded an answer.

'Battleships Will Beat Japs,' Halsey Said Before the Fight

GUADALCANAL, Solomon Islands, Nov. 9 [Delayed]—(AP).—"The way to beat the Japs is to sink ships, sink ships and sink more ships. Maybe after all our carriers are gone, our battleships still will be there to beat them," said Vice Adm. William F. Halsey today.

The commander in chief of naval forces in the south Pacific had arrived here last night to award medals to 13 heroes of recent action. Interviewed by the five correspondents here, and continuing the discussion of battleships, he said, "Battleships will have a decided rôle in this war before it ends, and I am an airman."

Maj. Gen. A. A. Vandegrift of the marine corps, in charge of the Guadalcanal land operations, interposed: "He's a hell of a good sailor, tho."

"Kill Japs to Win War."

Asked how it would be possible to win the war in this sector, Halsey replied, "Kill Japs. Kill Japs. Kill more Japs, regardless of the nationality of the island on which they are met."

He termed the naval picture fine "from our point of view."

[Adm. Halsey made his statement four days before the start of the naval battle in the Solomons between the American and Japanese fleets.]

"The marines right here are beating the Japs on land, and it is ridiculous to say any one branch of any one service is going to win this war. It will be not any one branch of the navy or marine corps or army but the united service group."

No Change in Carrier Design.

Halsey said he thought there would be no change in carrier design.

"You can't make an omelet without breaking the eggs," he observed. "The air force is the most superb gang of men I ever dreamed of. I knew they were good, but they were so damned good it surprised even me."

"Is this a war of attrition?" Halsey was asked.

"It's a war of knocking hell out of their ships," he replied.

"Would you call this a second front?"

"This is definitely a first front."

"You Are Splendid Men."

"How long do you think the war will take?"

"I'll ask you. How long do you think they can take it? They've got to eat and got to supply themselves. Control of the seas is the answer, and your guess is as good as mine."

"I've never been more proud in all my life," Halsey said as he pinned navy and flying crosses to 12 tunics and affixed a gold star to a navy cross previously won by Maj. Gen. Roy S. Geiger, United States marine corps.

"You are very courageous, splendid men," Halsey continued. "I wish to God every woman and child of that great country of ours could know it. They will know it in time. God bless you all."

Private Outshines Them All.

Among the men decorated were 2d Lieut. L. S. Smith, Duquoin, Ill., who scored a direct hit on a Jap destroyer, later crashed into the ocean and swam for seven hours to rejoin his squadron, and Pvt. Joseph D. R. Champagne of Lewiston, Me., who is 17 years old.

In a tank attack on the Matanikau river on Oct. 23 young Champagne remained in a foxhole while an enemy tank bore down on him, then rose and placed a grenade in the tank track, demolishing it.

Map of Mediterranean War Zone

On the back page of today's paper appears a new color map of the Mediterranean war area. This shows the western Mediterranean and contiguous lands, including most of Italy and much of North Africa. It covers the region in which a new major front is expected to be developed by the allies against the European axis nations.

NAZI PATROLS IN TUNISIA ARE FORCED BACK

ALLIED HDQ., North Africa, Nov. 18 (AP).—American and British troops thrusting into Tunisia from both north and south have battered back German patrols in clashes foreshadowing the start of the battle to decide the fate of the Mediterranean.

The Germans thus far have shown no inclination to meet the advancing allied troops in a battle, field reports indicated. The axis soldiers are concentrated around the naval base at Bizerte and the capital at Tunis. [London dispatches said the allies were about 70 miles west of Bizerte.]

The Germans also made one attempt to land an advance scout unit by air in southern Algeria. This was beaten off by French forces shortly before American ~~and British~~ troops swarmed into the area.

Chute Troops in the Van.

American and British parachute troops continued in the van of the advancing force, operating as ground combat teams. The American parachute troops advanced into Tunisia by automobile from their last jumping place in Algeria, while the British chute troops also advanced along the ground with the Americans, occupying "several strategic places."

[Arabs remain in Libya as Italian colonists flee British drive. Story on page 6.]

Simultaneously fresh resistance to the axis spread behind the German lines in Tunisia with French garrisons fighting off German attempts to land air borne troops.

French forces joined the allies in penetrating Tunisia "at several points." Gen. Henri Honoré Giraud, commander of the French allied forces in North Africa, visited his leading units.

More Americans in Line.

Altho the British 1st army under Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson was spearheading the attack, increasing numbers of American troops now are being released to participate. This was made possible by the friendly attitude of the French at Oran, Algiers, and even far west at Casablanca on the Atlantic.

Gen. Giraud's visit to the front brought more French garrisons flocking to the allied standard, and these Frenchmen, familiar with the difficult terrain, have been flung out on the flanks as advance scouts for the allies.

Flying Forts Blast Bizerte.

LONDON, Nov. 18 (AP).—Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle's Flying Fortresses took a hand today in the all important struggle for control of the air over Tunisia by battering the Bizerte air field, setting oil tanks ablaze and destroying a German fighter.

The Germans have packed the airdromes at Tunis and Bizerte with fighters and dive bombers, but despite this the Flying Fortresses were understood to have returned from their raid without loss.

NAVY SILENT 2D DAY ON DEVELOPMENTS IN FIGHT FOR SOLOMONS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 [Special].—For the second consecutive day the navy today omitted to reveal any more information about last week's naval battle off Guadalcanal, or any news as to what has happened since Saturday in the Solomons land battle area.

The last information released consisted of a voluminous communique on Monday evening describing the victory of our forces over the Japanese fleet. There remains one unreported engagement on Saturday night [Solomons date], concerning which the navy said no details had been received.

Secretary Knox sent Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, and Vice Adm. William F. Halsey Jr., commander of United States naval forces in the South Pacific, congratulatory messages.

Tribune Man, a Parachutist, Tells of Attack

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH AMERICAN PARATROOPS AT ADVANCED ALGERIAN BASE, Nov. 18.—A week after accomplishing their first battle mission near Oran, American paratroops landed yesterday in their second successful task. As a war correspondent, I jumped with the troops, being the first reporter to jump with American paratroops, either in practice or in battle.

Lieut. Col. E. D. Raff.

Our mission was to occupy an isolated landing field, denying it to the Germans for their use. The enemy was reported to be reconnoitering near by.

From an armada of carriers, the American paratroopers dropped wide on soggy ground. There were some injuries, but I made a lucky and perfect landing. As the heavily armed troopers took up defensive positions they discovered that newly arrived French Zouaves already were guarding the field.

Greeted as Heroes.

Instead of encountering Germans or a questionable reception by the French, the American paratroops found themselves greeted as heroes.

On a hilltop beside excellent defensive positions, Lieut. Col. E. D. Raff, our commanding officer, carrying an American flag, shook hands with Col. Albert Berges, French commander, and his adjutant, Capt. Roger Chopard Lallier.

Col. Raff learned that the French are here in force and that more are expected. Their intelligence men indicated that no Germans were near.

Leaving some of the troops to help guard the field, others were marched by Maj. D. R. Yardley of Raymondville, Tex., to protect a second landing field. Patrols were sent out.

Guests of French Officers.

Maj. W. P. Yarborough of New York, from the headquarters of the allied forces, and this reporter drove with the French to their headquarters. There we were greeted in the warmest fashion by the French officers.

Raff, Yarborough and this reporter were further honored by the French Zouaves, who made us members of their regiment by adorning each of us with a red fourragere from their regiment.

[A fourragere is a French military decoration awarded a regiment for conspicuous valor, and consists of a cord worn about the left shoulder seam by each member of the regiment so decorated.]

8 Jap Warships Strive to Help Trapped Army

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Nov. 19 [Thursday].—(AP)—United States and Australian troops closed in on the Japanese New Guinea base of Buna today as heavy bombers streaked ahead to attack eight enemy destroyers "maneuvering off the north coast, apparently in support of the enemy ground forces," a communique announced.

"The advance of our ground forces on Buna continues with forward elements now closing in on their objective," the communique said. "Our medium units bombed enemy installations and positions.

"An enemy naval force of eight destroyers divided into two groups is maneuvering off the north coast, apparently in support of the enemy ground forces. Our heavy bombers are endeavoring to engage them."

[Absence of any mention that loaded transports were on the scene left open the possibility that the destroyers might be prepared to evacuate the Japs at Buna.]

The allied ground forces, under personal command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who is in the field in New Guinea, were reported "closing in on their objective."

In the air, MacArthur's bombers fanned out for widespread operations. Some bombed enemy installations and positions at Buna, Lae, and Salamaua.

PETAIN GRANTS HIM POWERS TO RULE BY DECREE

Appointed as Heir to Aged Marshal.

LONDON, Nov. 18 (AP).—Pierre Laval, who has thrown in his chips for a German victory, was made Fascist dictator of Vichy France and designated successor to Marshal Henri Petain tonight. Observers predicted a new terror reign and a desperate Laval effort to swing France militarily into the axis fold.

Pierre Laval.

The 86 year old Marshal Petain named Laval his heir presumptive to replace Adm. Jean Darlan, who went over to the allied standard in French North Africa. He also gave Laval full powers to write his own laws and decrees in a nation completely occupied by axis armies.

Significantly the vesting of full powers in Laval came after the cabinet had heard a report from Rear Adm. Rene Platon, a secretary of state in the foreign ministry, on the latter's trip to Tunisia.

Allies Move on Tunisia.

Adm. Platon presumably outlined the prospects of rallying French Tunisians to the axis camp at a time when American and British troops are fighting their way into that protectorate from occupied French Algeria to the west. German and Italian troops already hold the Bizerte-Tunis area apparently in coöperation with pro-axis Vichy elements stationed in the Tunisian French protectorate.

An official Vichy announcement by Petain said he was giving full powers to Laval "to enable him to speedily deal at any hour and in all places with the difficulties thru which France is passing," and he declared he appreciated "the patriotism and foresight of Laval in all circumstances."

Gets Decree Power.

Still using the royal "we" in referring to himself, Petain said:

"We, marshal of France and chief of state by virtue of the constitutional law of July 10, 1940, decree that the head of government [Laval], outside of constitutional laws, has the power on his simple signature alone to make laws and issue decrees."

Petain canceled a previous constitutional article that had appointed Darlan as his successor. The marshal's new decree said that "in case of permanent incapacity [Petain's] the cabinet shall within a month appoint a chief of state by a majority vote."

"At the same time," the decree continued, "it shall define and fix the respective powers and attributions of the chief of state and head of government whose functions shall be separate."

Report Two Resignations.

Immediate repercussions from these developments were seen tonight in a Vichy report that Vice Adm. G. A. J. P. Auphan, secretary of state for the navy, and Robert Gibrat, secretary of state for communications, had resigned their cabinet posts.

Adm. Jean Marie Abrial, former governor general of Algeria, replaced Adm. Auphan, and Jean Bichelonne combined Gibrat's post with his present one of secretary of state for industrial production—a production, incidentally, geared to Germany's war needs.

These men doubtless resigned in protest against Laval's new powers. They probably knew they were going to be fired anyway, since Adm. Auphan is known to be a supporter of Darlan. In any event it was considered significant that Adm. Abrial was given Auphan's job.

He undoubtedly is slated to use what prestige he retains in Algeria for the benefit of the axis. There also remains the question of the French fleet at Toulon. Darlan in his appeals has asked it to go over to the allied side, but it still rides at anchor within gunshot of surrounding axis occupation armies.

The proaxis policy of Laval now takes a new and more powerful turn,

LAVAL APPOINTED FRENCH DICTATOR AND PETAIN 'HEIR'

Given Power to Rule by Own Laws, Decrees.

but just what form it will assume remained unclear. There have been reports that Laval was negotiating a peace with the axis to replace the armistice, perhaps as a forerunner of trying to place France formally at war with the allies.

These reported terms would give to Germany Alsace and Lorraine, provinces they already have taken over, and would place the Vichy fleet alongside the axis in an attempt to regain the French empire.

Segments of that empire now are occupied both by the axis and the allies. Japan is in French Indo-China, a fact that Vichy always ignores when speaking of "aggression," the "Fighting French" control other parts, the allies are in Morocco and Algeria, and both German-Italian and allied forces are in Tunisia.

Unless Laval eventually can cleverly propagandize the helpless French people it is thought unlikely that his axis collaboration would take the extreme form of going formally to war against the allies. The constitution also provides that Marshal Petain as chief of state himself does not have power to declare war without "the previous assent of the legislative assemblies."

Assemblies Not Yet Created.

Those assemblies are yet to be created under the constitution which replaced the Third Republic. Moreover, the constitution under which Petain assumed his powers never has been ratified.

Laval's régime has been notorious already for many outright proaxis moves. Before the Germans took over the remainder of France the former butcher boy had turned over thousands of Jews to the Germans for deportation to the east. He also forced thousands of French workers to go to Germany.

An increasing anti-Semitic program already was in evidence tonight with a Vichy report that 154 more persons, mostly Jews, had been deprived of their citizenship.

Laval, who narrowly escaped death from a Frenchman's bullets more than a year ago, has openly applauded the German repulse of the Commando attack on Dieppe, has protested United States bombings of German-controled factories in France, has turned over a number of French ships to the Germans, and continues to watch his suffering country being systematically looted of foodstuffs.

Predicted Axis Victory.

He does this in the hope of an axis victory, a victory he had predicted was certain to come in 1941.

Some French leaders had gone to North Africa in the hope of fighting on from there. He and Petain brought them back and tried to saddle them with "war guilt" in the unsuccessful Riom trials. In those trials testimony was introduced which accused Petain himself of military negligence in the years he headed France's military affairs.

Evidence that the new German-Vichy régime expects allied air attacks on southern France was shown tonight in Vichy reports that Marseilles picture galleries and art museums had been closed, and that art treasures were being removed to rocky caves outside the city for safety.

Evidence, too, that the Laval régime already had started its anti-allied propaganda campaign with fresh fervor was noted in French dispatches saying that seven French officers "who refused to submit themselves to the orders of the Americans and British in Algiers were executed without trial."

Gen. Clark Nabs Algerian Dignitaries Aiding Axis

LONDON, Nov. 18 (AP).—Reuters [British] news agency today reported that a Morocco broadcast said Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark had announced the internment of high Algerian personages on evidence that they were impeding the allied effort in North Africa. Clark was said to have declared that "expulsion of the axis from North Africa and its pursuit on the continent of Europe requires an immense massing of men and material in North Africa. This gigantic enterprise cannot be held up by the attitude of men who have sold themselves body and soul to the enemy."

FATE OF FRENCH FLEET BECOMES A PUZZLE AGAIN

Question Revived as Laval Takes Over Rule.

With pro-Nazi Pierre Laval cast in the rôle of dictator of France, the question of what will become of the remnants of the once powerful French fleet again arose last night.

Sixty-two of these fighting ships, including three battleships and four cruisers, now lie in the harbor of Toulon, within range of German guns. Other units are at Dakar, Senegal. Still other warships were at Oran and Casablanca when the Algerian and Moroccan ports fell to the American and British invasion of North Africa. One battleship and five cruisers, all demilitarized, as well as smaller craft have been at Alexandria since the British seized, sank, damaged or dispersed the naval power soon after the fall of France in 1940.

British Shell Battleship.

At that time one-third of the fleet was in British ports, another third off Oran, one-sixth at Casablanca, and one-sixth at Alexandria. In the battle off Oran on July 3, 1940, the battelship Dunkerque was heavily shelled, set on fire and beached; the battleship Strasbourg was torpedoed by naval aircraft but was able to proceed to Toulon; the battleship Provence was heavily damaged by shells; the battleship Bretagne, sister ship of the Provence, capsized. The battleship Richelieu, which had been launched in January, 1939, was put out of action at Dakar on July 8, 1940.

The battleship Jean Bart was believed at St. Nazaire, France, in an incomplete condition when the British set out to ruin the French fleet as an effective fighting force, but later was moved to Casablanca. The cruisers Gloire, Montcalm, and Georges Leygues also had been reported both at Casablanca and Dakar. During the allied invasion of North Africa this month the Jean Bart was set afire in the off-shore naval operations incident to the occupation of Casablanca.

Two Go to Toulon.

Of the battleships damaged at Oran in 1940, however, the Dunkerque and Provence, as well as the Strasbourg, apparently were repaired sufficiently to be moved to Toulon. In addition to these capital ships, the cruisers Algerie, Foch, Dupleix, and Colbert also are at the French naval base, along with many smaller vessels and submarines.

When the allies struck at Oran in their invasion Nov. 8 one recent dispatch from there said that the French lost eight cruisers, four destroyers, and two submarines, either by scuttling or by shells from allied warships.

Carrier at Martinique.

At Alexandria are the battleship Lorraine and the cruisers Duquesne, Tourville, Duguay, Suffren, and Trouin. The battleships Courbet and Paris escaped to British ports.

The aircraft carrier Bearne and the cruiser mine layer Emile Berten are at Martinique and the training cruiser Jeanne d'Arc is at Guadaloupe.

The crew of the Sarcouf, the world's largest submarine, went over to the Fighting French forces with the capitulation of France, but the vessel since has been reported lost at sea.

FRENCH AIR GENERAL ESCAPES TO LONDON AND JOINS DE GAULLE

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Another important French military figure, Gen. D'Astier de la Vigerie, who commanded the French air forces in northern France at the outbreak of war and later served in Morocco, has fled from France. It was disclosed today that De la Vigerie has just arrived in London to join Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Gen. de la Vigerie was accompanied on his perilous journey to England by Leon Mordant, French labor chief and a leader in the underground patriot movement in France.

De la Vigerie, who is 57 years old, was a fighter ace in the World war. When this war started he worked in close coöperation with the royal air force. After the 1940 armistice he was transferred to command of the air forces in Morocco, but soon was dismissed because of his pro-allied attitude. Following his dismissal he returned to France, where both his son and daughter were imprisoned for having De Gaullist sympathies.

TWO SHIPS SAIL FOR GREECE WITH WHEAT AND MILK

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 18 (AP).—Two Swedish steamers—the Akka and the Arrowanga—steamed out of harbor here today for Piraeus, port of Athens, with Canadian wheat, powdered milk, and large quantities of medicine for the oppressed people of Greece. The ships have been guaranteed safe conduct by all warring governments.

The wheat was the gift of the Canadian government thru an international arrangement, while the powdered milk, totalling 36 tons, and medicines were supplied by the Greek War Relief Fund of Canada. It was the third such shipment from this port.

GERMANY ADDS WODEHOUSE TO 'BRITISH' FORUM

BERLIN, Nov. 18 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The German radio said tonight that John Amery, son of L. S. Amery, Britain's secretary of state for India, would be joined by P. G. Wodehouse, British author, and possibly William Joyce, the notorious Lord Haw Haw, on a broadcast to England Thursday night.

Wodehouse, who has spoken on the German radio before, has been living with his wife and friends in the south Hartz mountains, but he is now at Berlin's Hotel-Adlon, the broadcast said.

It added that Amery had arrived in Berlin three weeks ago "to study conditions," and said he had been prompted by the allied invasion of North Africa to send a message to England.

Evidently building up a propaganda stunt, the German radio on Tuesday heralded that a son of a present British cabinet minister would speak Thursday night. Amery, who suffers from a lung ailment, had been living in Grenoble, France, before the war and stayed on after the fall of France. Grenoble was in the former free zone.

Eisenhower Makes Feint for Arctic; Scores in Africa

LONDON, Nov. 18 (AP).—The Daily Mirror said today that the allied North African commander, Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, laid a smokescreen for that campaign by sending his aide to buy arctic equipment two weeks before he left for Africa.

PREFABRICATION! THAT'S SECRET OF KAISER GENIUS

Added to Workers' Spirit, It Produces Records.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 18 [Special].—Announcements of records being broken by Henry J. Kaiser in turning out ships in less than a week after the keels are laid—the last one in three days—tell only part of the story of this amazing ship building program on the west coast.

The explanation for these accomplishments, rather than being based on any secret formula, lies in prefabrication and the use of American assembly line methods in a field where they previously had not been extensively employed.

Involved, investigation shows, is the dynamic genius of Kaiser, the high morale of the workers, and the Kaiser technique of welcoming suggestions. But it is largely prefabrication that is determining the rate at which this stream of ships are sliding down the ways at California and Oregon yards.

Process Speeded Up.

Because shipyard ways are expensive and few, the construction of completed sections away from them, in the open where work can be done better and faster, speeds not merely the time of building one ship but decreases the total time for a fleet of them by permitting the ways to be used only for finishing processes.

As a result of the method by which completed sections are prefabricated sometimes weeks before they reach the ways, it is impossible to determine accurately the total number of man hours required to build a ship. However, statisticians estimate that this system has cut at least 20 per cent off the average time for previous construction.

The manner in which prefabrication and the assembly line method works is strikingly illustrated by one of Kaiser's recent record breakers, the Liberty ship Robert E. Peary. The 10,500 ton cargo vessel was launched at one of his three Richmond yards on Nov. 12, only 4 days and 15 hours after the keel was laid, and was delivered to the Maritime commission fully fitted last Sunday. This preceded the three day ship.

A Challenge to Workers.

The Peary was essentially a test, a challenge to the men in the yards where it was constructed to experiment with new ideas and to devise a new and better way of building a ship. A request for suggestions brought a flood of answers from every classification of workers in the yard, ideas for jigs, rigs and gadgets and constructive criticism.

Then the planners and blueprinters went to work on prefabrications thru which as much of the ship as possible would be built on open assembly tables.

As a result of their planning, approximately 250,000 items that went into the Peary were assembled into mammoth sections ranging up to 110 tons. Most of them were completed in two weeks or less.

When the time came for the giant trailers to haul the sections the short distance from the "prefab" plant to the shipway, the usual 12 double bottom units had been reduced to five huge pieces. Similarly, the 23 pieces usually comprising the main deck were dropped into place by the cranes in seven sections.

Most of Riveting Done.

Furthermore, hatch piping and winch foundations were 100 per cent complete. "Prefab" also had pounded home 80 per cent of the ship's 23,000 rivets and had fitted almost all of the hull's six miles of pipe.

Prefabrication of the fore and aft peaks alone had saved over 4,000 manhours. The union melt welding machine, which performs in 25 minutes operations requiring eight hours of hand work, had been used to the maximum. Workers had completed on assembly tables 152,000 feet of welding, leaving only 57,800 feet for completion on the ways.

Again slashing man hours, five days work by "prefab" on the 135 ton engine had cut the engine room assembly job of 25 marine machinists from three weeks to two days on the ways.

When the over-all hull of the Peary moved onto the ways it was 61 per cent prefabricated in comparison with 41 per cent prefabrication on previous vessels.

How Deckhouse was Built.

An example of unit construction was the midships deckhouse. When it started off on a set of rollers at one end of the "prefab" plant it was merely a set of flat steel plates bound together by machine welds. When it emerged at the end of the line it weighed about 200 tons and was complete even to electric clocks. It was cut into four sections for moving to the ways where welders reunited it.

Of prime importance to shipyard officials in the construction of these record breaking ships is the indication that the new techniques developed will bring still more improvements and that the building speed will increase constantly.

IMMIGRANT BORN IN ITALY TO GET WAR WORK MEDAL

Tribune Honors I. C. Rail Foreman Tonight.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Some 43 years ago an 11 year old Italian immigrant boy got a job with the Illinois Central railroad as a water boy for a section gang. He worked hard and eventually became a foreman. His task was to help see that trains moved safely in the Chicago terminal district. He was so loyal to his job that he voluntarily put himself on call for emergency work 24 hours a day.

Tonight at 7:45 Philip Limardi—the former immigrant, now a proud American citizen—will be presented with the Tribune's War Workers' Award for October in a radio ceremony at station W-G-N. The award is for an "outstanding contribution to America's war effort."

Formal presentation of the award will be made by Col. Robert S. Henry, Washington, D. C., assistant to the president of the Association of American Railroads.

Selected by Committee.

Selection of Limardi was made by the independent award committee whose members are Henry T. Heald, chairman, president of the Illinois Institute of Technology; Charles M. Thompson, dean of the school of commerce, University of Illinois, and James L. Donnelly, executive vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers association.

Limardi's contribution was a number of suggestions for several simplified switching operations which saved substantial amounts of money on equipment, reduced maintenance costs, and produced about 55 tons of critical materials. Thus critical materials were saved for war use and labor was conserved for other needed work.

Specifically Limardi suggested that a slip switch [a multiple switch over several tracks, requiring a number of parts] be replaced by an ordinary turn out switch which would do the job better at the particular point. The cost of the former is $4,000 and of the latter $1,400. Thus a $2,600 saving was made. The cost of maintaining the slip switch was estimated at about $900 a year.

Has Wife, Two Children.

Limardi lives with his wife at 3159 Princeton avenue. Two children, Mary and Dominick, are married.

The Tribune award is given once a month to a man or a woman worker for a notable contribution to America's war effort. The award consists of a solid gold pin studded with three small diamonds. The decorative feature is a V for victory eagle. Persons eligible to compete are those employed in Illinois, Lake county, Indiana, and Kenosha and Racine counties, Wis., whose work contributes to the war effort. Nominations may be made by employé-management committees, independent committees, individuals, or in the way best suited to the various war plants. Limardi is the fourth worker to win the award.

Nominations should be sent to the War Workers' Award Editor, Chicago Tribune, Tribune Tower, Chicago.

TREASURY GIVES O. K. TO SALE OF SILVER SUPPLY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—Treasury approval of a bill authorizing the government to sell silver from its stockpile for war purposes at a minimum average price of 50 cents an ounce was announced today by the author, Sen. Theodore F. Green [D., R. I.].

The navy department also recommended enactment of the bill in a letter to Chairman Robert Wagner [D., N. Y.], of the senate banking and currency committee.

As amended by the coinage subcommittee, the bill would authorize the treasury to sell silver on recommendation of Chairman Donald Nelson of the War Production board. James Forrestal, acting secretary of the navy, in his letter, said this would authorize allocation of silver to vital war industries which have the greatest need for the metal. Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau requested the fixing of 50 cents as the minimum price, saying the average cost of the silver was 48½ cents an ounce.

PLUG SUGAR LEAK OR CUT RATIONS, OPA'S DILEMMA

Supply Outlook for 1943 304,000 Tons Short.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—Unless regulations of the Office of Price Administration are improved, conservation tightened, or imports increased, America's sugar supplies will be 304,000 tons short of requirements in 1943 and may necessitate a cut in rations.

This dark appraisal of the sugar situation was disclosed today on the basis of OPA figures and was verified in part by other governmental agencies and by trade associations.

The trade, however, is determinedly opposed to any further restrictions on sugar consumption. While declining at this time to be quoted, representatives of sugar trade associations here declared that any attempt to reduce rations should be preceded by better OPA conservation.

Check on Abuses Planned.

At the office of Leon Henderson, price administrator, it was said that measures were to be taken to plug some of the leaks. Abused allotments for home canning are to be checked and efforts made to recall ration books of persons who have been inducted into military service or who have died.

Restaurant practices inaugurated with sugar rationing are to be changed. It has been reported that individual servings in paper sacks or with waiters holding the sugar spoon has proved less economical than putting sugar bowls, one-third full, on tables.

But these savings won't compensate for the calculated deficit in 1943, according to OPA.

Submarines Cause Shortage.

The reported shortage is due mainly to submarine activity in the Caribbean sea, which has slashed imports from the principal source of America's sugar. The necessity of employing the convoy system also has reduced by half the efficiency of the ships in the trade. The use of yachts and fishing boats, which dodge U-boats where rum runners dodged coast guard cutters in prohibition days, has been tried, but still deliveries are short.

Imports from the Caribbean during the five months of June thru October were at the rate of 176,000 tons a month. Last year, in peacetime, receipts from Cuba and Puerto Rico were at the rate of 268,740 tons a month. These are undisputed customs figures.

Anticipated Requirements.

OPA's calculated sugar requirements for 1943, a total of 5,716,000 tons, are listed as follows:

User—	Tons.
Household	1,683,000
Industrial	2,107,000
Armed forces	800,000
Institutions [including public eating places]	474,000
Home canning	402,000
Lend-lease	250,000

The anticipated supply for next year is given by OPA, the department of agriculture, the department of commerce, and by trade associations, in approximate agreement, as totaling 5,412,000 tons, and is listed as follows:

Source—	Tons.
Imports	3,000,000
Domestic beets	1,850,000
Domestic cane	562,000

Requirements for the armed forces were arbitrarily placed at 800,000, which represents 425,000 tons of direct purchases by the army and navy and 375,000 of indirect consumption, mainly canteen candy and soft drinks. The total, however, will vary with the size of the armed forces and their locations next year. Production for the military is not charged to industry in these figures.

Prefer Guns First.

The lend-lease item of 250,000 tons is another arbitrary figure used by OPA because actual exports to allies will depend upon availability of shipping. To date the allies have preferred guns to sugar.

The household requirement of 24 pounds per person per year for 131 million persons will shrink 5 per cent, it is believed, when those who don't need it stop buying a pound every week just to use their ration cards. Another 5 per cent might be cut off by retrieving the ration cards of the dead and those in the armed services. It was estimated these would account for a total saving of 168,300 tons.

The estimated domestic requirement for 1943, based on present rations as computed from 1942 experience, totals 4,666,000 tons. Last year the consumption in the United States, as estimated by the department of commerce, was 7,433,000 tons. The lowest of any year in the last decade was 6,300,000 tons in 1934.

Two Sides of Butter Rationing

Probable in U.S.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—Faced with war demands beyond the apparent ability of farmers to supply, the War Production board's foods requirements committee is expected soon to recommend civilian rationing of cheese and butter and fluid milk in larger cities, and a curtailment of manufacture of ice cream. Reports that this action was being considered have been prevalent here for several days.

Sources close to the committee, who requested that they not be quoted by name, said such action appeared inevitable. They added that the Office of Price Administration may be asked to raise some ceiling prices to help dairymen and processors meet advancing production costs.

Army Demand Up 250 Per Cent.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard today told the WPB committee, which he heads, that he did not believe farmers can meet 1943 demands. Dairy requirements of American and allied armed forces were said to have increased 250 per cent over this year. Civilian demands were reported increasing also, due to shortages of meat and rising incomes.

Wickard, committee sources said, estimated that next year's milk production might fall short of requirements by 20 billion pounds.

Declaring dairymen face growing shortages of labor, equipment, and transportation facilities, the secretary was said to have expressed the view that production would do well to match this year's record output of 120 billion pounds.

Submits Five Proposals.

After outlining this situation, the secretary submitted a program involving these proposals:

1. Ration fluid milk in some cities to assure ample supplies for children, invalids, and pregnant mothers.
2. Ration cheese as well as meats, possibly cutting civilian supplies of cheese approximately 40 per cent.
3. Limit distribution of butter until plans for rationing can be developed.
4. Limit ice cream manufacture to about 75 per cent of this year's output.
5. Revise price ceilings to increase cheese, and possibly butter and evaporated milk prices.

The committee deferred final action on the program until a later meeting. Officials said figures were not yet available on allotments, if rationing is ordered.

None for Canada

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 18 (AP).—J. G. Taggart, foods administrator for the prices board, said today, "I cannot see the remotest possibility of butter rationing at any time in the near future. And I can see possibly two or three years into the future. I can more or less guarantee that there will be absolutely no rationing in the next six months."

Addressing the Ontario dairy industries convention, Taggart said "it appears there are eight or nine million pounds of butter stored away in basements in Canada."

Coupon rationing, he said, would not work as satisfactorily with butter as tea, coffee, or sugar. These products, which now are rationed, can be stored while butter has to be moved fairly quickly to the consumer.

Highland Park Officer Gets New Air Command

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 18 (AP).—Lieut. Col. Paul W. Blanchard, 33 years old, of Highland Park, Ill., former commander of a fighter group in the Hawaiian department of the army air forces, today took charge of the San Diego air defense wing, 4th Fighter command. He led his squadron on an unprecedented overseas mass delivery of planes from San Diego to Hawaii early in 1940.

DIES AFTER BOWLING.

Harry L. Robbins, 46 years old, 1620 Granville avenue, a mechanic in a war plant, died last night in the bowling alley at 5961 Ridge avenue, apparently of a heart attack, shortly after bowling with his wife, Betty.

1 KILLED, 9 HURT AS BOMBER HITS MOUNTAIN SIDE

Alamosa, Colo., Nov. 18 (AP).—The caretaker of Costilla reservoir in the Sangre de Cristo mountains of northern New Mexico reported tonight one officer was killed and nine other army flyers injured in the crash of a four motored bomber on the side of Baldy peak today.

The caretaker, [illegible] D. Packard, said he had climbed to the crash scene and found a Lieut. Godnick dead, three crew members seriously injured, and six others bruised and weakened.

Authorities at the air base at Salina, Kas., reported one of its planes crashed in the same region.

Two Die in Cargo Crash.

Dayton, O., Nov. 18 (AP).—Army air force officers at Patterson field reported today the crash of a United Airlines transport plane in which Pilot R. K. Wagar and Co-pilot D. Cole were killed. The twin engined freight ship struck branches of a tree as it was preparing to land and fell in flames.

FORT SHERIDAN IS TOO BUSY FOR BIRTHDAY FETE

Fort Sheridan will be 55 years old today, but concentration on the war training program will not leave any time for celebration. The military reservation, established Nov. 19, 1887, according to Col. F. C. Rogers, post commandant, was the result of the feeling of Chicagoans that they needed military protection closer than Fort Snelling, Minn.

Two events which had a direct bearing on establishment of the north shore post were the railroad strike of 1877 and the Haymarket riot nine years later. History of Fort Sheridan recalls that railroad strikers sought to interfere with mail trains, which were carrying small express freight. The government ordered troops to Chicago, but several days were required to get them here by horseback.

After the Haymarket riot in 1886 a committee of citizens gave the 632 acre lake shore property to the government and it was named after Gen. Philip Sheridan, Civil war hero.

2 ILLINOISANS GET HEROES' MEDALS FOR RESCUE WORK

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—The army today awarded the soldier's medal for heroism to five staff sergeants who defied burning gasoline and exploding ammunition to help rescue the crew of a crashed bomber Sept. 21 at Boise, Idaho.

The men were Verlan M. Davis, Oakland, Ill.; Rudolph R. Kudlack, Grand Rapids, Mich.; William E. Petersen, Marquette, Mich.; Edgar Thomas Raezer Jr., West Chester, Pa., and Eugene A. Rynerson, Jetmore, Kas.

The army at the same time awarded the soldier's medal to Corp. William A. Karkas, Joliet, Ill., for helping rescue injured men from a burning bomber in India, April 2, and gave him an oak leaf cluster for heroism in a similar accident in the middle east, Aug. 2.

NEW CLASS OF 18 YEAR OLDS BEGINS REGISTRY DEC. 11

Expect 3,000 to Report Weekly Till Jan. 1.

Beginning Dec. 11, some 3,000 Cook county youths who have reached their 18th birthday since June 30 will register for selective service each week until the end of the year. The date for start of the registration was set yesterday in a proclamation by President Roosevelt.

Col. Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois director of selective service, estimated yesterday that 25,000 Illinois youths have become 18 years old since the last draft registration when those 18, 19, and 20 were registered. Of this number approximately 13,000 live in Cook county.

Voluntary enlistments have reduced the 13,000 available youths considerably, and the number who have joined the army, navy, and marine corps is a military secret. Registrations will be conducted by local draft boards daily during the weeks from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Get Time Off to Register.

After Jan. 1, according to the President's proclamation, youths who become 18 years old must register for the draft the next day. Those whose birthdays fall on Sundays or holidays must report the next day. Employers are directed to permit their employés time off to complete registration.

In the week of Dec. 11 to 17 youths who reached their 18th birthday in July and August will register. Those who became 18 in September and October will register the next week, and those reaching 18 in November and December will register between Dec. 21 and 31.

After the fifth draft registration last June there were 157,053 youths in the 18-19-20 year old group in Illinois. Of this number 68,511 were registered in Chicago and 13,337 in Cook county outside the city. Youths 20 years old received their questionnaires as soon as boards could classify them according to birthdays.

Eldest to Go First.

Those 19 at the time of registration received their questionnaires a few days after their 20th birthdays. Now questionnaires will go to all 18 and 19 year old youths and in all except unusual cases induction calls will be made according to age, the eldest being summoned first.

The status of youths 18 and 19 years old who are attending high school was clarified yesterday by Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service. Local boards were told that induction postponements might be granted to boys in any institution giving the usual courses of study in the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th grades until the end of the school year next spring.

This status applies only to the four grades and does not include elementary grades or college level work.

Clarify Farm Jobs.

New instructions also were given for the classification of farms to distinguish between essential and nonessential farms. Farm workers will not lose their deferment if they change from one necessary farm to another, but if a deferred worker tries to move from a necessary farm to a job in industry on to a nonnecessary farm or elsewhere, he first must obtain permission of his draft board.

Hereafter deferred farm workers will be placed in two new classifications. Those with dependent wives and children will be put in class 3-C and those without dependency in 2-C. Part time farm workers will not be eligible for deferment.

In conjunction with the steps taken to get youths into the army, Gen. Hershey announced automatic deferment of men who have passed their 45th birthday since they registered for the draft unless they file written consent to induction.

Reclassify Ex-Convicts.

Gen. Hershey also announced in Washington that local boards have been instructed to reclassify all registrants heretofore deferred because of less the registrant is not eligible for a waiver under the new army standards he will be inducted for military service.

The army has authorized waivers in meritorious cases for men who have criminal records, including murder, rape, kidnaping, treason and other heinous crimes if their conduct has been exemplary for at least six months after their release from prison.

CHICAGO HERO IS DECORATED POSTHUMOUSLY

Lieut. J. F. Kane Jr.

The Purple Heart has been awarded posthumously to Lieut. Joseph F. Kane Jr., who was killed in action in the Pacific on Feb. 26, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Kane, 5435 Ellis avenue, were notified yesterday. The award was granted for "a singularly meritorious act of essential service near Bathurst Island, Northern Territory, Australia, on Feb. 19 and 20, 1942," the citation said. "Volunteering to command the gun crew of a vessel carrying supplies for the relief of forces in the Philippines, during the course of which mission he suffered wounds from which he later succumbed, Lieut. Kane displayed courage and fortitude that was an inspiration to all."

PACKER PLANNING HORSE MEAT ONLY BUTCHER SHOPS

No Law in California Against It.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 18 [Special].—Horse meat will soon be sold for human consumption in Los Angeles in butcher shops which will be allowed to sell only this product, it was indicated here today.

A. Gianni, head of the Gianni Packing company revealed that he has discussed the plan with county and city health officials and the state department of agriculture.

J. R. Kirkpatrick, chief food and drug inspector of the Los Angeles county health department, pointed out there is no law or ordinance prohibiting the sale of horse meat in California.

Building Slaughter House.

"I am building a slaughter house which will be entirely separate from my present packing plant," Gianni explained. "Only horses will be butchered there and I plan to sell the meat to butcher shops which will be opened and licensed to sell horse meat only."

Gianni pointed out that by this system no person would be likely to purchase horse meat which had not been properly labeled.

"Horse Meat" Label.

"These butcher shops will display a large sign advertising the sale of horse meat only and each package will be labeled 'horse meat,'" Gianni said.

Horses to be butchered will be shipped to Los Angeles from Texas, Nevada, Arizona, Montana, and other western states.

REDS SEIZE NAZI STRONG POINTS IN STALINGRAD

Repulse Attacks in City's Factory District.

MOSCOW, Nov. 19 [Thursday]—(AP).—German tank and infantry attacks on the factory district of Stalingrad, which the Nazis are attempting to capture for winter headquarters, were beaten off again yesterday and counterattacking Russians seized several enemy strong points, the Russians announced early today, the 87th day of the siege.

87

"In the course of the engagement more than 600 enemy troops were killed or wounded," the soviet midnight communique said. "Eight German tanks were burned or disabled, 9 guns, 12 mortars, 24 machine guns, and 11 dugouts and blockhouses were destroyed."

The battle for the factory area of the ruined city represents the latest German attempt to gain a firm foothold in the Volga metropolis.

Big Nazi Losses.

Only yesterday the Russians said the Germans had lost from 1,000 to 4,000 men daily for three weeks and from 60 to 75 per cent of the personnel of the attacking divisions in a supreme but vain attempt to carry out Adolf Hitler's orders to take Stalingrad by Nov. 6.

The Germans, balked in that drive, regrouped and for the last week have concentrated on the factory district. Thus far, the Russians reported yesterday, the enemy has gained only a few yards.

The midnight communique reported slight Russian successes in the general Stalingrad area, and northwest of Stalingrad. It said the Russians dislodged the Germans from positions northeast of Tuapse, on the Caucasus Black sea coast.

The army newspaper Red Star, in a review of the last month of the battle of Stalingrad, said the Germans averaged advances of 50 yards daily from Oct. 15 to Nov. 5, when they abandoned that attempt to reduce the city.

Report Reds Replused.

BERLIN, Nov. 18 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The high command said today that a Russian detachment was cut off and annihilated in fighting northeast of Tuapse, in the western Caucacus, and that violent Russian attacks were repulsed by German tanks in the Alagir region of the central Caucasus.

Lieut. Virginia Lindeman.

The recent arrival of their daughter, Lieut. Virginia Lindeman, army nurse, in Cairo, Egypt, was reported by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R Lindeman of Hammond, Ind., yesterday. Lieut. Lindeman, a graduate of the Methodist hospital in Indianapolis, Ind., enlisted for foreign service on Sept. 15, 1941, and was the only army nurse from northern Indiana to embark on a ship carrying a contingent of American soldiers for Egypt some time ago. She is 24 years old. Her father is purchasing agent for the Northern Indiana Public Service company.

OPEN DRIVE TO BOOST CHICAGO'S WAR BOND PURCHASES TO 10%

Members of the Illinois war savings staff yesterday opened a campaign to increase war bond buying in Chicago to a full 10 per cent of income. Figures for recent months show that persons participating in the pay roll savings plan are investing only about 8 per cent of their incomes.

Six hundred representatives of management and labor attended two meetings yesterday at which plans for the campaign were outlined by Edward R. Seese, co-chairman of the pay roll savings committee of the Chicago and Cook county staff. He said 150,000 employés of 1,186 Illinois firms now are using 10 per cent of their income to buy bonds.

Norman B. Collins, Illinois administrator, said 22 million persons in the United States are bond buyers and the treasury's new goal is 30 million buyers by the end of the year.

More meetings will be conducted today and tomorrow at 2 and 4 p. m. and Monday and Tuesday at 9:30 and 11 a. m. in the assembly hall of the Commonwealth Edison building, 140 South Dearborn street.

Raymond Massey Joins Canadian Army as Major

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 18 (AP).—Defense Minister J. L. Ralston announced tonight that Raymond Massey, 46 years old, stage and screen star, had reported here for duty with the Canadian army, and would be employed in the adjutant general's branch with the rank of major. Maj. Massey served in the World war as an artillery officer, and was invalided home in 1915 after being severely wounded. He later was detailed for duty at Washington with the British mission. After the war, Massey went to London, where he won success on the stage and in motion pictures.

ARABS IN LIBYA STAY AS ITALIANS PULL UP STAKES

20,000 Colonists in Flight Back to Italy.

BY EDWARD KENNEDY.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMORED COLUMN IN THE JEBEL AKDAR, [Green mountains], Libya, Nov. 16 [Delayed]—(AP).—British columns pushed on today thru the Green mountains of Cyrenaica in torrential rain storms which made progress difficult. Except for Arabs, we found the whole Jebel region deserted.

Enemy troops withdrew ahead of us and all Italian colonists totaling more than 20,000 had been evacuated to Italy or Tripolitania. In the last two British occupations of this region most of the colonists remained on their farms. So many were killed and so many farms pillaged by the natives with a grudge against the Italians that this time it was decided to move them for their safety.

The outrages took place mainly in a period of anarchy between the departure of Italian troops and the arrival of the British.

Supplies Become a Problem.

Getting supplies to the advancing British columns is a problem for they now are more than 500 miles from the Alamein line where the offensive began three and a half weeks ago. These columns already have covered more ground than those which reached Bengazi in the campaign last winter and the previous one. This campaign's starting point was farther to the east.

The retiring enemy is destroying everything he can't take along. The town of Giovanni, in the heart of the Jebel Akdar, is so bare that even the dogs roaming the streets had difficulty finding scraps of food.

Giovanni Berta is a model town of trim white buildings built by the Fascists as one of the centers of the Libyan colonization scheme. The only Italian remaining in Giovanni Berta was the village priest.

"This is the third time the English have captured my parish, once at Tobruk and twice here," the pastor, who is a bearded Silesian father, said. "I am gradually learning the English language."

Reminder of Mussolini.

The local Fascist headquarters looked forlorn but the following excerpt from a speech by Premier Mussolini was carved over the entrance:

"The Italian people have created the empire with their blood, fecundated it with their labor and will defend it with their arms. In this supreme certainty lift your standards, your hearts, and your weapons to the Fascist legionnaires to salute the reappearance, after 15 centuries, of the empire on the eternal hills of Rome."

The last defenders of the town were not Fascists but Germans, who blew up bridges and mined its approaches two hours before we arrived.

Last night was the most uncomfortable we have ever passed in Africa, worse than anything in the desert. Yesterday the mountains with their green slopes and crisp air were welcome after crossing the hundreds of miles of desert. But we encamped in the open and cold rain fell thru the night, saturating us to the skin. Armored force soldiers spent the night crouched in their tanks and armored cars.

Bedouin Knows the News.

In cutting from the coastal road into the mountain country we bypassed Derna, and any force which may be left there is effectively cut off. Other British units hold the coast east of it.

As we crossed the desert we met a Senusian Bedouin, who was apace of current events. The news travels fast in the desert. Altho our unit was the first contact he had had with the British he knew all about the American landing in North Africa.

Speaking half Arabic and half Italian, he said the Americans are in Tunisia and the British are here and the Italians and Germans will be crushed between two armies.

"I shall be glad of it for the Italians have hanged many Senusi," he said.

Head of Sect Lives in Cairo.

The Bedouin then inquired about the health of the head of the Senusi sect, who lives in Cairo and who urged the Senusi to join the British in the war on the Italians.

The Senusi are a puritanical sect of Moslems founded about a century ago and Giarabub, where their founder is entombed, is their holy city.

We passed the former headquarters of the 21st German panzer [armored] division and found it deserted. There were many bottles bearing labels of famous French champagnes marked "Reserved for the German army." They were empty.

SELF INFLICTED WOUND FATAL.

Mrs. Rose Schwinn, 51 years old, who shot herself Tuesday at her home, 5437 Shields avenue, died yesterday in Evangelical hospital. Her husband, Ernest, a tavern operator, told police she had been ill.

ALLIED COLUMNS DRIVE GERMANS BACK IN TUNISIA

Clash 70 Miles from the Bizerte Naval Base.

their spurs in raids over France carried out the attack, cruising lazily high over the naval base city with plenty of time to pick out their precise targets on the air field.

At the same time RAF bombers blasted military targets ahead of the advancing ground troops.

Allied parachutists already had captured a vital airdrome deep in Tunisia.

These developments were reported tonight from the thick of the battle fast shaping up in Tunisia for control of the air, land, and sea lanes of Tripoli, last possible refuge of the disorganized axis Libyan desert armies.

In Libya the British 8th army advanced 80 miles yesterday to within 70 miles of Bengazi and 230 miles of El Agheila, and about 800 miles from the western boundary of Tunisia where the allied forces are pressing eastward, closing the jaws of a great vise.

American Chutists in Action.

The parachute exploit far inside Tunisia was described in an allied headquarters communique on the Morocco radio as one of the most important air borne operations ever accomplished. The chutists were dropped to "prepare the way for allied forces" already driving into Tunisia. British parachute troops dropped in Tunisia on Monday from American planes also have been in contact with the enemy.

From an advanced base in North Africa came reports that American parachute troops also had taken an Algerian air field near a small town on the Tunisian frontier.

Information was lacking as to what airports in Tunisia had been occupied, but the parachute operations were said to be large scale and deep in the protectorate.

Battle for Tunis Airdrome.

Reuters [British] news agency reported a battle in progress for control of the military airdrome at Tunis, some 50 miles southeast of Bizerte. The field has been bombed repeatedly by planes from Malta.

Some credence was lent to this report by the sudden silence of the Tunis radio, which had said it was shutting down to save power. More likely, it was believed, parachutists had compelled the shutdown.

On the ground, veterans of Dunkirk in the British 1st army picked their way toward Bizerte and a flying American column was reported knifing across the waist of Tunisia in the direction of Tripoli in a move to trap some 10,000 Germans and Italians hastily put in Tunisia for a desperate defense.

The allies were reported thrusting forward under a powerful protecting umbrella of planes. Air power apparently was developing as the key to the mastery of Tunisia.

British sources said the enemy was massing 1,000 planes in Sicily, Sardinia, southern Italy, and Crete for the imminent air fight. Some field reports said the Germans already had put 12 fighter squadrons in Tunisia.

Bomb Allied Supply Port.

The Germans said they bombed Bone, allied supply port in Algeria, some 140 miles west of Bizerte, and also Maison Blanche, near Algiers. They claimed to have shot down five allied planes in Tunis and Libya at the cost of three craft of their own.

An allied communique said that 11 enemy aircraft had been destroyed in the course of attacks on the Bone area on Nov. 15, 16, and 17. Three allied fighters were lost.

The communique added:

"The hunt of submarines by ships of the royal navy, naval aircraft and the RAF continues with considerable success."

It was also stated that "a general mobilization order for the class of 1939 has been issued by French authorities in North Africa. At Oran, French troops leaving for the east were accompanied to the train by an escort of honor and music from the United States forces there."

British Advance in Libya.

Meanwhile, in Libya the battle of El Agheila, at the base of the Gulf of Sirte, was expected in about a week. Standing near Barce, the men of Lieut. Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's 8th army were within 230 miles of El Agheila where the axis remnants were expected to fight a standing rear guard action.

The allied advance in Libya is being made on a "wide front," a British communique said, indicating that while some units were following the coastal road into Bengazi, others were cutting across the Libyan hump in an effort to trap straggling enemy units.

As the British forces approached the once important supply port of Bengazi, allied bombers roared in at a low level and set fire to a number of barges in the harbor, which apparently were intended for use in withdrawing elements of the axis army.

ROMMEL GROGGY, BUT NOT OUT YET, ALEXANDER SAYS

British General Hails American Tanks.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 18.—Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, commander of British forces in the middle east, having smashed Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's army and whipped it out of Egypt, today said: "We have the enemy groggy, but he isn't out yet. This battle will not be won until he is lying senseless on the ground."

Gen. Sir Harold Alexander.

Gen. Alexander praised American pilots, aircraft, and General Sherman tanks "which are loved by all our troops" for the part they played. The tanks, he said, were more than a match for the Germans'.

On the enemy side, Gen. Alexander ignored the Italians, saying he was "fighting principally against the Germans and they were thrashed."

Calls Advance "Terrific."

Alexander called the advance of 400 miles in one week "terrific" in view of the fact that allied forces had to follow a single road. "If anybody is entitled to talk about blitzkrieg, surely we are," he said. "This success is due to no weakness on the part of the Germans. It was our superstrength that threw them back."

Speculation regarding further developments by the war correspondents has been forbidden, but Gen. Alexander made some suggestions.

It is reasonable, he said, to suppose that the enemy will hold at El Agheila as long as possible, and will fight a strong rear guard action. El Agheila—the bottleneck southwest of Bengazi where Marshal Rommel made his stand last December—has strong prepared positions, with heavy mine fields and barbed wire entanglements.

Powerful Natural Position.

This is a powerful natural position, where the only way thru is along the coast road. Salt marshes bar the way inland and below the salt marshes are badlands that are impassable for mechanized vehicles.

Rommel will not be able to use Bengazi—his most valuable reënforcement port—much longer, Alexander said, and then must depend upon Tripoli, which is much more difficult to protect because it is farther away and is more vulnerable to air attack from the British stronghold of Malta.

Tripoli Difficult to Hold.

He said it would be very difficult for Rommel to maintain himself in Tripoli, and estimated that he saved only 15 tanks from his tank strength, and has been able to get very few new ones.

The British general said that any effort by the Germans to stage an evacuation from Africa would be an expensive operation, with only small disorganized forces available to cover the retreat.

Alexander estimated that the axis had lost between 60,000 to 70,000 men, about 30,000 of whom are prisoners, including 8,000 Germans. He said that allied killed, wounded, and missing in the first week totaled 13,600, and that casualties since then have been light.

U. S. BOMBERS RIP U-BOAT BASES 4TH TIME IN TEN DAYS

La Pallice and Lorient Are Attacked in France.

LONDON, Nov. 18 (AP).—American Flying Fortress and Liberator bombers dropped heavy loads of high explosives on Nazi Atlantic submarine bases today for the fourth time within 10 days.

The submarine sheds of La Pallice and Lorient were raided at a cost of one bomber, but the brief American communique did not give the results of the attacks.

La Pallice is near La Rochelle, 350 miles from the nearest British coast. Lorient is on the south side of the Breton peninsula. There was no mention of a fighter escort. This was taken as an indication of the American confidence in the ability of the Fortresses and Liberators to cope with German fighters on their own. During recent daylight attacks the pilots have reported little enemy fighter opposition.

Bases for War on Convoys.

St. Nazaire, another submarine base, was attacked yesterday. La Pallice and St. Nazaire were raided Nov. 14 and St. Nazaire was hit Nov. 9.

German U-boats used these ports as bases for their war on convoys in the North Atlantic and western European waters.

Squadrons of allied fighters today made several sweeps over northwest France. Not a German plane challenged them. The fighters took another crack at the creaking German communications systems by wrecking or damaging 10 freight engines. American pilots attacked a freight train near Berck and saw the engine blow up.

British Using New Fighter.

A new, improved Vickers-Supermarine Spitfire fighter plane, with a bigger engine and a four-bladed propeller, now is in operational use, the air ministry disclosed.

Speed and horsepower of the new fighter are military secrets, but it is powered with the Rolls-Royce Merlin 61 engine, instead of the Merlin 45 or 46.

It carries two cannon and four machine guns.

FRENCH GENERAL IN TUNISIA AIDS ALLIES, SAY NAZIS

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—Gen. Barre, commander of French forces in Tunisia, apparently has gone over to the allied side, the German radio disclosed tonight in telling of the general's efforts "to lure Adm. Platon into a trap."

Rear Adm. Rene Platon recently returned to Vichy from Tunisia to report on African developments, and the Berlin radio said the German Transocean agency had learned reliably in Vichy that:

"British planes pursued Adm. Platon's plane both to and from Tunisia. Moreover, it was learned that Gen. Barre had tried to lure Adm. Platon into a trap by inviting him to inspect troops at a certain point on the Tunisian-Algerian frontier. It is regarded as practically certain that Adm. Platon would now be a prisoner if he had accepted Gen. Barre's invitation."

CANADIAN DRAFT DIRECTOR QUITS; BLAMES FRICTION

Says Government Had No Man Power Policy.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 18 (AP).—Elliott M. Little, director of the national selective service, has submitted his resignation in a letter stating bluntly that he had encountered "friction and obstructionism" which had resulted in "virtual paralysis" of the selective service organization.

Elliott M. Little.

The resignation was accepted.

In his letter, addressed to Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell, who has ministerial jurisdiction over selective service, Little said:

1. In the fourth year of war there was "no clear directive from the government on man power policy" and "quite inadequate organization to achieve a total and balanced man power effort."

2. He found himself carrying grave responsibilities "without commensurate authority."

3. He had submitted a comprehensive program to put selective service in a position to achieve its objectives, but Mitchell had failed to "give the vitally essential function of wartime selective service the support it must have."

4. It had been agreed that offices of the unemployment insurance commission would become selective service offices, but seven months had passed and "selective service is still in the ridiculous position of lacking undisputed control over its only possible field machinery."

5. Selective service had been unaccountably hindered and blocked in efforts to make certain of the pledged coöperation and support of labor and of industrial management.

Rumors of differences between Mitchell and Little were first heard about a month ago. A principal difficulty understood to exist in the administration of selective service was confusion over the relationship of selective service and the unemployment insurance company.

Commenting on the resignation, Mitchell said it was "mainly due to certain misconceptions." He said he would not answer some of Little's statements since they "are scarcely worthy of you."

Little, a paper plant laborer, who became one of Canada's leading newsprint executives, came to Ottawa as a dollar-a-year man in February, 1941.

AXIS TURNS HEAT ON NEUTRALS IN SPAIN, PORTUGAL

'You Should Hate Britain,' Open Letter Says.

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—Internal and foreign proaxis pressures have begun against the ardent desire of the great majority of Spanish and Portuguese people to remain neutral, according to advices reaching the Associated Press in New York today from reliable European sources.

With the united nations forces preparing to clamp a squeeze on Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa corps, and with Gen. Francisco Franco's order for protective partial mobilization, Nazi elements on the Iberian peninsula began private circulation of an "open letter" attacking Britain and praising Spaniards helping Germany.

Last night Franco announced partial mobilization of Spain's land, sea and air forces, but made no provision regarding the number of men or classes to be affected. Similar steps were taken in Portugal.

Seems Germans Inspired.

The "open letter," a method constantly employed by totalitarians to keep subversive politics alive, appeared to be a German inspired outburst of the pro-Nazi wing of the Falange [Fascist] party.

The letter was described as representing that portion of the Falange which feels it cannot remain in power unless the axis wins the war.

"Spaniards!" was the only address of the letter. Like many previous "open letters" of a similar type it became immediately available outside Spain thru the German official news agency, DNB, which quoted it as follows:

"Obey your Caudillo [Franco]. Remember always that Spain and totalitarian states have a common aim at present. Never forget that the best Spaniard is he who fights in Russia. Never spread rumors or calumny because they are used by the British secret service.

"You Should Hate England.

"Never forget that Britain alone is responsible for the suffering of your fatherland.

"Explain to your friends that English capitalism and Russian communism are really the same thing, that is, instruments of the Jews.

"If in your presence someone tries to defend Marxism or democracy, oppose this lie so that your son will never be forced to live in such shameful times as those when Spain was a colony of the Jews and Freemasons. You should hate England."

This letter, according to European advices, is designed to put a proaxis interpretation on Franco's mobilization order, thereby suggesting provocatively that Spain is mobilizing not to defend its neutrality but to enter the war on Germany's side.

CANADA ACTS TO SAVE WAR RULES VOIDED IN COURT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 18.—With almost the entire system of wartime controls in Canada endangered by recent court judgments, the department of justice is now considering ways and means of plugging legal holes to prevent collapse of the structure.

A Kingston, Ont., judge has voided one section of the selective service act while a Toronto judge has taken a similar stand in a tire case, involving selling a tire without a permit. Challenges also have been made with regard to certain sections of rent and gasoline control measures.

The department is now considering three ways of meeting the threat. One is to appeal against any decisions made by lower courts. A second is to provide a method of appeal, where such does not now exist, from certain types of county court judgments. In the Toronto case, the County court judge quashed a magistrate's conviction in a tire case, and there is no appeal from the judge's ruling. The third alternative is to have legislation passed validating the whole structure of wartime regulations.

MASS BOMBING OF ITALY SEEN BY PACIFIC COUNCIL

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—Members of the Pacific war council expressed the view today there was a possibility that "mass bombing" raids would be directed at production centers in northern Italy.

Walter Nash, New Zealand minister to the United States, spoke of the North African campaign as opening the way for Italy to receive some of the devastating raids on key industries, comparable to those the British have directed on German war plants, with what he termed "amazing" effectiveness.

Gathering at the White House, the representatives of the nations engaged in the war in the Pacific said it was perhaps their most significant meeting.

Leighton McCarthy, Canadian minister to this country, suggested that probably the raids would originate in England, but Nash said any available jumping off points might be used.

LOSS OF FRENCH AFRICAN EXPORTS BLOW TO NAZIS

Source of Ore, Food, Fertilizer Closed.

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Nov. 18.—A severe blow has been struck at Germany's balanced economy thru the loss of French North Africa, a government official said today. Great as are the gains which will accrue to the allies in raw materials and more than 200,000 tons of shipping, they are outweighed in importance by the punishing effect the campaign is bound to have on Hitler's Europe, he asserted.

Before the Anglo-American landing operations took place, German controled Europe was getting along on one-half the continent's prewar consumption of phosphate fertilizers. Now it has been reduced to one-quarter, he said.

410,000 Tons of Ore.

French North Africa exported 53,000 tons of high grade iron ore to Europe in 1941, a figure the Germans stepped up to 410,000 tons this year. Half a million tons of ore is more than 16 per cent of axis requirements.

The food bogey will haunt the Wilhelmstrasse in two forms. Germany has lost heavily in that respect at a time when she has incurred greater responsibility—Vichy France was permitted to remain unoccupied as long as it held open the door of the African larder, but henceforth it, too, must be fed.

Losses in Food Heavy.

The ministry of economic warfare estimated today that Germany has lost within the last fortnight an annual yield of 300,000 tons of grain, 400,000 tons of fresh vegetables, 1,000,000 tons of phosphates, as well as manganese, cobalt, molybdenum, antimony, much wine, olive oil, wool, and 19,000,000 sheep, plus oranges, lemons, dates, and preserves.

Shipping employed to transport all this booty to Marseilles ran into about 120,000 tons tied up in African ports, a corresponding tonnage afloat, and a final third in European docks. The British report they have "acquired a windfall of 200,000 to 300,000 tons."

PATROLS BATTLE IN BURMA AS AMERICAN PLANES BOMB JAPS

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 18 (AP).—Two patrol clashes in Burma within 48 hours and continued allied air operations against Japanese Burmese bases were reported today in a joint United States-British communique.

A British patrol ambushed an enemy force northeast of Akyab and killed and wounded several Japanese without loss to itself, the communique said. In another encounter, east of the Chin hills, the Japanese withdrew after an exchange of fire which caused no British casualties.

Planes of the 10th United States army air force, it said, made repeated bombing raids on enemy objectives, inflicting casualties and damages and all returned safely. British bombers also set fires to Japanese-held buildings in a raid on Kalemyo, it was announced. There were no RAF losses.

MORRISON BACKS CHURCHILL STAND ON 'HOLDING OWN'

'British Motives Still the Same,' He Says.

New York, Nov. 18 [Special].—Herbert Morrison, British home minister, speaking today from London on the anniversary of Freedom House, said the British "are not going to abdicate as a leading influence in world councils."

The statement was construed as a further amplification of Prime Minister Churchill's remarks about "holding our own," which evoked criticism from Americans because of the implication that the British intended to keep the empire intact.

"The motives that brought the British people into the war and kept them steady and fighting after Dunkirk, thru the blitz, and up to this date, are still their motives," Morrison said. "This is still a people's war; it is still being fought by the people for a principle; it is still a crusade.

Cites Offer to India.

"There is a lot of talk about India. But the fact is that Britain has offered to the people of India full liberty to make their own constitution for themselves even if it means complete independence. Whatever destiny they want for their country after the war they can have, provided only nothing is done during the war to prejudice the chances of victory for the united nations.

"This is one more proof that the British people are looking to the future with exactly the same motive and purposes as brought them into the war.

"Not Going to Abdicate."

"They aren't fighting for domination or for territory or for raw materials or for world power. They are not going to abdicate as a leading influence in the world councils, but they are not fighting to keep any privileges or advantage or rights of domination which may stand in the way of a peaceful, decent, well organized democratic future.

"They intend that the world, after the war, shall be as free as good will and good intelligence can make it from the threat of poverty, insecurity, aggression and more war."

JAPS ADMIT ONE BATTLESHIP SUNK IN PACIFIC FIGHT

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—Japanese imperial headquarters acknowledged today the loss of a battleship in the Solomons naval battle, but sugared the bad news with an extravagant and unsupported claim that the American navy was routed and forced to flee after 8 cruisers, 4 or 5 destroyers, and 1 transport were sunk.

Japan's communique, broadcast from Tokio, began with this claim:

"On Nov. 14, while escorting our transport fleet in the face of a fierce counterattack on enemy aircraft, imperial naval forces encountered an enemy reënforcement fleet with two battleships and more than four large size cruisers at a point northwest of the island, and at night, after a heated encounter, destroyed the major part of the enemy auxiliary units and heavily damaged two large battleships, routing the enemy fleet in a southern direction."

The imperial headquarters summed up the Japanese losses as follows:

"One battleship [presumably of the Kongo class], sunk; one battleship damaged, one cruiser sunk, three destroyers sunk and seven transports damaged. Thirty-two planes dived into the enemy and nine other planes failed to return."

CURTIN DEMANDS RIGHT TO SEND MILITIA ABROAD

Labor Party Meeting Dodges Issue.

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 18.—The Australian Labor party's federal conference today sidestepped Prime Minister John Curtin's proposal that the defense act be amended to permit the government to send its militia overseas.

It was decided to refer the question to executives of the Australian states, who were requested to instruct delegates to the special federal conference to be held on Dec. 14 how to vote on the matter.

"Extend Fighting Lines."

The motion would enable the government to send militiamen to the Solomon Islands, Timor, New Zealand or the Netherlands East Indies.

Curtin said Japan's entry into the war completely altered the problem of national defense and that to keep Australia's cities beyond the range of hostile aircraft, the fighting lines must be pushed as far as possible from Australia. The territorial boundaries, he asserted, were not sufficiently removed to comply with this principle.

Won't Send Men to Europe.

There was no intention, he said, of using militiamen in European or other remote war theaters.

The battle of the Solomons, he said, was as much the battle of Australia as the battle of New Guinea, and there should be no restraint on the use of any Australian forces there.

MIKADO GIVES 'GOLDEN KITE' TO 4,047 DEAD JAPS

TOKIO, Nov. 18 [from Japanese broadcasts]—(AP).—The board of decorations and the war ministry announced jointly today that the emperor had conferred the order of the golden kite, Japan's highest military award, on 2,760 officers and men killed in action against the allies since Pearl Harbor.

The emperor also awarded the order to 1,287 officers and men slain in fighting against the Chinese, and conferred other decorations on 2,030 Mongolian officers and officials for coöperating with Japanese forces.

CRASH KILLS MATTOON WOMAN.

One of the cars was driven by her husband, the other by Earl Oakley of Toledo, Ill. Six other persons were injured including Farmer, whose condition was described as critical. All the injured are in a Mattoon hospital.

2 MARINES DODGE JAPS 6 DAYS, BUT REACH U. S .CAMP

Catch Drinking Water in Their Helmets.

BY ROBERT CROMIE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GUADALCANAL, Oct. 31—[By Air Mail.]—Two more members of a marine outpost of 46 men, trapped in no-man's-land when the Japs attacked American lines the night of Oct. 24, reached our own lines yesterday after six days of praying for rain and dodging Japs.

The two, who came in individually, are Pvts. First Class Charles G. Owens, 24 years old, of Cortland, N. Y., and Howard M. McKee, 19, Concord, N. C. Thirty-one, under the leadership of Platoon Sergt. Ralph Briggs Jr., Port Edwards, Wis., got back the morning after the battle, and six others came in Oct. 29.

Owens was with two other marines for the first two days, then became separated from them and believes both were slain in a brush with a Jap patrol.

Hide Behind a Log.

Owens, still wearing his jungle-torn and sweat-stained clothing, described his experience as follows:

"We came down from the outpost when the attack started and squatted down by the trail when we saw some Japs. All of a sudden they knew we were there and ran back and jabbered, and we heard them take off. So we took off too, another boy and myself, and hid behind a log until morning when we found a friend there.

"We stayed there all day and all night while the artillery shelled the area, and until about 3 p. m. the next day. We had no food, a canteen of water apiece and our Springfield rifles. About 3 one of the fellows said: "We've got to get out of here."

Then we heard a Jap sneaking up on us, and five minutes later another one came thru the brush after us. One of the fellows shot him and the other Jap left.

Marine Is Bayoneted.

"We argued all day about whether to go toward our own lines or hit the river and try to get behind the Japs. But we started toward our lines, and the others got ahead of me and I lost them.

"Next I heard one shout: 'O, God! Help!' and could hear him gasping. I think they bayoneted him. I heard the other one fire and I ducked into a hollow tree. Two Japs ran past within five feet of me.

"I went over a ridge and stayed there that night. I crossed the next day to another ridge where I could hear the Japs chopping and making trails in the woods.

"During the third day I ran into one Jap and shot him, then got down and hid under some bamboo. I was trying to make a field of tall grass when I saw one lying there. I think he was wounded. So I went out and around to the other side of the field and there was one there I didn't see. He raised up and shouted what sounded like: 'Hey, Al!' So I pulled up and let him have it.

Kills a Wild Chicken.

"The fourth day about 10 a. m. I saw what looked like a wild chicken. I shot it, pulled the skin off with my hands and ate the breast and legs raw. That was my first food since I left camp before the battle.

"I was pretty weak now, and would walk 15 or 20 yards and stumble and have to sit down and rest for 15 or 20 minutes. Boy, I was glad to see it rain! When it came I put my steel helmet out and hung my shirt out to soak up rain and wrung it out into my helmet.

"That night I stayed at the edge of an open field, and the sixth day I crossed the field and walked thru two old Jap bivouac areas, then crawled thru the undergrowth and saw the Lunga river.

"I got under a log, removed my equipment, got some water, and was ready to stay there all day and float down the river during the night, when I heard voices.

"I hadn't heard any Japs talk English, and then I smelled good old American cigaret smoke. So I crawled out and shouted: "Don't shoot, I'm a marine!"

"It was a whole patrol, and they gave me chocolate and rations and the captain sent some of them back to take me into camp. I was about half a mile beyond our lines."

McKee, who got "home" a few hours ahead of Owens, told of spending his entire time in the same field in various foxholes.

"Once the Japs burned the field and I had to cut the grass away from the edge of my foxhole to keep from burning up. Then some Japs came out and I lay still and pretended I was dead. They hollered and took off when they saw me—I could hear them running—and didn't bother me any more."

He was under shellfire so close that dirt sprayed over him. He had no water at all until he caught some in his helmet the fifth day during a heavy rain. He lost his Browning automatic and helmet one night, and had only some Jap ammunition and a damaged Jap rifle for protection.

The morning of the sixth day [yesterday] he started out and saw an army truck filled with doughboys. They fed him and drove him back to his own unit.

MEET CANADA'S WOMEN AT WAR —15,000 STRONG

Trained in Forty Trades to Pinch Hit for Men.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 18 [Passed by Canadian censor].—Swinging along the streets, thru the hotel lobbies and transcontinental trains across the dominion of Canada are women in uniform—the slate blue of the air force and the khaki of the army.

Out here in the prairie provinces the snappy, uniformed girls of the royal Canadian air force women's division are performing numerous tasks. The heart of the dominion's great air training program for Canadians, Britishers, New Zealanders, and Australians is here in the prairies where a chain of 80 teeming flying fields stretches from the Rockies to the forests of the Great Lakes region.

Created in July of 1941, the women's division of the air force, known as the WD, now has a strength of 8,000 and recruits are pouring in at the rate of 1,000 a month. The WDs are serving at home, in England, Newfoundland, and the United States.

Trained in 40 Trades.

Canadian airwomen do no flying, but are trained to work in 40 different trades so men may be relieved for the fighting front. They do clerical work, cooking, truck driving, nurses' aid in the hospitals, parachute packing, fabric repair on aircraft, and other maintenance jobs around the hangars, photography and wireless operation—to mention a few.

At these prairie fields and other training stations the WDs are quartered in barracks, with upper and lower bunks for 68 airwomen in each block or dormitory. The dormitory wings are joined by a laundry and "ablutions rooms." Women officers live in a near-by bungalow which the girls in the ranks call the hen house.

The Canadian women's army corps, CWAC, came into being a month after the WDs and now numbers 6,700. The goal is 20,000. By this time the women in khaki are a little bored with "wise cwacs" about the name of their outfit.

Take Men's Jobs.

Like the airwomen, the army women are on the job to release category A men, top grade soldiers and officers, for active service overseas. In the ranks of the women's army are clerks, stenographers, switchboard operators, laboratory and X-ray technicians, drivers, mechanics, radio and wireless operators, cooks and waitresses, draftswomen, bookkeepers, medical assistants, and electricians.

Most of the female adornments and enhancements are either out or sternly suppressed for the duration. You will find no Veronica Lakes among the army or airwomen for regulations leave little room for the exotic. Section 120 of the CWAC code deals with hairdo, makeup, and nails as follows:

"A. Hair will be neat and will be kept well above the collar.

"B. Makeup, if used, shall be inconspicuous; highly colored nail varnish will not be used."

Many Find Romance.

Romance has beckoned to many. Flyers are marrying airwomen and troops wed girls in the khaki ranks. The women can't take the leap into matrimony, under the regulations, until they have been in the service six months.

Age requirements for recruits in the two services run from 18 to 45 in the army and 18 to 41 in the air force. Candidates for either must be at least 5 feet tall and pass other physical and educational hurdles. They enlist for the duraiton and 12 months afterward.

The navy started taking in women only this summer. Up to now about 400 have been recruited for the women's royal Canadian naval services. At the moment the navy is after cooks and stewardesses.

Chennault's Sixth Son, Youngest, Enlists in Navy

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 18 (AP).—The youngest son of Brig. Gen. Claire Chennault of "Flying Tiger" fame has enlisted in the navy here, but his mother will have to sign his release because, the navy said, it would be hard to reach his father "somewhere in China." Robert Kenneth Chennault, 17 years old, of Waterproof, La., has three brothers in the air corps, one in the navy and one in a defense training school in Atlanta.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Elaine Fraleigh, 2223 Benjamin avenue, Kalamazoo, Mich.]

THE QUESTION.

Did you ever try to help some one and in so doing got yourself into trouble?

WHERE ASKED.

The Burnham building, 160 North La Salle street.

THE ANSWERS.

Georgia Keeler, secretary, Park Ridge—I happened to meet a friend of mine at the railroad station. After we boarded the waiting train she remembered she had left her tennis racket and book in the drug store. I went after them. I was held in the drug store long enough to miss the train and it took a couple of hours to prove my integrity.

Mrs. Bert F. Kohn, housewife, 4901 Drexel boulevard—The rain was pouring as I drove along the country road. A small boy was trying to walk thru it all and I stopped to give him a ride. The driver of the truck behind us didn't see us in time and smashed squarely into our car. The damages on both cars made that an expensive good deed.

Miss Ann Nevrly, graduate nurse, 41 East 55th street—When a family in our neighborhood came down with the scarlet fever I offered to take over the case because it couldn't afford help. After we were all out of quarantine I went to live wtih my sister and her two children. They contracted the disease—because I tried to be a good samaritan.

Ferdinand du Pont, director of dramatics, Graemere hotel—A dramatics instructor friend was called out of town and asked me to take over the job of directing the play. I thought with a few added lines I could "spice" it up. When my friend returned I learned the play was to be given in churches! That did cause trouble.

Robert E. Cantwell Jr., lawyer, 830 Franklin avenue, River Forest—The case of the mother trying to gain custody of her own child interested me immensely. She couldn't afford a lawyer, but I took over the case anyway. After that was settled in her favor a $50,000 suit was brought against me by the other party. I was completely vindicated, but for four days it looked like real trouble.

Diana Babcock, photographer, 5544 North avenue — The girl on roller skates was having a hard time to master the technique. I suggested that I put on my skates and teach her how it was done. We were skating together when I tripped on the iron grating. I broke both arms as a result of that fall and she didn't learn anything about skating.

LATIN DIPLOMAT DENIES INTIMACY WITH MRS. M'KEE

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 18 (AP).—Dapper Max de la Fuente, Peruvian diplomat, denied in Superior court today that he ever had been intimate with Mrs. Evelyn McKee. He testified:

"I visited Mrs. McKee because I worship and admire her home life."

The former Peruvian consul here appeared as a surprise witness at the contested divorce suit of Mrs. McKee, 34 years old, and Mark T. McKee, 54, steamship and air lines executive.

"Were you ever intimate with Mrs. McKee," McKee's attorney, Joseph Scott asked.

"Never in my life," De la Fuente replied.

"Did you ever kiss Mrs. McKee?"

"Well, I may have kissed her on the hand by greeting."

"But did you kiss her in the American way?" Scott persisted.

"I do not understand," the diplomat replied. "What is the American way?"

AIR CADET TESTS GIVEN 1,400 BOYS IN HIGH SCHOOLS

All Senior Youths to Take Mental Exams.

The mental screening test given to applicants for aviation cadet training was taken yesterday by 1,400 Lane Technical High school seniors. The test was given Tuesday in Senn and Amundsen High schools.

In a campaign to obtain 20,000 aviation cadets in Chicago by the end of the year the screening examination will be given to all of the 10,000 senior boys in all Chicago public and parochial high schools, according to Maj. Floyd M. Showalter, president of the aviation cadet examining board. Upon completion of the tests in schools a certificate of merit will be awarded to the school making the highest score.

Eighty Cadets Are Qualified.

Eighty cadets were qualified yesterday by the board, bringing to 12,964 the number obtained in Chicago since the start of the drive Sept. 1, 1941. In the morning 50 cadets were sworn at a ceremony in La Salle street in front of the city hall where a surface lines car painted red, white, and blue to advertise the air corps was dedicated.

Chicago is the first city in which the air corps screening test has been extended to the high schools. Schools in other cities are expected to adopt the plan and the Chicago school curricula for senior boys will be adjusted to the needs of the air forces and war effort after a study of results of the tests.

The screening tests were adopted by the air forces to give all young men an opportunity to join the air force and as a substitute for the previous educational requirement of at least two years of college. The examination consists of 150 questions and is not a test of speed, but a measure of level of ability.

Must Be Able to Learn.

The 150 questions cover a wide range of subjects and the most important result is to measure an applicant's ability to read and comprehend instructions. Because aviation is a complicated subject, the air force accepts only those who show they can educate themselves thru comprehension of texts and instructions.

Booklets containing the questions are given to applicants in the examining room and a separate sheet on which to indicate one of five possible answers which are printed below the question. If an applicant does not have an idea which answer is correct and admits it by ringing the number of the question he receives one-fifth of a point credit for frankness.

Typical examples of the questions follow:

When a man is asked to help reënforce a bridge, he is to A, widen it; B, strengthen it; C, destroy it; D, close it; E, replace it.

To answer, the applicant makes a pencil mark under one of the five letters on the answer sheet.

Test on Comprehension.

Comprehension is tested by explaining that "military courtesy is basic to effective leadership and the maintenance of good discipline. Courtesy implies polite and considerate behavior toward others, whether senior or junior, and whether or not members of the military service. In general, officers of junior rank habitually give the same precedence to and show the same consideration toward their seniors that any courteous person does to his elders."

On the basis of this statement the student then is asked to indicate the best general summary listed below of the type of courtesy that is expected from an officer. He will show courtesy to:

A, other members of the military service; B, every one with whom he comes in contact; C, officers of higher rank; D, officers of junior rank; E, civilians who are older than he.

Other tests include questions on arithmetic, algebra, current history, grammar, English, and several to determine if the applicants are mechanically inclined. None of the questions as beyond the knowledge and comprehension of a high school senior. A passing grade is 83 correct answers to 150 questions. One of the highest grades ever recorded was 143 correct answers.

TROLLEY JUMPER GETS 3 YEARS FOR DODGING DRAFT

A street car ride that Arnold Helge Bloomquist took last Aug. 28 led to prison yesterday when he was arraigned before Judge William H. Holly of the federal District court as a draft dodger.

On that August day, Bloomquist, who is 31 years old, was placed on a street car with other draftees by draft board 103 at 2948 West 59th street to go to the downtown army induction center. When the street car arrived, Bloomquist was missing. Somewhere en route he had alighted and disappeared. He was seized recently on his father's farm near Rothbury, Mich.

Yesterday Bloomquist appeared before Judge Holly on a charge of failing to report for induction into the army. He pleaded guilty, saying, "This is not a people's war and I will not fight in it." Judge Holly gave him a final chance, saying if he would change his mind and report for induction he would dismiss the charge. Bloomquist refused. Judge Holly sentenced him to three years in prison.

HOUSE SHELVES F.D.R.'S PROGRAM FOR MORE POWER

Committee Will Draft Restriction Bill.

materials and foodstuffs from abroad; open the way for importation of foreign labor or refugees and give the executive branch complete control over the dissemination of technical information on which there are not certain restrictions for release to foreign countries.

According to proponents of the measure, its purpose is to speed up the movement of war materials and supplies in the interests of increased production.

Under existing law, say the administration spokesmen, customs duties and regulations are impeding the movement of persons and property at American borders and ports. There are also laws which limit the procurement, use, and transportation of non-American goods necessary for war production, they reportedly told the committee.

Need for Action Seen.

It has been argued by opponents of the measure that Mr. Roosevelt already possesses the necessary authority under previously enacted war powers legislation to set aside these restrictions. However, committee members declared after today's hearing that they are convinced that additional powers must be given to the executive branch to meet the situation described by the witnesses.

One well informed member declared that the committee's bill probably will limit the powers to one year and will state specifically under what conditions they can be invoked.

The administration's bill did not specify the circumstances for the use of the new authority, merely empowering the President to suspend all laws which might interfere with the "free movement" of persons, property, or information. Nor did the measure in its original form place any time limit on the life of the legislation.

Biddle Among Witnesses.

Witnesses at today's hearing included Attorney General Francis Biddle, Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson, Undersecretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal, Adm. Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, Herbert Gaston, assistant secretary of the treasury, and Oscar B. Ryder, vice chairman of the tariff commission.

"The witnesses strongly endorsed, recommended, and urged passage of this bill or legislation to accomplish the same purposes," said Rep. Jere Cooper [D., Tenn.].

"After hearing their statements the committee members present were unanimous that some legislation is necessary. But there is a belief that the bill as proposed is broader in scope than necessary. Therefore, the present bill has been laid on the table and a new one will be written by a special subcommittee."

Those appointed to serve on the subcommittee are Reps. Doughton, Cooper, A. Willis Robertson [D., Va.], Knute Hill [D., Wash.], Daniel A. Reed [R., N. Y.], Roy O. Woodruff [R., Mich.], and Thomas A. Jenkins [R., O.]. They will begin their meetings Friday.

WOMAN IS KILLED IN LEAP OR FALL; ARMS PLANT AID

Helen Foran, 24 years old, a secretary at the Kankakee ordnance plant, fell or jumped to her death last evening from the seventh floor washroom of a building at 168 North Michigan avenue. Her purse was found in the washroom and a suicide note with directions for notifying her relatives in a pocket of her coat.

Miss Foran had taken a month's leave of absence from the plant to recover from a nervous condition. She was living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Foran, in Plainfield, Ill. For the last week she had been visiting a brother, Gordon Foran, at 3203 South Clinton street, Berwyn. Her parents and brother identified the body at St. Luke's hospital.

A tall, auburn haired, attractive girl, Miss Foran had been a social worker here and attended Des Plaines Junior college before working in the ordnance plant. Her father is a retired farmer.

MARITIME TESTS READJUSTED TO SPEED RECRUITS

Service Wants 3,500 Men in Four Months.

A medical examination technique designed to minimize nervousness of recruits and to reduce the time required for their examination has been adopted by Lieut. W. H. Todd, medical examiner for the United States maritime service, and has helped the Chicago recruiting office to keep well ahead of its quota of 200 men weekly.

In a four month campaign from Nov. 1 to March 1, the Chicago office at 53 West Jackson boulevard is seeking 3,500 seamen. Thus far 519 have been enlisted and sent to training stations and scores more are in the process of enlistment.

Lieut. Todd's method is simple and virtually eliminates nervousness on the part of the applicant. He starts with a simple color perception test, then tests eyes, ears, makes body examination, and finally tests the blood pressure. Previously, when blood pressure was taken first, many applicants became nervous and examinations were delayed until composure was recovered.

Extensive Opportunities Offered.

Extensive opportunities are offered to men who join the maritime service and man the merchant vessels of the United States. During the three to five months spent in training, the pay is $50—the same as for army privates and naval apprentice seamen.

After completion of the training course, part of which is given at a land base and part aboard ship, the seaman receives papers qualifying him for deck, engine, or steward department. The lowest pay aboard ship is $82.50 a month. If, thru attendance at a maritime school, the recruit can qualify for higher rating, the pay scale ranges up to $200 monthly.

Bonuses are paid for traveling on ships that enter certain ports. An ordinary seaman's pay may be doubled. A $200 mate can earn as much as $460 and a $300 engineer, $690. Pay for rated jobs aboard merchant ships is comparable with that of naval petty officers.

Physical Standards Like Navy's.

Sturdy men, 18 to 35 years old, are sought for the maritime service. Physical standards are the same as those of the navy and men who join also become members of the naval reserve.

A trained recruit must serve aboard ships for a year. After 14 months of service he may apply for an officer's course. This prepares him for the rank of third mate or third assistant engineer—comparable with the ensign rank in the navy.

In addition to its quest for seamen recruits, the maritime service is seeking marine engineers whose licenses have lapsed and who can qualify for return to sea after a short refresher course. Lieut. Robert T. Sexton, regional director for the 6th area—Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin—said yesterday the need for engineers is acute because of the speed with which merchant vessels are coming off the ways. Men accepted for the refresher course will be transported to school, housed, fed, and uniformed free until they are ready for return to duty.

DEFER GASOLINE RATIONING, STATE RETAILERS URGE

The Illinois Federation of Retail Associations yesterday added its voice to the clamor for postponement of gasoline rationing, asking that the program be delayed until after Jan. 1.

The request was made to all Illinois congressmen and was signed by J. T. Meek, executive secretary of the association, who said: "Possibly of postponement of gas rationing permits retailers to hope that effective date may be delayed until after Jan. 1 to avoid tremendous confusion, overuse of overtaxed transportation facilities and huge losses in time and energy on part of every one. If not inconsistent with war effort we recommend you use energies to support postponement to permit rationing not at peak of holiday season, but later when program will be more readily accepted, more easily perfected, less hectic and more complete."

Meek said the program would be more universally accepted after the holiday season by the public and that it would be "sensible" to avoid "irritations and confusion."

CLARE BOOTHE'S ELECTION COST IS PUT AT $13,000

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 18 [Special].—Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, Republican representative elect to congress from the 4th district, today filed a return with the secretary of state indicating that more than $13,000 was expended to defeat Democratic Congressman Leroy Downs.

Mrs. Luce personally spent $1,000, and the Clare Boothe Luce congressional committee raised $7,717. Among individual contributors listed were theatrical and motion picture producers—John Golden, $200; David O. Selznick, $250; H. A. Boyle, $1,000, and Max Gordon, $100.

EXPECT WAR NEED TO BREACH LEGAL WATERWAY DAM

Extra Flow Required to Sweep Away Ice.

Wartime necessity will force executive action increasing the diversion of Lake Michigan water for the Illinois-Mississippi waterway, John Reading, manager of the Marine Transit company predicted yesterday.

The waterway's first ice breaker is being completed now to take over the job attempted with fair success by ordinary river vessels last winter. Complete success is the goal of the coast guardsmen this season with the new craft.

"There is sure to be diversion this winter," Mr. Reading said. "As the result of a freak of nature, we have high water now, as a matter of fact, but we will need more from Lake Michigan to provide the current that will sweep the broken ice down into the Mississippi."

Coal Traffic Increased.

Lachlan MacLeay, president of the Mississippi Valley association, which will have a regional meeting in the Union League club today, said that war needs will require that much more than the 500,000 tons of coal of last winter be brought into Chicago this winter by barge.

"There will be big movements of soy beans and grain, too, from Illinois and Iowa," MacLeay said. "Trucks will haul the soy beans to eight elevators on the Illinois river, where it will be loaded on barges and taken to cotton seed mills down south for grinding.

"The projected movement of soy beans alone is 2,000,000 bushels. We hope that every one realizes the importance of keeping the port of Chicago open all year."

Last year only one week was lost thru ice blockade, compared with 35 or more days in previous seasons when ice breaking was not attempted. The new ice breaker "Fern" is scheduled to be completed at Blair, Neb., in about two weeks.

Winter Lane for Ships.

Recently the regional director of construction for the United States maritime commission, Wolcott E. Spofford, said that the Illinois waterway is being relied upon to carry to the Gulf of Mexico for ocean service many ships being constructed at Great Lakes shipyards. The St. Lawrence sea lane is blocked by ice three to five months each year.

For reasons based on theory, the Supreme court cut diversion to 1,500 cubic feet a second. An increase to 5,000 cubic feet is sought in a bill which is stalled in the house committee on rivers and harbors. The war department is said to have the power to authorize an emergency increase. Records show that in some years when diversion was great, lake levels remained higher than in years when there was less diversion.

HUNT CHILDLESS WIFE IN ATTACK, BABY KIDNAPING

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 18 [Special].—A 26 year old childless wife, whose yearning for motherhood recently caused her to simulate pregnancy by padding her clothing, was sought by police tonight for questioning in connection with the bizarre kidnaping of three children and the bludgeoning of their mother.

The woman sought is Mrs. Margaret Sharon O'Dea Wallace, originally of Anderson, Ind., who escaped police capture this afternoon by fleeing from a "share-the-ride" automobile, leaving 6 weeks old Judith Rae Maclam, one of three kidnaped children, behind.

The baby's mother, Mrs. Inez Maclam, 22, former Western Michigan college student, was found bludgeoned and unconscious Tuesday at the foot of an 80 foot cliff near San Diego. Her other two children, Kay Rose, 4, and Clark Edward, 13 months, were located unhurt yesterday in the Union station here where a woman had left them with a matron.

Mother Near Death.

Near death in a San Diego hospital, Mrs. Maclam has told police during intervals of consciousness that she accepted Mrs. Wallace's invitation to drive her and the children to her father's home in Ravenna, Mich., and that they set out Sunday. When they parked near the cliff to admire the view, she said, she was struck on the head and pushed over the precipice.

Tracing Mrs. Wallace's movements since the attack on Mrs. Maclam, police discovered evidence of the "mother complex" they believe may be the explanation of many phases of the affair. At her rooming house they learned she had told acquaintances that she was soon to become a mother and that she had worn padding to simulate approaching maternity.

Police also learned that yesterday Mrs. Wallace went to the county jail, where her husband is serving a term on a narcotics charge, and took Judith Mae into the visitor's room.

Called Child Her Own.

"This is your little girl," she was overheard telling the prisoner, who began his term in August.

Police said the automobile in which Mrs. Wallace drove Mrs. Maclam and her children from Los Angeles Sunday had been borrowed from a friend, ostensibly for a short time, and that Mrs. Wallace had explained the delay in returning it by wiring from San Diego that she had given birth to a daughter.

Mrs. Wallace was overheard at her rooming house this morning as she made telephone arrangements for an advertised "share-the-car" trip to Oklahoma City. When police arrived, they found the car already had stopped for her and that she had left with the baby. Police intercepted the automobile by telephoning ahead to one of its scheduled stops where Mrs. Wallace abandoned the infant and fled on foot.

NORWEGIAN VESSEL SUNK BY SUBMARINE OFF SOUTH AMERICA

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—A small Norwegian merchant vessel was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine during the latter part of October in the Atlantic off the northern coast of South America, the navy said today. Survivors have been landed at an east coast United States port.

Two of the 41 man crew perished in the attack, but remaining survivors reached a Caribbean port after sailing in two lifeboats for six days. The sinking boosted to 527 the Associated Press count of announced allied and neutral western Atlantic ship losses since Dec. 7.

SEE GOOD CHANCE FOR 90 DAY DELAY ON GAS RATIONING

Backers of Move Hopeful Over Protest Meeting.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—Leaders of a congressional movement to forestall nation-wide gasoline rationing expressed optimism today over chances of at least a 90 day delay on the program, scheduled to begin Dec. 1.

Representatives George W. Gillie [R., Ind.] and Victor Wickersham [D., Okla.], circulators of a call among house members for a protest meeting tomorrow afternoon, said they expected a fairly large turnout, despite the absence of many congressmen from the city.

They predicted a demand would be made for the banking and commerce committee to report favorably as soon as possible resolutions calling for a 90 day postponement.

Urges 90 Day Trial.

"I think we should have a 90 day trial," Wickersham told a reporter. "By that time the officials will be convinced that rationing is not necessary."

Rep. Clifford R. Hope [R., Kas.] made public letters to Price Administrator Leon Henderson and Rubber Administrator William M. Jeffers opposing rationing.

Speaking of the people's attitude, Hope wrote:

"They have been told that the purpose of gasoline rationing is to conserve rubber. If that is true, they cannot understand why gasoline is used as a basis instead of rubber.

Holds Rubber Ample.

"There are hundreds of thousands of cars in this area, the tires on which have a life of 10,000 to 30,000 miles. These cars are used for strictly business purposes, yet the highest allotment of gasoline which can be granted in most cases would permit 560 miles of driving a month. On this basis, the rubber on these cars will last from one and one-half to more than four years.

"Why should these cars now used for essential business purposes be taken off the road when they have much more than enough rubber?"

Members of the Texas congressional delegation generally agreed they would comply with a petition from a Texas transportation committee that they support the postponement move.

A. F. OF L. LEADER ORPHANS INCISO AS UNION AGENT

The American Federation of Labor "does not countenance the employment" of such men as Angelo Inciso, ex-convict business manager of the United Automobile Workers union, who called a slowdown strike in a war production plant and has organized five war plants in Chicago.

This information was contained in a letter from William Green, president of the federation, received yesterday by Lieut. George Barnes of the police labor detail. Lieut. Barnes last month asked Green to oust Inciso from the union and sent him a sharp indictment of the organization with a copy of Inciso's police record.

"I will bring all the information contained in your letter to the attention of the officers of the UAWA [the union] at once with the request that said officers act upon the information you sent me," Green replied. He said he would ask the union to take such action as the circumstances require, deal vigorously with Inciso, and report back to him.

"I do not know Mr. Inciso," Green wrote. "So far as I know, I have never met him. I did not know he was employed by the AFL, International union UAWA, until I received your communication."

ZILLER ENTERS QUASH MOTIONS, DENIES CHARGES

Monticello, Ill., Nov. 18 (AP).—George. W. Ziller, 538 pound politician, today filed motions to quash indictments charging him with conducting a confidence game and conspiring to collect job fees from workers at government ordnance plants in the Joliet area.

The motions were filed in Piatt county Circuit court on behalf of Ziller and two co-defendants, Russell Brandt and John Mients.

They denied the accusations and charged that George F. Barrett, attorney general, "had influenced and coerced the grand jury into returning the indictments. . . ."

Ziller offered in support of his motions affidavits from each of the 15 witnesses named in one indictment in which he was accused of conspiring with Brandt and Mients fraudulently to induce job applicants to pay $25 for membership in the Weston Democratic club.

The witnesses denied testifying concerning Brandt's and Mients' activities and, therefore, the motion asserted, there could have been no testimony concerning a conspiracy.

MIRIAM VERNE.

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—Supreme Court Justice Louis A. Valente consented today to the dismissal of a million dollar libel action against Life magazine by Miriam Verne, a dancer, who claimed that an article telling of her alleged friendship with Adolf Hitler had damaged her career and chances to marry.

The case was dismissed before trial on the application of Miss Verne's attorney. The article in question appeared in the Sept. 25, 1939, issue of Life.

Asking for $500,000 general damages and $500,000 special damages, Miss Verne contended in her action that she was mentioned as having gained the admiration of Hitler during a visit to Berlin, and that she was professionally injured to the extent of contract reversals.

COURTNEY ACTS TO SEE IF FIXERS AID JAIL DODGING

Probe of Police, Court Laxity Enlarged.

The state's attorney's office is probing deep into Municipal court records to determine whether a ring of fixers has been operating to permit convicts to escape serving their sentences, it was learned yesterday.

In recent weeks, Assistant State's Attorney Myron F. Lewis has uncovered six cases in which persons convicted in the Municipal court have appealed, posted bond, and remained free despite Appelate and state Supreme court decisions upholding their convictions.

Orders Deeper Probe.

As a result, State's Attorney Courtney has ordered Lewis to dig further into the record. The object is to see whether jail dodging is aided by "fixers" or caused by laxity and bungling by the police department and political appointees in the municipal clerk's office.

One case was settled yesterday when Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Safety court ordered Nick Vergado, 38 years old, committed to the Bridewell for six months on a sentence originally imposed March 18, 1938, for pandering.

The probe began when Lewis discovered that John P. Brosnan, city hall pay roller, had not served a one year sentence imposed in March, 1934, for contributing to the delinquency of an 11 year old girl. He was arrested and is now serving it.

Meanwhile, First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley, was working with Chief Justice Edward S. Scheffler of the Municipal court to plug the loopholes.

Here's How They Slip Thru.

Here's how the legal procedure should work:

A is convicted and sentenced to six months in the Bridewell. He posts bond and appeals the conviction. Eventually the higher court affirms his conviction and so notifies the chief justice of the Municipal court.

The chief justice orders the court clerk to issue a writ for A's arrest. The clerk turns the writ over to the court bailiff, who sends it to the police. A is picked up and sent to jail or if he has fled, the chief justice and the state's attorney are notified, his bond is forfeited and police receive a "stop" order on him.

In jail dodging cases uncovered by Lewis, all steps were taken up to the point where A is taken into custody. The police returned the writs marked "Not found" to the clerk's office. But there is no record that the chief justice and the prosecutor were notified, police did not file "stop" orders, and in only one case was the bond forfeited.

UAW STRIKERS DEFY LEADERS' CALL TO WORK

Fewer than 200 of the 1,250 workers employed on the day shift at the National Malleable and Steel Castings company plant, 1400 Laramie avenue, Cicero, returned to work yesterday in spite of an agreement between the union committee and plant officials to end the walkout of some 2,000 workers.

Paul Russo, assistant regional director of Chicago for the United Automobile Worker's union [CIO], and other union officials were attempting to persuade the men to return.

STRIKE BY CIO ENDANGERS ARMY LEATHER IN VATS

War Goods Plant Is Tied Up for Second Day.

Seventy-five thousand dollars' worth of leather for the army and lend-lease shipment faced spoilage in chemical vats at the Monarch Leather company, 1127 Division street, yesterday while a CIO union strike tied up all production in the war goods plant for the second day.

Lewis F. Jacobson, company attorney, said the union—local 43 of the International Fur and Leather Workers—was "committing suicide" by keeping the workers from their jobs.

Lieut. George Barnes of the police labor detail said he would furnish protection for workmen who wished to return to their jobs.

Lieut. Barnes said the union had made an agreement at the time of the walkout to leave skeleton crews in the plant to care for the perishable leather.

Union Leader Assails Company.

Sam Berland, international representative of the union, charged that the company was at fault, however, in failure to maintain skeleton crews.

"We are perfectly willing to send in any workers that are needed to prevent the materials from spoiling," he said. "But unless the company tells us what kind of workers they want—and there are 32 different crafts in that plant—we can't furnish them. The skeleton crew that was left in the plant evidently was not made up of workers who know how to handle the vats. But the company won't talk to us."

Loyal Workers Fear Reprisals.

Meanwhile, army and War Labor board officials were making an investigation in the plant, Lieut. Barnes said, but the few workmen who reported for work asked to be relieved and said they feared reprisals from the union if they remained.

Jacobson said the company was paying the highest wages, comparably, of any such war plant in Chicago.

The dispute started Monday morning when the union called a sitdown strike. Lieut. Barnes broke it up and the workers walked out. The union has been negotiating for a new contract since Sept. 24.

Berland said the union had voted to continue work under the old contract and that negotiations were peaceful until Jacobson, hired recently to handle the company's labor matters, appeared on the scene.

PRISON PENALTY FOR REFUSAL TO PICK UP TIN CANS

A new regulation issued by the War Production board is expected to double the salvage of tin cans in the Chicago metropolitan area. The order was disclosed by the office of William L. McFetridge, Chicago salvage director, yesterday.

Announcement that the new regulation went into effect Tuesday was accompanied with a warning to municipal departments and private scavengers that refusal to collect tin cans prepared for salvage was an offense subject to a $10,000 fine, two years in prison, or both.

Dave Herbst, executive secretary to McFetridge, announced the regulation, an amendment to order M-72-A of the WPB.

"While the municipal trucks in Chicago have coöperated 100 per cent in the drive to collect tin cans," Herbst said, "some of the 325 private scavengers have not shown the same care in getting every tin can. The rule now has teeth in it and the number of collections should pick up both in Chicago and in the suburban areas."

The new ruling applies only to the collection of tin cans prepared by residents: that is, washed, flattened, and placed in separate containers near the usual receptacle for waste.

Visas also have been set aside for 1,000 orphaned refugee children, many of whom may go from France via North Africa.

FIND MECHANIC GUILTY IN N. Y. TREASON TRIAL

Convicted of Helping U-Boat Saboteurs.

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—Anthony Cramer, 42 year old mechanic accused of aiding two of the eight Nazi saboteurs landed by submarine on the Atlantic coast last June, was convicted of treason by a 12 man jury in federal court tonight.

Anthony Cramer.

The jury deliberated slightly more than two hours on the case of Cramer, who was charged with having met and extended "aid and comfort" to Werner Thiel and Edward J. Kerling after they were landed by a German submarine on the Florida coast.

Cramer, who will be sentenced next Wednesday by Judge Henry W. Goddard, faces a penalty ranging from five years in prison and $10,000 fine to death.

His treason trial was the third to end in conviction in 148 years. First after such a long period was that of Max Stephan of Detroit last Aug. 6. Six relatives and friends of Herbert Haupt, executed saboteur, were convicted in the second treason trial last Saturday in Chicago.

Shortly before both sides rested their cases today, the government withdrew 7 of 10 alleged overt acts charged in the indictment against Cramer. Besides being accused of meeting the two saboteurs in New York, Cramer was charged with giving false information to Federal Bureau of Investigation agents in order to conceal Thiel's mission and identity.

SAVACHKA FREED; CALDWELL LINK SEEN IN LEGAL AID

$5,000 Bail Is Posted for Union Looting Figure.

Michael Savachka, key witness in the $910,000 union looting case which the state is preparing against Max Caldwell, was released from the county jail yesterday after an attorney appeared and posted a $5,000 bond. This amount had been set by the federal District court in Miami, Fla., where Savachka was arrested Oct. 20 on draft evasion charges.

Attorney George F. Callaghan appeared before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker and asked that the bond be reduced to $2,500. The motion was opposed by Assistant United States Attorney John Kiely, who said Savachka had willfully avoided the law by disappearing from Chicago, and had registered a second time with a Miami draft board, given his age as 20 altho his true age is 31.

Refuses to Reduce Bond.

Commissioner Walker then refused to reduce the bond, remarking that the history of the case did not appear to warrant such action. Soon afterward a bond was posted, giving as security a building at 6308 Archer avenue, owned by Michael and Francis Stawski, 7411 West 58th sereet, Summit. Court records indicated the building was purchased for $35,000 in 1933, and yields an annual income of $7,000.

Savachka, former secretary treasurer of the retail clerks' union, was returned from Miami Tuesday by a federal marshal. Under questioning Tuesday night by two assistant state's attorneys, he admitted that he was little more than an errand boy for Caldwell, the business manager of the union. He also said Caldwell took him to Florida when an investigation of the union's empty treasury was started, and that Calwell helped maintain him in exile.

Union Pay $37.50 a Week.

Savachka has admitted that his highest salary as an officer of the union was $37.50 a week and that while he was in Florida he worked as a busboy at a dog track and at a hotel.

Attorney Callaghan was asked who had retained him to appear in the case. He said a Miami lawyer, Barty Riley, had asked him to do so. Riley is a law partner of Stanley Phillips, who represented Caldwell when he was arraigned on Oct. 30 in Miami on charges of aiding Savachka to evade the draft law.

At that hearing Phillips introduced Savachka to Riley in open court, and the prisoner said he had no objections to being represented by Riley. In Miami Riley was described as one of the foremost criminal lawyers of Florida, who never bothers with small cases. Caldwell now lives in a $45,000 home in Miami Beach, which he purchased from Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti.

During the day Assistant State's Attorneys Alexander Napoli and Joseph Burke, who interviewed Savachka Tuesday night, continued their preparations to take the union looting case to the grand jury. A previous investigation by the state's attorney's office was blocked by the disappearance of Savachka in June, 1941.

MOROCCO SULTAN PLEDGES AID TO UNITED NATIONS

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—The Rabat radio tonight broadcast the text of a speech of the sultan of Morocco welcoming American forces to Morocco and pledging assistance to the united nations. The broadcast was recorded by the Federal Communications commission.

"We are glad to welcome representatives of the United States and we express our best wishes for the prosperity of our countries in a spirit of mutual understanding and sincere affection," said the sultan in an address at a reception on the fifth anniversary of his accession.

Responding to Gen. Auguste Nogues, French resident general, the sultan referred to French-Moroccan friendship as an example for "all men anxious to bring about the prosperity of the united nations."

CHICAGOAN WILL LEAD OPENING OF ALASKA HIGHWAY

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory, Nov. 18 (AP).—Two young soldiers and a small, battered army truck will take their place in northland history on Friday. Their truck will be the first land vehicle to be driven from the interior of North America to Alaska. The soldiers are Corp. Otto Gronke of Chicago, and Pvt. Bob Bowe of Minneapolis.

Several months ago they drove the truck on the first thru trip here from Dawson Creek, B. C., at the southern terminus of the Alcan international highway. Today they were chosen to head the trucks which will proceed northward to Fairbanks, Alaska, after the highway's formal dedication Friday.

Gronke lives at 324 West 10th place, Chicago. He is the driver for Brig. Gen. James A. O'Connor, commanding general of the northwest service command.

KILLER LEOPOLD, 38 TODAY, HOPES TO HELP IN WAR

Nathan Leopold, the only surviving principal of the "thrill murder" 18 years ago of Bobby Franks, a crime that shocked the nation, is 38 years old today. He will probably spend the day just as he has spent some 6,500 days in the past—at work in Stateville prison. The only new thing on the college educated "lifer's" program is the study of the Japanese language.

Leopold was 19 in May, 1924, when he and his pal, Richard Loeb, then 18, lured Bobby Franks, whom they both knew, into a car, bludgeoned and chloroformed him and stuffed his body into a culvert on the outskirts of Chicago. Their plan to obtain $50,000 ransom misfired.

Partner Stabbed to Death.

Loeb is dead, slashed with a razor in the hands of a fellow inmate. Also dead are the parents and brother of Bobby Franks; Circuit Judge John R. Caverly, who sentenced the cruel young intellectuals to life imprisonment, plus 99 year terms, and Clarence Darrow, the defense attorney.

In a recent interview Leopold told of his prison work—nine years in the correspondence school and a year in the prison's X-ray laboratory, assisting in diagnostic work—and revealed his interest in the Japanese language.

Q.—Have you just started studying Japanese? A.—No, I began a year ago last May.

Q.—What prompted that interest? A.—I saw this war coming.

Hopeful of War Service.

Q.—Do you find the language difficult? A.—Yes, extremely so.

Q.—Are you getting along with it, at least to your own satisfaction? A.—No, I'm not satisfying myself, but I believe I am making progress.

Q.—Why are you studying Japanese? A.—Well, I thought I might be of service in some way.

Q.—How? A.—There must be a limited number of Americans who know Japanese; and, after all, we are at war with the Japanese.

Q.—Do you hope to get out of prison on parole some time?

There the warden interrupted the interview as Leopold was replying "I would rather not answer that."

It was explained that Leopold cannot ask for a parole until he has served 20 years, which he concludes Sept. 11, 1944, and that he must serve at least a third of the additional 99 year sentence before asking for a parole on that term. That would make 1977 the earliest date.

POLL TAX BILL CALLED ILLEGAL IN SENATE FIGHT

Foes Keep Up Filibuster Into Fifth Day.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—Constitutionality of a bill which would eliminate payment of a poll tax as a voting prerequisite in eight southern states was challenged in the senate tonight as opponents of the measure filibustered a fifth day of debate to a close.

Sen. Wall Doxey [D., Miss.], one of the principal opponents of the bill, raised a point of order that the senate judiciary committee which reported it was without authority to do so because the measure was unconstitutional.

When Doxey completed a three hour speech, Sen. Albert Chandler [D., Ky.] presiding, ruled that the Mississippian had posed a constitutional question which should be submitted to the senate.

Barkley Calls Recess.

Majority Leader Alben Barkley, who has tried vainly for five days to get the bill formally before the senate, declared "the matter stands in the balance" and called for a recess until noon tomorrow. He attempted without success to get the southerners to agree to vote on the question by 1 or 2 p. m.

Opponents of the bill, meanwhile, scheduled a meeting tomorrow to consider a change in strategy which might pave the way for an early vote on the question of limiting debate.

One southern senator who asked to remain anonymous said that if it appeared more than a third of the senate's members would oppose imposition of the drastic cloture rule limiting each senator to one hour of debate, opponents would suspend their filibustering tactics for a showdown on the question. Two-thirds of those present must approve before cloture can be invoked.

May Abandon Bill.

While administration leaders declined comment, there appeared to be little doubt that they would abandon efforts to obtain passage of the bill in this session if they failed to limit debate.

Doxey, defeated in last summer's primary, told his colleagues that he might never get to address all of them again but he wanted them to remember that Mississippi and other southern states would "uphold the doctrine of Anglo-Saxon supremacy until our lofty mountains crumble into dust."

Whatever the senate does, he said, the southern Negro "knows that the white people of Mississippi are not going to mix and mingle with him."

Earlier in the debate a Maine Republican joined in the Democratic tug of war and a close knit group of southerners counted on his vote to help them block the measure.

Sen. Wallace H. White [R., Me.] refrained from discussing his views on the poll tax itself, but told his colleagues he believed the legislation had been improperly placed before the senate.

Sen. Doxey had raised that point of order, contending that a quorum of the judiciary committee was not present when the bill was reported favorably.

White Tells Opposition.

Even before Chandler overruled the point of order, White warned that he would be "compelled" to vote against consideration of the measure in the event of an adverse ruling.

Altho the controversial bill has furnished fuel for five fiery days of debate, it never has formally come before the senate. Barkley came closest to that goal today when opponents left the parliamentary gate just far enough ajar to permit him to move formal consideration of the bill. The motion, however, faced unlimited debate, and the southerners spoke confidently of their ability to argue the motion a month if necessary.

Deadline Is Jan. 2.

The bill, previously approved in different form by the house, will die unless passed by the end of the present session next Jan. 2. It would eliminate payment of a poll tax as a qualification for voting for federal officers in eight southern states—Texas, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, South Carolina, Arkansas, Tennessee, and Virginia.

Owen T. Lay, in charge of the Chicago Weather bureau, said the fog yesterday was caused by quick cooling of heavy atmosphere over Chicago Tuesday night. 88 Injured in Two "L" Wrecks

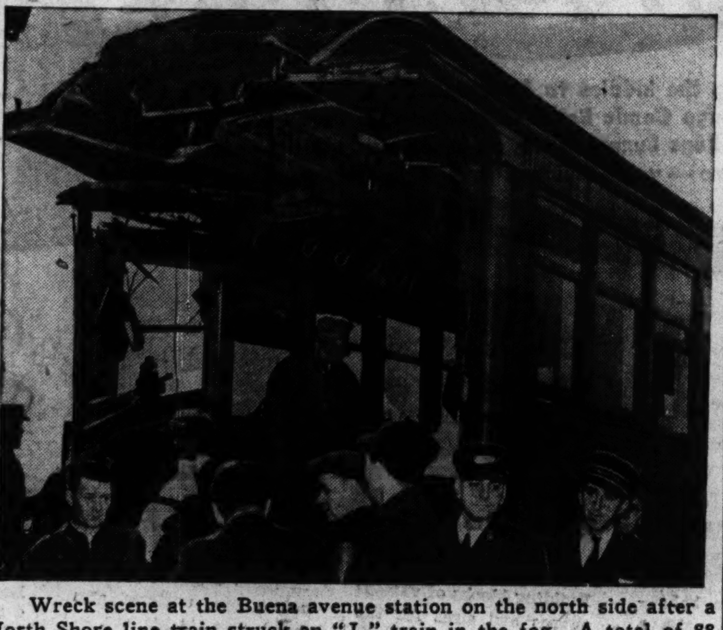
Wreckage of "L" cars after crash at 43d street station in yesterday morning's fog.



Wreck scene at the Buena avenue station on the north side after a North Shore line train struck an "L" train in the fog. A total of 88 persons were injured in the two crashes.

88 ARE INJURED IN 2 'L' CRASHES; BLAME WEATHER

Trains Collide in Fog; One Seriously Hurt.

A dense fog which reduced visibility to an eighth of a mile was blamed by Rapid Transit officials yesterday for two elevated train collisions which occurred on the north and south sides within a few minutes of one another during the rush hour yesterday morning. Eighty-eight persons were injured in the two crashes.

Thirty-five were hurt in the north side accident. The only person severely injured in the two crashes was Michael McNamara, conductor on a two car Wilson avenue local which was telescoped by a northbound North Shore electric train just north of the Buena avenue station. McNamara, who was changing the signs in the rear car when the train was hit, suffered head and internal injuries and was taken to the American hospital. He is 47 years old and lives at 5414 Union avenue.

Crashes Into Rear of Train.

The south side accident, which caused minor injuries to 53 persons, occurred about the same distance from the loop and started a brief fire. An eight car, loop bound Ravenswood train rammed the rear of a two car Stockyards train which had stopped at the 43d street station for a block signal. Passengers estimated the Ravenswood train was traveling at about 15 miles an hour because of the dense fog.

Motorman Is Injured.

Merrill Miller, 27 years old, Highwood, motorman of the North Shore train, who suffered foot injuries, said he was moving at eight miles an hours and didn't see the other train until he was only 50 feet away.

Company officials said the Wilson train was waiting on a northbound Howard street express, which had paused several hundred yards north of the Buena avenue station waiting for a signal to let it proceed. The North Shore train was a special loaded with sailors returning to the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

TUGWELL ATTACK PROTESTED BY 2 PUERTO RICANS

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Nov. 18 (AP).—Two Puerto Rican political leaders protested vigorously to Washington today against a house agriculture committee amendment yesterday making a proposed 15 million dollar appropriation to stimulate Puerto Rican food production conditional on the removal of Rexford G. Tugwell as governor.

The cabled protest, signed by Luis Munoz-Marin, president of the Puerto Rican senate, and José Ramirez Santibanez, president of the Liberal party, said the agriculture committee action forced "the starving Puerto Rican people to choose between food and democracy." It was addressed to Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, and Sam Rayburn, speaker of the house.

Tugwell is in Puerto Rico "with the consent of the Puerto Rican people," the message said.

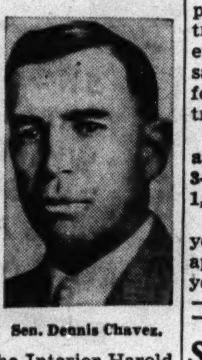
PREDICTS SENATE GROUP'S O. K. ON PUERTO RICO QUIZ

Lucas Considers $5,000 Ample; Ickes Hits Move.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—The committee to audit and control the senate's contingent expenses will approve a $5,000 authorization for a senate investigation of reported food riots and starvation in Puerto Rico, Chairman Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] predicted today.



Sen. Dennis Chavez.

The prediction was made after the committee received a protest from Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes against the proposed investigation of conditions under the New Deal planned economy administration of Gov. Rexford Guy Tugwell.

Ickes, who sponsored Tugwell, former No. 1 New Deal brain truster, objected in a letter to Lucas that the investigation is "unnecessary" and would be "fruitless."

Sees Political Aspect.

He added that it "would serve principally as a sounding board for a few people who want to make political capital out of the effects of the war on the Puerto Rican economy."

"In other words," commented Sen. Dennis Chavez [D., N. M.], author of the resolution calling for the investigation, "Ickes is against the investigation for fear that some one might investigate some one he doesn't want investigated."

Lucas had been accused by Sen. Ralph O. Brewster [R., Me.] of trying to block the investigation "of a matter involving the starvation of 2 million people." The Illinois senator intimated that he would oppose a broad inquiry into social and economic conditions, as authorized by the resolution introduced by Chavez and reported by the committee on territories and insular affairs.

Holds $5,000 About Right.

However, he expressed the opinion that $5,000, the amount requested by the resolution, would not permit such a sweeping investigation and would not be too much for an inquiry into the food shortage. Lucas' committee will act on the matter tomorrow.

The house agriculture committee unanimously reported a bill yesterday authorizing an appropriation of $15,000,000 to increase Puerto Rican food production, but specified that none of the money may be appropriated while Tugwell is governor.

Tugwell's experiments in collectivism, with the islanders as guinea pigs, have produced widespread demands for his removal.

COLDWATER MINISTER IS DEAD.

Coldwater, Mich., Nov. 18 [Special].—The Rev. G. D. Chase, 77 years old, retired Methodist minister, died here today.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

R. H. C. writes: "I have heard that a man must support himself for a certain length of time when he goes into volunteer officer training for 3-A men. This doesn't seem logical, but perhaps I've misunderstood.

ANSWER: You have been misinformed or have misunderstood the intent and purpose of this program. The candidate ceases to be a civilian when he is accepted by the army at the induction station, and from this point on he is a soldier; his uniforms, transportation, food, medical care, etc., are provided by the army the same as for any other soldier. Write for our article on volunteer officer training for 3-A men.

A. N. M. asks: "How do I make an appeal when I am reclassified from 3-A to 1-A, when my draft board is 1,000 miles away?"

ANSWER: You write a letter to your draft board stating you wish to appeal from the 1-A classification. In your letter you should give the reasons why you believe you are entitled to remain in the 3-A classification. If you need advice or assistance on how best to state your case, contact the government appeal agent at the nearest draft board; it is his job to help you. In matters as important as filing an appeal by mail, the registrant should keep a copy and send his letter by "registered mail, return receipt requested."

E. W. writes: "I think you are mistaken in the advice you gave regarding sending Christmas gifts now to boys who may be sent overseas between now and Christmas. I understand that before being sent over, they are ordered to send home or otherwise dispose of all personal belongings except government issue clothing, etc. My brother wrote me, 'Chalk it off as being one of those things necessary to national defense.'"

ANSWER: If you are unwise enough to send large, bulky items which do not conform to regulations, such items will have to be sent home when the men are shipped. However, any item or any series of items found on our list of "Gifts for Men in Service" may be sent to a Yank anywhere in the world with every assurance he may keep it. If you do not have our list, send in a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and we will send the list to you. The final mailing date for men in service in this country is Dec. 1.

O. O. T. asks: "Isn't there a marine corps branch of the glider pilot training program? Where can I get information on it?"

ANSWER: This newest addition to the glider pilot training program was announced last week by the Civil Aeronautics administration. The program provides for the training of marines as co-pilots for large troop and cargo carrying gliders. Arrangements have been entered into with six flying services and a like number of schools to give a 16 week course to marines who rate private first class or better. We have a requirement check list and data sheet on the glider pilot training program we will send if a self-addressed envelope is sent to us with a request for the material.

STATE SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS PARKING METERS

A decision yesterday by the Illinois Supreme court that cities and villages have the right to install parking meters revived interest in the subject at the city hall. Meters have been in operation in a number of Illinois cities and towns for some time.

Ald. Bernard J. O'Hallaren [18th], chairman of a special city council subcommittee on parking meters, said he planned to call a meeting of the committee soon. The first job, he said, will be to learn how many meters might be available despite wartime restrictions on their construction.

Civic and business groups have asked for parking meters in outlying business districts, but the council has sidetracked the matter because of the war and the question of whether the city legally could install them, he said.

In its decision the state Supreme court ruled the charge for parking under the meter plan is a valid assessment to defray costs of installation, supervision, and operation of the meters.

RESTAURANTS FACE CLOSING IN BOOM TOWN

Richmond, Cal., Nov. 18 (AP).—Restaurants feeding 30,000 persons in this shipyard boom town have threatened to close because they can't get meat, Mayor Hattie Chandler reported today. Already some San Francisco restaurants, across the bay, have closed for the same reason.

Appealing to the government, to boost Office of Price Administration meat quotas, Mrs. Chandler said the quotas provided normal meat supplies for 15,000 persons, whereas Richmond actually has a population of 100,000 because of the increase in war activities the past year.

Nine butcher shops already have closed because of lack of supplies.

'KEEP U. S. WORTH SHOOTING FOR,' WILSON PLEADS

Senator Elect Voices 'Iowa Idea' on Winning War.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Gov. George A. Wilson

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 18.—Gov. George A. Wilson, Iowa's new Republican senator elect, believes that the one job at hand is to win the war as quickly and decisively as possible, with utter defeat of our enemies. Then, after the war is won, America must emerge from the peace conference still a free and independent America, with the American form of government unchanged and the Bill of Rights and its guarantees of human liberties unimpaired. That, he says, is the "Iowa idea."

Rubber stamps he regards as fit only for the salvage scrap piles. In wartime, he maintains, the one solemn obligation to the fighting fronts and the home fronts is to eliminate waste, extravagance, muddling, profiteering and incompetence in government. He says:

"While fighting a shooting war in behalf of freedom let us see to it that when victory is ours we have a country worth shooting for."

A Strong Constitutionalist.

Senator Elect Wilson has a reputation in the corn belt and beyond as a strong constitutionalist. He has had experience in all three of the coördinate branches of government, legislative, judicial, executive. He started as page boy and has been Polk county attorney, District court judge, state senator, and governor.

Administrative economy and government reorganization to reduce waste have been legislative hobbies with Wilson as governor.

In the campaigning which led to his election over Sen. Clyde L. Herring, Democrat, on Nov. 3, the governor emphasized all these views. In the primaries he won the nomination against Mark G. Thornburk, state secretary of agriculture, who carried the torch for Wendell Willkie, had the Willkie blessing, and who said he indorsed Willkie's brand of Republicanism.

Out in the tall corn state, Willkieism seems to be dead politically.

Wants Rubber Plants.

One matter on which Wilson hammered was construction of synthetic rubber plants near the corn bins. In his office today he remarked on this. "I am strongly in favor," he said, "of the erection of synthetic rubber plants in Iowa and the middle west. From the standpoint of national resources, the most economical production of synthetic rubber will be from grain. Small plants in the corn belt could be turning out materials for synthetic rubber and even the synthetic rubber itself. Synthetic rubber from grain is the process best known to the chemists, taking the least amount of critical materials.

"The Washington planners still are not fully awake to the possibility of utilizing farm surpluses to relieve the rubber shortage. Back in 1936 I urged the development of the industrial use of farm products and have advocated it ever since.

"Production of alcohol from corn, used in making synthetic rubber, was part of that program.

Washington Deaf to Plea.

"A year before Pearl Harbor, competent Iowa authorities pointed out the urgency to Washington. Experts at Iowa State college had the formula. It was demonstrated to be practical, feasible, and inexpensive. They met with a deaf ear. Within six months after it was said no corn was needed, it was found its use was imperative. And to whom did they turn to save their faces? To the liquor distilleries, miles away from the corn surpluses."

Wilson is not carrying any measures in his satchel to Washington. An experienced hand in politics, he expects to take a little time in order to get his bearings. "But my actions will be in full consonance with the doctrines and pledges I have espoused," he says. Among the political writers here he has a reputation of wearing a poker face and of seldom saying what he'll do until he does it and has results to show. When he does say what he plans to do, he goes thru with it.

Out here as elsewhere in the middle west people are more interested in winning the war than in making the peace. The eastern groups advocating an agglomeration of nations and political union without delay, seem to find few customers in these sections. Gov. Wilson says Iowa has a very definite idea that after the war is over there must be a return to constitutional government and guarantees.

People Hold the Power.

"The roots of freedom run deep," he philosophized. "For more than 150 years we Americans have been privileged to live in a country where the individual could order and direct his own life. We've called that human freedom. Under our principle of government the power lies with the people. Those in office only obey.

"Under the totalitarian system the power lies in the ruler, and the people are the servants, peasants, or slaves.

"In this World war in which we are engaged we are testing which of these forms of government shall be ours."

Iowa political philosophy, which has sprung from the pioneers and frontiersmen, the governor remarked, is based on community and home and freedom. "Local self-government is the very cornerstone of our individual freedom," he said. "If we permit it to get away from home and run around loose we must not be surprised when, if ever it does get back to us, it has not given birth to a straggling litter of bureaus, boards and commissions and other New Deal kittens."

GRANT NEW TRIAL TO ADA MARTIN, ABORTION HEAD

Mrs. Ada Martin, 44 years old, head of a loop abortion syndicate, and her receptionist, Mrs. Josephine Kuder, 30, were granted a new trial yesterday by the Illinois Supreme court. The women have been at liberty on appeal bonds since their conviction April 16 on charges of conspiracy to commit abortions. They were sentenced to one to five year prison terms.

The Supreme court held that evidence in the case was illegally seized. Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, said he would not comment on the ruling until he had studied the opinion.

Police raided Mrs. Martin's office at 190 North State street, to which the state charged 200 physicians and 50 druggists sent clients, in February, 1941. Mrs. Martin's daughter, Jennie, was shot and killed April 29, 1941, by Policeman Daniel Moriarity in the Martin home at 4367 Lake Park avenue.

Moriarity, confessed fixer for the abortion ring, said he intended to kill Mrs. Martin and not her daughter. He is serving a life sentence for the murder.

POOR VISIBILITY BLAMED IN PLANE CRASH FATAL TO 9

A verdict blaming "poor visibility" for the crash of an army plane Oct. 15 near 67th street and Harlem avenue, in which nine men died, was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury.

Max Gorenstein, county highway policeman, testified he heard an explosion about 4:30 p. m. and was one of the first to reach the wrecked plane. Maj. Clarence P. Dittman, commanding officer of the army air service command at Chicago airport, said three flying officers had investigated the crash and made their report to Washington.

Three aviation experts included in the coroner's jury were Maj. John Casey, superintendent of the airport; Harold Cummings, an engineer, and Martin McMahon, a lawyer, both members of the American Legion Aviation post, No. 651.

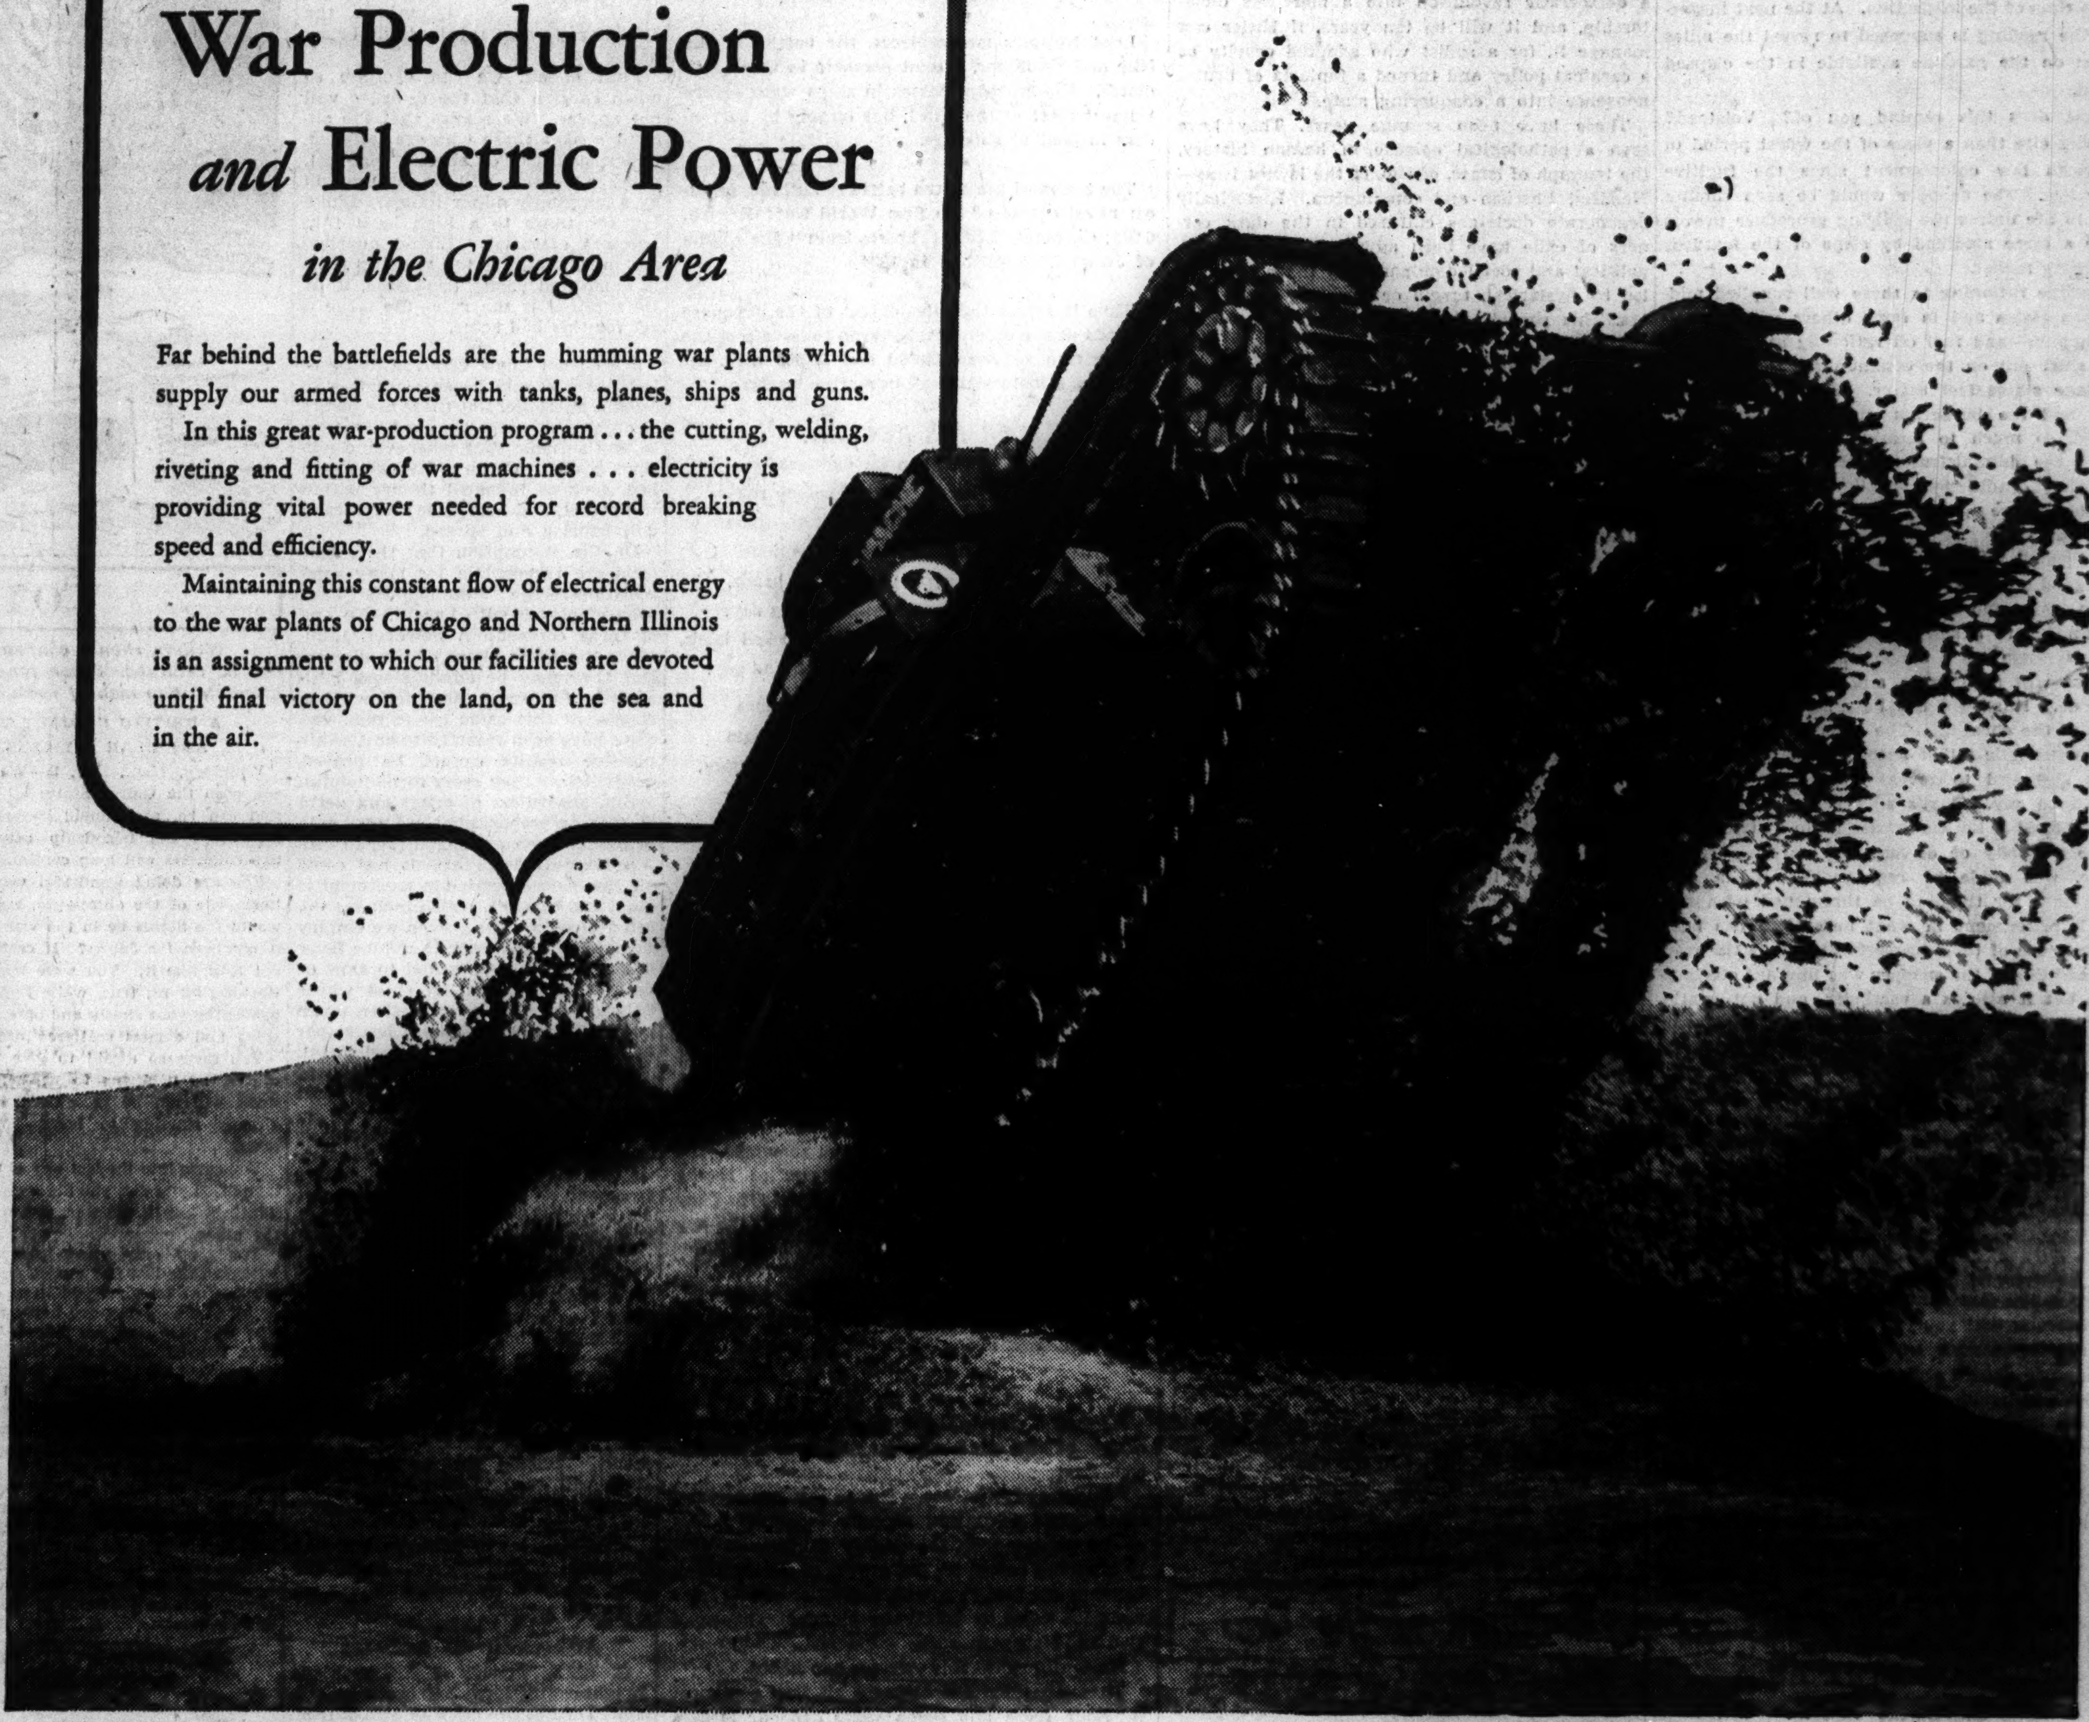
War Production and Electric Power in the Chicago Area

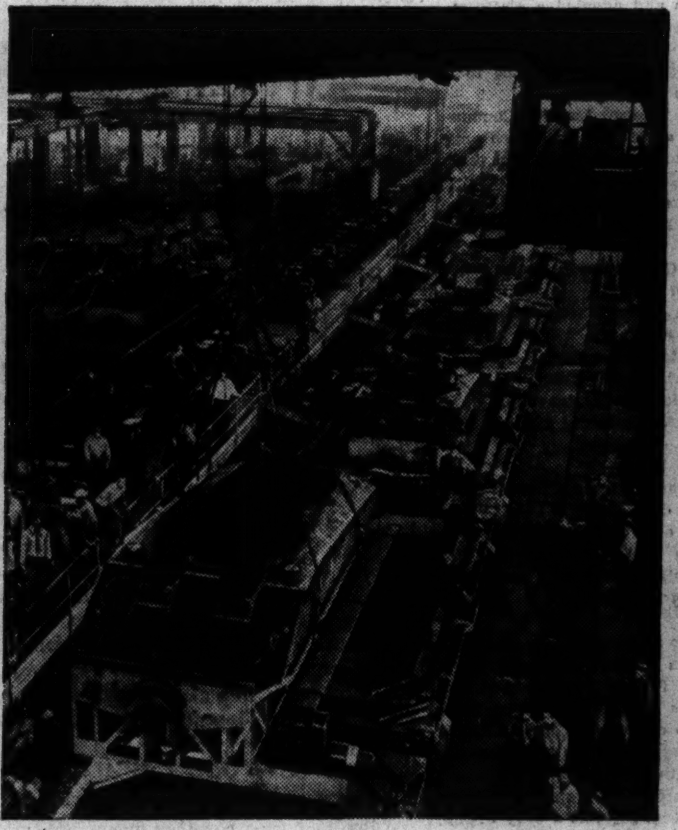
Far behind the battlefields are the humming war plants which supply our armed forces with tanks, planes, ships and guns.

In this great war-production program . . . the cutting, welding, riveting and fitting of war machines . . . electricity is providing vital power needed for record breaking speed and efficiency.

Maintaining this constant flow of electrical energy to the war plants of Chicago and Northern Illinois is an assignment to which our facilities are devoted until final victory on the land, on the sea and in the air.



The modern General Lee tanks are electrically welded for strength. The result is a streamlined unit of fighting power for America's armed forces.



Electrically-operated production lines keep a steady flow of steel fighting power constantly on the move toward completion.

NEW SPIES ON THE HOME FRONT.

Car owners signing up for their gasoline ration retain a part of their application blanks and are required to carry it with them. At intervals they are obliged to submit their speedometers and their tires to an OPA inspector, obey his orders and pay a fee. The inspector will probably be a service station man. He will check the tires and either pass them or require repairs. He also will note on the card the mileage shown at the time of the inspection. At the next inspection the reading is supposed to reveal the miles driven on the gasoline available in the elapsed period.

What does this remind you of? Volstead? Nothing else than a piece of the worst period in American law enforcement since the fugitive slave law. The snooper would be seen coming back to life unless the policing procedure proves to be a farce modified by some of the features of a petty racket.

Gasoline rationing in these well supplied midwestern states and in some others with nearby oil supplies—and fuel oil rationing as well—is a hair shirt put on the communities to make the shortage states feel better. They wanted company and the burocrats gave it to them, not, indeed, so much to please the growlers as to please the administrators themselves. We are all being conditioned for days to come. The controlers are getting practice, we're being softened up.

The people imposed upon accepted the situation with good humor and good will. They have their ration books and they expect to conform. They are limited to a small amount of gasoline and must arrange their driving accordingly. Some persons will need more and some will pretend they do. It should not be difficult to uncover most of the cheaters. The speedometer check is a characteristic bit of autocracy in government. It is supposed to reveal bootlegging if there should be any. That's silly because the meter can be fixed if the car owner is up to tricks.

The majority of drivers, having their ration books, will abide by regulations. It's a new experience for them to be threatened with fine and imprisonment in what heretofore has been the free use of their property—but it is the war. The addition of the snooper was flagrant officiousness, but it also is a reminder, and not gentle, that the secret police are the primary agents of the planned society. It never has operated without them and it can't.

A guess is that altho the ration books will work, the espionage system will not get around the corner. However, the intent was written into the regulations. Provision was made for the spy. He must be used when every detail of life is controled.

NOTE ON MANNERS.

One of the disadvantages of having to stand in the buses is that you can see what goes on. You can see, for example, an elderly woman, obviously frail, come aboard and you can see seven young punks, male and female, keeping their seats while the bus lurches along. The sight of the old lady standing doesn't bother them in the least.

It isn't very pretty. It suggests that the young people of this community are a singularly inconsiderate lot. A good many of them certainly are but we believe they are not beyond redemption. We have a notion that if parents and teachers took the trouble to instruct children in the rules of courtesy, an improvement might be noted.

THE COUNTY AS A CHORE BOY.

The county commissioners, seeking to wiggle out from under the deficit which their past extravagance has inflicted on that local government, have an idea that they may be able to shift some of the county's financial responsibilities to other governmental units. An example is the suggestion that care of the blind, which annually costs the county $450,000, might be passed on to the state and federal governments.

In other circumstances, a case might be made for such shifting of responsibilities. The county is peculiar in two respects among local governments. It is a chore boy for other governmental units. It also has had activities thrust upon it by legislative action—brought about by pressure groups—without having been given any additional revenue to finance the new activities.

A good case could be made for passing on to the other governments their shares of the cost of running the tax departments. To an extent this is already done. The county treasurer charges fees for tax collection, and the county could make a profit on this job if the loafers were ever turned out of the treasurer's office. The county clerk charges fees for preparing the tax books. A similar system of fees, to be deducted from tax collections, might appropriately be charged for the support of the assessor and the board of tax appeals.

In another field the county also has reason for complaint that it is unduly burdened. All manner of social services have been imposed upon the county government by the legislature, and in most instances these functions have not been accompanied by any new sources of revenue. There is no one quite as effective as a group of social service workers in imitating the camel who got his nose in the tent. Bureaus which start out with a handful of employés blossom within a very few years to elaborate organizations with scores or even hundreds of pay rollers. Any attempt to limit such activities brings horrified screams that the unfortunate are being exploited by the politicians. It is all right, of course, to exploit the taxpayers.

Some time in the future the legislature might very well undertake a logical appraisal of the functions and resources of county governments. The present difficulties of the Cook county government are not, however, ground for such action. In the first place, any such reformation would proceed too slowly to afford the county any immediate relief and, in the second, the county government doesn't deserve the relief. Its officers got themselves into this fix and they ought to be allowed to stew in it for a while.

The county's tax rate and other revenue are inadequate to operate the county on its present scale, but that is merely an indication that the present scale is outrageously extravagant. Deficits aside, the county has more than enough revenue for all of its legitimate needs. Before any rescue measures are attempted, any new sources of revenue found, or any functions are transferred to other governments, the county should get rid of a minimum of 25 per cent of the pay rollers in the departments outside its strictly charitable activities. It is not improbable that a similar reduction can be made in the charitable institutions. The social workers aren't above doing business with Kelly-Nash.

THE AGE OF DEGRADING ISMS.

Mussolini had an anniversary last month. He became premier, Oct. 30, after the Facta ministry resigned in despair Oct. 26, 1922. Soviet Russia had an anniversary this month. The bolshevists seized Petrograd and deposed Kerensky Nov. 7, 1917. Hitler will have an anniversary, if he survives, early next year. Hindenburg in his dotage gave the Nazi fanatic the chancellorship Jan. 30, 1933.

It's been twenty years for the vagabond who became the Italian Duce over and above the king, twenty-five years for the Reds who turned a democratic revolution into a merciless dictatorship, and it will be ten years, if Hitler can manage it, for a sadist who adopted cruelty as a cardinal policy and turned a fantasia of brutal nonsense into a conquering state.

These have been strange years. They have seen a pathological episode in human history, the triumph of ismos, of ism, of the lowest isms—Naziism, Fascism and communism. Historically degenerate doctrines cultured in the dark corners of exile have been advanced to economic, political and social dominance by mobs of thugs led by hysterical, turgid or cynically cruel leaders. This period of ism, of thuggery and faithlessness, is not understood now, however clear it may become hereafter. Why did the worst forms of ismos, that fertile field of the unbalanced mind, gain such ascendancy at the particular time they did? It was not a time of intellectual ebb tide that could be observed everywhere. The world was not noticeably lacking in its quota of leaders in science, in scholarship, culture, and the humanities. Why this flood of the isms? Could the whole cause have been economic panic?

An ism is a doctrine which often is accepted as a paramount and in itself sufficient rule of life, thus throwing its addict out of gear, destroying his sense of proportion and distorting his view. Altho only an enthusiasm in its mild form, it becomes, when virulent, a violent fanaticism. In its greatest intensity it causes an overthrow of reason and of normal traits. It inculcates a belief in some sovereign remedy or course of action. It eliminates all other considerations from the mind. Usually harmless in the individual, it becomes deadly in a governing clique. The peculiarities of a violent ism are its intolerance, its hatreds and its coercive tyranny.

Could any one twenty or twenty-five years ago have imagined a civilized continent falling into the hands of a thuggery led by men influenced by hatred and cruelty in their relations to humanity? We have seen that, and the consequences are felt from the jungles of Malaya to the villages of Iceland. Added to the evil phenomenon is the incongruous belief that these isms have an idea which can be adopted and modified for the general benefit of men. Even where armed forces are raised for the overthrow of the thing some of its code of conduct is adopted and plans for the future contemplate its use. That adds to the madness which torments the world.

The economic theories and political dogmas of this curse are degenerative. They are not progressive. They force people back hundreds of years into the feudal status. They destroy what took the place of status, the right of contract which is the essential of freedom. They would cancel the gains of a thousand years and yet with the evils rampant and the victims innumerable there are ambitious persons in lands still free who would borrow from the devil and feed his broth to their own countries.

Editorial of the Day

HOW FAR HAVE WE GONE ON THE ROAD?

[De Kalb (Ill.) Chronicle.]

Back in 1928—no farther than that—there was a general election during the course of which the Communist party had a convention and adopted a platform. At that time the American people looked at the things the Reds proposed as the height of radicalism and more or less fanciful poppycock when it came to a program for our prosperous America.

Here are 12 planks of the Moscow inspired Communist platform of that year, a platform for which only some 23,361 voters out of a total of 36,408,663 cast their ballots:

1. Overthrow of capitalism.
2. Establishment of a workers' and farmers' government.
3. Establishment of a Communist society, "not based on profit but on labor."
4. Elimination of poverty.
5. Abolition of the Supreme court.
6. Recognition of the soviet government.
7. Withdrawal of the marines from China.
8. Abolition of all restrictions on immigration.
9. Federal social insurance, including old age and unemployment insurance.
10. The five day week.
11. Exemption of wage earners from all taxation.
12. Taxation of incomes over $5,000 a year, "and confiscation of all incomes over $25,000 a year."

We didn't elect William Z. Foster President, but how come the pattern of this platform has become so strangely familiar to us in recent months? Let our friend answer it.

A year ago we would have said the placing of a limit of $25,000 that an American worker could earn was a fantastic dream. But Mrs. Roosevelt proposed it first in her column early in this year of 1942. Then later her husband proposed it to congress. Congress didn't waste much time in rejecting it and then Mr. Roosevelt told Byrnes to go ahead with it and enforce it.

It doesn't look as if we are so far from what Foster proposed in 1928 and we thought was a silly dream, and if the people of this nation do not watch out we will be farther along the path he mapped out for us. Maybe we didn't do so badly in electing a lot of Republicans to congress this fall after all.

PEARL HARBOR REMEMBERED.

If the Spanish armada [1588] had been completely destroyed, its total loss of lives would have been 24,000. But about half of its 130 vessels returned to their home ports, with crews much depleted. Compare these figures with the estimated Japanese loss of lives in the latest naval action off the Solomon Islands.

* * *

In the battle of Lepanto [1571], which broke Mohammedan naval power in the Mediterranean, the Turkish fleet lost 25,000 men. The Christian fleet, assembled by Spain, Venice, and Genoa, lost 8,000. This was one of the great decisions of history, altho it has been somewhat neglected by experts on decisive battles. See G. K. Chesterton's fine poem on Don Juan of Austria, the Christian admiral.

* * *

In the first Punic war a Roman fleet of 330 vessels, containing 100,000 sailors and 40,000 soldiers, met and defeated a Carthaginian fleet with even more ships and men. It was a complete Roman victory. The Carthaginians lost almost one-third of their ships and probably from 30,000 to 40,000 men. This battle, in men and material, was five times bigger than Trafalgar.

* * *

Lord Nelson's masterpieces, the battles of the Nile and Trafalgar, cannot compete in these estimates. His enemies' losses in ships were severe [almost total at the Nile], but largely by surrenders instead of sinkings.

* * *

The losses of life at the battle of Jutland, greatest naval drama of the first World war: British, 6,094; Germans, 2,551. [Figures from "The Riddle of Jutland," published in 1934.]

* * *

Thus it seems that the defeat of the Japanese armada at the Solomons, believed to have cost the Rising Sun between 20,000 and 30,000 men, approaches a historical peak in marine warfare.

FOR HIS RETURN.

You women with your men far overseas,
Your infant's father or your schoolboy son—
Roll bandages, buy bonds—but think not these Sufficient for his thanks when war is done.
For tho you do not spare your weary hands,
But honor them with work each waiting day,
When he returns from ruined, shell-shocked lands,
His eyes will yearn for gardens, fresh and gay.

For he has dreamed of dear, familiar things
That made his life before the hell of slain
Comrades went down under their tattered wings;
And he has longed for love and song again.
Roll bandages, but grow a rose the while
And keep for him the splendor of your smile!

Did You Ever See a White Race Horse?

The reason why nobody ever saw a white race horse is because no horse is ever born entirely white. The offspring of a black mare will occasionally greet the world in an iron-gray birthday suit, which will gradually turn lighter. At the age of 10 years or so it may be entirely white. C. O. R.

* * *

No white race horses! Don't you remember the Roman emperor Nero's famous chariot racing four, to which monuments were erected? They were the white Nitidus, the gray Fuscus, the bay Decoratus, and the brown Raptor. Jack P. B.

* * *

Once upon a time a white race horse won many races against stiff competition. I can't remember his name. Ask Bob Ripley. Al Justen.

On Nov. 19, 1863.

Edward Everett, regarded as the most gifted orator of the time, arose and began with this sentence:

"Standing beneath this serene sky, overlooking these broad fields, now reposing from the labors of the waning year, the mighty Alleghanies dimly towering before us, the graves of our brethren beneath our feet, it is with hesitation that I raise my poor voice to break the eloquent silence of God and Nature."

He continued in this vein for two hours.

Then Abraham Lincoln said his first sentence: "Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

He spoke for 2 minutes and 15 seconds, and gave the world a masterpiece. Clyde D. Foster.

OPTICAL ILLUSION.

In days of old when drivers bold
Sped o'er the middle west,
They, so to speak, thought one red streak
The scen'ry did infest.

But now that they go on their way
At thirty-five per hour,
The driver sees the fields and trees,
And uses much less power.

And when they seek that crimson streak,
It's not there any more;
By driving slow they've come to know
'Twas red barns by the score.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Cutter will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

[Copyright: 1942: By The Chicago Tribune.]

NO QUICK CURE FOR RHEUMATIC FEVER.

FOR the heart's sake, a far more vigorous attack must be made upon rheumatic fever. Every bout with this disease exposes the pumping organ to injury. If we escape we may ascribe freedom to sheer luck or to unusually skillful management. As it is, far too many of our worthwhile citizens are going about with the cardiac apparatus substantially below par.

First of all, we can exercise so much caution that the disorder will not appear. We realize that the ailment strikes those who are fatigued, undernourished, or anemic. In fact, many a seizure will be ushered in by a seemingly minor illness. Building resistance to a high level thus becomes essential. Living quarters are important. If the sleeping room is damp and poorly ventilated, if little sunlight is the rule—the stage is set for this bad actor.

We do not know why the lining of the heart should be so attractive to certain microbes. But there are plenty of organisms which are ready to grow in any suitable spot whenever conditions permit. Given a favorable seed bed, such as inflamed tissues within the throat, and hemolytic streptococci will flourish and spread.

On the assumption that these bacteria are responsible for many complications, the sulfonamides have been employed with benefit. No one of these compounds, however, influences the acute phase of the disease. But they may be administered periodically for some time following a siege. In this same connection, vaccines have been resorted to and, while positive results cannot be proved, nevertheless they seem to be helpful.

But, regardless of drugs and germ destroying preparations, we must rely primarily upon prolonged rest in bed. Assuming that an attack has come on, the main objective in treatment is quiet and comfort, which includes the relief of pain. The reason we employ salicylates is not only to reduce fever but to allay suffering and to slow or decrease the pulse. A child whose "ticker" records 100 or higher, or an adult with 80 or more beats per minute should not be up and about.

Unless the infection is violent, the chances are that injury to the heart will not occur if this program is enforced until long after the temperature has disappeared. Rest is essential because we are dealing with a smoldering, treacherous affliction. With glee, it will blaze forth anew upon the slightest provocation.

We will save many a case of heart failure later in life by allowing ample time for convalescence. A struggle with acute rheumatism may well take a year out of the calendar. Difficulty will be experienced by the ambitious individual who feels so well that he insists upon activity. A return engagement with the malady may be the result. Should this occur, precautions will need to be redoubled and we will be obliged to reënact the play all over again.

Some day, let us hope, we will find the cause of this disease. Then, and then only, will we be able to plan for a specific remedy.

ADDICTED TO BOTTLE.

G. R. S. writes: My 2 year old daughter still loves her bottle at bedtime. During the day she drinks from a cup. How can I break her of this habit?

REPLY.

By all means wean her away from the bottle. Tell her that only tiny babies require a nipple. She is a big girl now.

DILATED VEIN.

G. H. writes: What causes an enlarged vein on the eyeball?

REPLY.

Irritation, conjunctivitis, injury, or any condition leading to congestion. A growth termed "pterygium" may contain numerous dilated vessels and give this appearance.

BATH AFTER EATING.

Mrs. R. M. writes: Do you think it is harmful to bathe a 10 month old baby directly after supper?

REPLY.

Not if you will guard the tot against the slightest chill.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, The Tribune.

A BRITISH SUBJECT TO AMERICAN CITIZENS.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 8.—We in Canada wish the United States all the luck that can be, and should be yours—also hope that the friendship between the two countries will long continue.

You are doing wonderful work in all lines—one of the allies—yes, indeed, but would the States be in the war now had it not been for Japan? It certainly did not look like it. You were making and working for us, true, while England was protecting your shores and ours, with her ships and armies scattered everywhere.

You seem so afraid to give praise to others, so it seems to us—afraid your work will not be recognized. You are already starting to boast—your great fault.

You came into the last war at the end—thank God you did, you did a grand bit of fighting—but it, the war, was won by all the allies.

You have only come into the great mixup in the last few weeks, and already crowing as to what you have done and going to do. Every one hopes and prays God will help you, yes indeed—and England, Canada, Australia, China, etc., will see you get all the praise that is coming to you. Stop boasting in all you do. Let others do it for you.

One day I listened in to the radio—first to one station, then another. "We have the best in the world." "No one can touch us in it." I think Canada and England, or in other words the British empire, will have to start bragging. You hurt yourselves by overdoing it. You mean well, but it does look so bad. Good luck and may your armies, one and all, have angels on each side of them to help and encourage. A British Subject.

EDUCATIONAL QUALITY OF TRIBUNE MAPS.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Outside of the great educational advantages in our vast military effort, the greatest single contribution to education in this country are the beautiful and accurate maps The Tribune gives to its readers.

Before Pearl Harbor the only Midway a lot of people knew was the Midway on Chicago's south side, and Solomon to them was only a biblical character or a merchant on Maxwell street. They were hopelessly ignorant of the locale of the Dodecanese, Polynesia, the Aleutians, and of practically all of southeast Asia, where orchids grow wild and from which we get most of such common products as rubber, tin, and quinine.

It is different now. Pick any point on this globe whose name is pronounceable and practically all of the group you are addressing can follow you with a comprehensive knowledge of the geography involved. No factor has done more to bring about this educational improvement than The Tribune's inimitable map service. Edwin Locke.

WHY KANSAS REPUDIATED THE NEW DEALERS.

Wichita, Kas., Nov. 10.—A strong influence in this district for the Republican landslide was the resentment against the despotic and grossly unjust regulations placed upon our people by Leon Henderson. The farmers of Kansas were made angry by the freezing of prices on farm products below the cost of production, while farm labor had been attracted to defense industries by wages which were three times what they had been receiving.

There was strong resentment also at restriction of the uses of fuel oil in the center of a rich oil district with three refineries. But the strongest resentment has been that of Wichita property owners, whose contracts and agreements with tenants have most unjustly been canceled by Henderson, thereby reducing the legitimate income of many thousands of people. An expensive lawsuit was instituted, our senators and representatives at Washington were appealed to, and full information of the injustice given to those champions of the people, commentators at Washington, but all to no avail. The war effort has in no way been benefitted by these harsh regulations, administered at a cost of hundreds of millions of dollars of taxpayers' money. The claim is made that the cost of living has thereby been kept down 10 per cent as compared to the same period in the last war. If so, this was selling our liberties for a mess of pottage. Leon Henderson should be removed! Henry Ware Allen.

HORSE OF ANOTHER COLOR.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—I wonder what would have happened to Sen. Brooks if he had the nerve to accept a swimming pool in the name of friendship, as Sen. Happy Chandler did. Do you think he would have been whitewashed by the WPB as Happy was? O, no. The purge brigade would really have had their hooks in him, crying for his defeat, instead of dragging out the old wornout isolationist bunk. Anyhow, no matter how many baths Happy has in his friendship pool, he will still look a little dirty to a lot of voters who would like to see clean Americans in the senate. Al Martin.

RATIONED PUFFS FOR LEON.

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 11.—Let's ration Leon Henderson to one big, fat cigar every five weeks. There are 35 or 40 puffs in each cigar. That should match up with our coffee ration, and he could have a taste of his own medicine. F. D. Barnes.

THE OCD UNDER MR. KELLY.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—The OCD has cost Chicago $372,000 for 1942. How come? The block captains get 50 cents or more for a box of sand from each resident, and $1 each to print each soldier's name under the roll of honor in each block. This is disgraceful, as any soldier is well entitled to be so honored without charge. Besides, one neat bulletin cabinet is enough for each block, instead of two or more with other gaudy trimmings.

I am sure the people would have taken care of this nicely if the Kelly politicians had kept out of it, with their money grabbing show-off ideas, which aren't patriotism. Z. Newman.

POSTELECTION SUMMARY.

Berwyn, Ill., Nov. 10.—Well, it appears that there are upward of half a million "unpatriotic, un-American" voters in the state of Illinois. From all appearances, many of these citizens have sons, husbands, fathers, or other relatives in the service. I, for one, have a son and nephew serving, and my application was filed last week.

Edwin C. Reynolds, M. D.,
World War No. 1.

COURTEOUS TREATMENT OF CADETS

Chicago, Nov. 10.—A word of praise for Comm. Carl G. Olson and staff. My recent enlistment in the navy air corps was a pleasurable event. I was greatly impressed by the individual consideration given to each applicant. The courtesies and attention given us by each department are certainly an inspiration to the new cadet. N. E. Owens.

DIVORCE DECREE.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Will a person who has legal residence in Illinois and who divorces her husband on grounds of desertion receive a final decree immediately? 2. Will every state in the Union recognize a final decree for immediate remarriage? E. G.

1. No, in the sense that the court proceedings will occupy some time. Yes, in the sense that as soon as the court decree is entered it will be final. We have no provision for an interlocutory decree of the type entered in California. 2. If the facts are such that the court entering the decree has jurisdiction, then other states can be expected to recognize the decree. We suggest that you have a personal interview with an attorney.

Test Your Horse Sense

By Dr. George W. Crane

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 38.

1. Which one of these words is inappropriate in this general grouping?
   Jetty Junk Frigate Sloop.
2. A niblick should make one think of which article of clothing?
   Football Sweater Slacks Trunks Hip Boots.
3. The familiar statement that "the game's on ice" indicates Defeat Victory Ice Hockey Speed Skating.
4. A housewife often uses her teeth to assist her when she is Washing Dishes Making Beds Baking Pies Washing Windows.
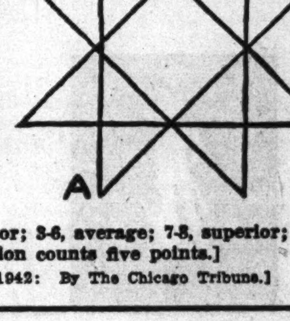
5. What should you expect to see in a hothouse?
   Plants Bread Molten Iron Crude Oil.
6. Place a penny on point "A" below; then slide it along to "B" and leave it there. Now take additional pennies, one at a time. Lay each one upon an unoccupied point of the drawing and push it along a straight line to an unoccupied point on the far side of the drawing, just as you did with your penny that moved from "A" to "B." You deserve full credit if you can thus dispose of seven pennies. This makes a good party game.



Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

Everybody top that 10% by New Years

Your money is the greatest raw material of war. From it come planes, tanks, guns, ships, food—all the things that will enable our boys to bring this plague to the speediest possible end.

Pass the ammunition . . .

. . . to destroy the power of enemies who practice treachery, believe in slavery, tear down religion and strike at the vitals of the government of free peoples.

. . . to blast an enemy who lures our soldiers to death under a flag of truce.

. . . to stop a foe who razed Rotterdam and Warsaw and Shanghai and Lidice as "lessons to the people" . . . and would raze your town to blackened ruins, too.

. . . to ring the tyrants with bombs and bullets, with torpedoes and mines, with an avenging hail of metal.

. . . to get this terrible struggle over quickly and bring our soldier sons home sooner.

. . . to preserve for ourselves and our children a free America in a free world where the sea and the air are arteries of commerce, not combat.

This ammunition—money from all of us for bond purchases—is needed NOW. That is the reason for the Victory Quota drive until New Year's Day.

Twenty-two million Americans are loaning their money by purchases of War Bonds through payroll savings plans. They are buying up to 8% of their income.

But it takes thirty million people buying at least 10% to win this war.

Pass the ammunition. Your money is ammunition now. Pass it so that you can go on praising the Lord in freedom. Pass it so that your children and your children's children will praise the Lord that you made the sacrifice.

ALUMINUM COMPANY OF AMERICA

ALCOA

This advertisement is dedicated to all those loyal Americans, including our own employes, who are working together unselfishly in the great common cause for Victory.

How to do it Today

In this crusade, one thing that counts is REGULARITY. We must all pledge ourselves to buy bonds every payday or every month. The only way to make sure of this is to buy the bonds BEFORE we do anything else with our income.

You fall into one or the other of these classifications:

1. If you are employed where there is a Payroll Savings Plan—sign up today. Merely tell the paymaster or treasurer of your company to deduct 10% or more from your salary or wages for War Bonds. One extra advantage of this plan is that, in case of loss or damage to your bonds, your company's records will help you to have the bonds replaced by the Government.
2. If you are employed where there is no Payroll Savings Plan; if you are in business for yourself; if you are a professional man or woman; or if you work anywhere or have your income from some source other than salary or wages—enroll today in the U. S. Treasury's Regular Purchase Plan. You will get a reminder, and a self-addressed envelope for your remittance, at whatever regular intervals you specify. Among the many places you can enroll are your bank, your Savings and Loan Association, your department store. You can even write direct to the Treasurer of the United States in Washington.

★ ★ ★

If you want more information about War Savings Bonds, write to the War Savings Staff, Treasury Department, Washington, D.C., or call your local War Savings Staff office (listed in your telephone book under "U.S. Government Offices—Treasury Department.")

How To Buy Your Tomorrow Today

Far-sighted people who buy War Bonds today will have the money tomorrow with which to buy the products of industry's Imagineering*: the revolutionary new automobiles; the new comfortable homes; the labor-saving household appliances; the new and improved aluminum cooking utensils; the television radios and all the flood of other things that war-sharpened inventiveness will throw open to us.

Right now Alcoa's Imagineering is devoted to producing aluminum that will help American planes fly faster, farther and higher than anything the enemy possesses . . . but the marvelous production of aluminum for war (nearly 7 times that of peacetime America) and the four war-time price reductions on aluminum, are among the things which are helping designers, architects, engineers to do the Imagineering that will make many of these things possible.

The pent-up demand for all these things will create the post-war market that will make jobs for our boys when they come home. The money which you and millions of other Americans are putting into War Bonds will then become the cash-in-pocket with which to buy the things everyone will want in peace.

War Savings Bonds are backed by the U. S. Government. They are the safest place you can put your money. A War Bond is a Government Savings Account that pays you interest. Buy War Bonds regularly to save for the things you will want tomorrow. Buy Your Tomorrow Today.

Imagineering:* a word coined by Alcoa from imagination and engineering: the art of planning today the things you will want tomorrow.

BUDGET MAKERS FACE OLD WOES; FEW SOFT SPOTS

County Deficit Increases 2 Million This Year.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

When the makers of Cook county's budget sit down to work—and this will be soon—in an effort to balance 1943 revenues and appropriations, they will find few soft spots and few department heads who will recommend any cuts in their forces or expenses.

The county in the present year spent more than 20 million dollars and increased its deficit by more than 2 millions. The same spending in 1943 would give a red ink figure of about 8 millions.

One of the troubles that besets the county board of commissioners is the ambitious program of social service rendered to the indigent. The County hospital, the Oak Forest infirmary, the Juvenile court, and the other agencies handling charity and various forms of aid have costs that far exceed the actual receipts from taxes levied by the county government—nearly 9 millions against 7 millions.

Juvenile Expenses Cited.

As an example, the placing of children in foster homes by the Juvenile court called for $375,000 in 1942. Parents are supposed to pay the board of these unfortunates, but when they cannot be found the county makes good on the bills. A county building veteran recalled yesterday that this work started in the predepression days and assurances were expressed that there would never be any increase in the modest $25,000 demanded then.

The commissioners have expressed the opinion that substantial savings can be made in costs at County hospital and perhaps at Oak Forest, due to lessened requests for assistance.

As for the county offices, which must be supported, after exhaustion of the tax income, by the fees collected and by penalties on delinquent taxes, their heads face a difficult situation. Several were frank enough to say that the quality of workers is not so good nowadays, with the army taking many men.

Say Service Will Suffer.

Another factor that weighs with these elected executives is that if they recommend cuts in their forces the morals of workers is lowered. They say they can "get along" after a fashion with reduced personnel, but that service will be worse.

John E. Conroy, clerk of the Circuit court, said he could not do a good job with less than his present force; that he had established new vaults in the Criminal Courts building and was handling more suits filed than in previous years. Sixteen of his 92 employés are working in the Juvenile court, which pays no revenue towards the receipts of the clerk's office, which are nearly $300,000 for 1942.

COMMUNITY FUND DRIVE PASSES 71 PER CENT MARK

The Community Fund campaign has reached a total of $2,644,182, or 71 per cent of its goal, Charles Y. Freeman, general chairman announced yesterday.

The largest gift reported was $32,022 from executives and employés of Armour and Company. Added to the $30,000 from the company, this brought the total Armour donation to $68,022.

Other contributions announced were $4,212.90 from the Crowe Name Plate and Manufacturing company, and its employés, $3,000 from the Chicago Daily Times, $2,713 from Maurice L. Rothchild company, $2,164 from Warner Brothers Circuit Management corporation, $1,688 from Cherry Burrell corporation, $1,507 from Londberg Engineering company, $1,350 from National Biscuit company, $1,263 from Midland Machine corporation, $1,201 from Otis Elevator company, $1,183 from Reliance Manufacturing company, $1,063 from Englander company, $914 from Mercantile Bank of Chicago, and $833 from Gordon Baking company.

Plead Guilty

[TRIBUNE Photos.]
Edward Walsh. Walter Wagner.

Two suspended policemen pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Rudolph F. Desort in the Criminal court on charges of conspiracy to extort money from tavern owners, then pleaded for probation.

The two are Walter Wagner, 50 years old, with 18 years' service in the police department, and Edward Walsh, 43, with 15 years' service. Both were last assigned to the Summerdale avenue station.

When their case was called Wagner denied guilt and demanded a jury trial, while Walsh offered to take a bench trial on a not guilty plea. Later, however, both changed their pleas, and the testimony against them was stipulated by their lawyer, George M. Crane, and Assistant State's Attorney David Aaron. Next Crane applied for probation for Walsh and Wagner. Judge Desort said he will rule on the application Dec. 2.

Walsh and Wagner were arrested two months ago by fellow policemen after they had taken $5 from Nick Gasperowicz in his tavern at 3959 South Kedzie avenue on trumped up charges that he had sold liquor to a minor. The pair were immediately suspended.

TRIBUNE WRITER IN BRITAIN IS ON W-G-N TONIGHT

Seymour Korman, Chicago Tribune war correspondent stationed in Great Britain, will be heard on the Overseas Report from W-G-N and the coast to coast Mutual Broadcasting system from 8:45 to 9 o'clock tonight. Korman will share this period with Leslie Nichols, who will report by short wave from Cairo on the progress of the battle for North Africa.

Mindful of all the interest in North Africa at the moment, the producers of the Maid of America program at 9:30 tonight on W-G-N will broadcast incidents from the war between the United States and the Barbary pirates off Tripoli in 1803-'04. This program each week recreates great moments in American history.

Two broadcasters who went along with the American Expeditionary Forces into North Africa have been coming thru almost every evening on the World Today on CBS at 5:15 and News of the World on NBC at 6:15 p. m. Charles Collingwood represents CBS; John McVain, NBC. They have been using the short wave station at Algiers to relay their reports to the United States. Reception has not been of the best. Maj. Gen. Mark Clark was scheduled to speak Tuesday at 5:45 p. m., but when the hour came New York was unable to contact Algiers.

A Christmas gift for service men: On Dec. 25 forty top dance bands of the nation will visit that many army, navy, and marine stations and present three hour programs for the men stationed there. JARECKI ORDERS PROSECUTION OF 22 IN VOTE FRAUD

Halts Hearing on Finding Mayor's Name Forged.

Steps were taken by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday to put a stop to the forging of political nominating petitions by thugs of the Kelly-Nash Democratic machine in the back rooms of the river wards.

When it was brought out that the name of Mayor Kelly had been fraudulently written on the John R. Philp petition in last April's primary the court stopped further hearing on the document, in which all but 30 of 5,200 signatures are alleged to be forgeries.

Can Charge Forgery.

"You're going to file informations against these men tomorrow morning," the court said, indicating 22 Kelly-Nash precinct captains in the 42d ward who have been under inquiry as alleged makers of the fake petition. He addressed his order to Assistant State's Attorney Nathan Kinnally and John Cashen, attorney for the election board, who had been conducting the hearing.

It then developed that charges which may be recommended by the two prosecutors include forgery, carrying with it a sentence of 1 to 14 years; perjury, carrying a term of 1 to 5 years; or falsifying the petition, calling for a sentence of up to a year in jail, $2,000 fine, and disfranchisement as a voter for five years.

If the 22 Kelly-Nash captains are charged with falsifying the petition, a misdemeanor, and convicted, they would be barred by law from holding either an elective or appointive public post for five years. This admittedly would be a heavy blow to them, for all are employed in public jobs by the sheriff, county recorder, county highway department, County hospital, Municipal court clerk's and bailiff's office, and others.

See Conviction Difficult.

A final misdemeanor charge, not so severe, which might be brought, would be simply one of violation of the Illinois primary law. This, while it demands only up to $100 fine and up to a year in jail, would admittedly be a charge on which several defendants might be convicted. Neither Kinnally nor Cashen would say what they expect to recommend, but it is well known that convictions in such political cases are hard to obtain.

Judge Jarecki has been sitting in the case as an examining magistrate. He has pointed out that the state has the signatures of all the 22 men under inquiry on their recognizance bonds and that it has proof of similar handwritings on the many pages of the alleged fraudulent petition.

But Mayor Kelly's name was not the only one of a well known personage which had been forged, it developed. While George W. Dunne, 312 Locust street, was on the stand being questioned about his activities with the petition it was shown that the name of Robert J. Dunham, president of the park board, and Police Captain Frank J. Reynolds, 117 West Chicago avenue, also were there. The latter is the captain's station address and not his home.

"You work for the Chicago park district, don't you? And Dunham is your boss, isn't he?" Kinnally asked the dapper Dunne, immaculate and hard on the stand.

Refuses to Answer.

"I refuse to answer on the ground it may incriminate me," Dunne replied, using the stock reply which all of the 18 men examined constantly used.

Judge Jarecki bent over several pages of the petition. "These are all in the same handwriting," he commented. Mayer Goldberg, attorney for the 22 captains, arose.

"Are you accusing some one of writing those?" he inquired. "There is no proceeding here."

And Judge Jarecki arose. "Proceeding?" he replied. "O, yes, there's a proceeding! There are a John Doe and Richard Roe being sought in these proceedings and there's a John Doe sitting right here and his name is Dunne!"

The judge pointed a finger at Dunne. "He's here," he continued, "and he's going to be a defendant in one of these proceedings. There are going to be other proceedings, too. This is not just going to end here!" And he turned to Kinnally and Cashen and ordered the informations filed today.

Joe Doakes Signed.

Before Dunne got off the stand Kinnally showed him the name "Joe Doakes" written in on one of the pages. "Did you write that?" Kinnally asked. Dunne grinned and repeated he refused to incriminate himself.

Closing the hearing, the judge commented:

"We have here a sufficient number of respondents, all public employés who say employment in those offices is incriminating. Every one, when asked where he is employed, has said: 'I refuse to answer because I may incriminate myself.' We shouldn't have men working in public offices who admit they may be incriminating themselves there."

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

STASSEN VISIONS HEMISPHERIC AIR, ROAD SYSTEMS

Sees Inter-Continental Travel After War.

After the war Chicago will be the center of a vast airway and roadway system extending from South America to Alaska, Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota predicted last night in a speech before the Illinois Road Builders' association in the Palmer House.

He asked the road builders to raise their sights to envision a post-war world when motorists will be able to go from Argentina to the Bering sea, and then across by ferry to Asia.

"This will not be accomplished by thumb twiddling and leaf raking policies," he said, "but by real American enterprise."

Stassen Views 1944.

Earlier in the day, at a press conference, Stassen discussed the Republican party's political outlook for 1944, and said the party has many eligible candidates for the Presidency. He listed Wendell Willkie, Thomas E. Dewey, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, and Gov. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts as among the eligibles.

Asked who he favored to become chairman of the Republican national committee Stassen said he hoped an isolationist would not be chosen, but that he would make no recommendation to the committee. He explained that he is going into the navy in April and believed the choice of a chairman was entirely up to the committee.

The one day fall meeting of the road builders was featured by a "war clinic" at which representatives of eight governmental branches outlined work that may be undertaken under war regulations.

Tells of Big Savings.

Earlier Harry W. Loving, head of construction price adjustment in the chief engineer's office of the war department, outlined renegotiation of uncompleted government contracts under a revenue bill passed last April 28. Loving said the step would act as a penalty only on unreasonable or inconsistent contracts.

Loving revealed that renegotiation of contracts had resulted in a rebate of 45 million dollars from one midwestern firm which he refused to name.

Taylor G. Soper, executive secretary of the association, forecast that, unless relief is given to permit contractors to repair other than strategic highways leading to airports or war plants, the Illinois highway system will face complete deterioration within the next few years.

HUNT MICHIGAN HANDY MAN IN WOMAN KILLING

Cassopolis, Mich., Nov. 18 (AP).—A killer who fatally shot an elderly woman in her cottage last night and fled with $400 in cash after tying up her husband was sought today by the police of Michigan and Indiana.

The robber's victim was Mrs. Nora Shicks, 63 years old, who, with her husband, Carl, also 63, operates a tavern at Christiana lake, a resort area 15 miles southwest of here. She was shot in the chest with a shotgun about 10:30 p. m.

Asa K. Hayden, Cass county prosecutor, obtained a warrant this morning charging 42 year old Max Pushkin, a handy man who had worked for the Shicks about three months, with murder. Sheriff Duane Remus said Pushkin had been missing since the killing.

CROSS REVEALS PLOTS TO WRECK RAILROAD TRAINS

Acting Governor Warns of Sabotage Moves.

Paris, Ill., Nov. 18 (AP).—Acting Gov. Hugh W. Cross warned tonight of the danger of sabotage and declared that three attempts to wreck railroad trains had been made in Illinois and an adjoining state within the last few weeks.

Warns of Sabotage.

In a speech at the annual convention of the Illinois Anti-thief association, Cross said that "so far, saboteurs have confined their activities in Illinois and a nearby state largely to the attempted destruction of transportation facilities." Cross is serving as acting governor while Gov. Green is vacationing at Daytona Beach, Fla.

"Within the last few weeks," Cross said, "three deliberate attempts were made to wreck railroad trains. One of them took place right down in my own section of the state [near Jerseyville], where they tried to wreck a fast passenger train. The engine was derailed and it rolled down a 15 foot embankment.

"While investigating authorities have requested that details be withheld, it has been definitely established that this was a deliberate attempt at sabotage.

Dynamite on Tracks.

"Two other attempts were made to wreck trains in an adjoining state. In one instance, 12 charges of dynamite were placed along the track and were set off just as a Diesel engined train passed over it."

Arthur H. Crowl, special agent in charge of the Springfield FBI office, has announced that federal agents are investigating the "possibility" of sabotage in the wrecking of an Alton railroad train last month near Alton.

HERE ARE THE THINGS SERVICE MEN WANT

One you may never have thought of . . .

• You can't send service men even the small personal gifts you ordinarily gave. And bigger things take up too much space; soldiers and sailors have to "travel light." But their letters ask the "folks back home" for these: cigarettes, home-made cake, pen and pencil with clips; wallets with insignia. And it's amazing how many ask for Noxzema. Here's why:

Men in the service are out in all kinds of weather. They get windburned, sunburned, chafed. Feet get sore, hands chapped; shaving in cold water becomes a major problem. They want Noxzema because this one jar, that takes so little space, brings such quick relief these 5 ways:

1. SHAVING IRRITATION. Noxzema softens tough beard, helps protect sensitive skin, even when shaving with cold water. It's a grand brushless shave, too; can be used without water.
2. TIRED, BURNING FEET. A little Noxzema rubbed in after a day's march brings wonderful relief; it's greaseless; won't stain socks or bed clothes.
3. PAINFUL CHAFING. Rough work clothes often bring on chafed spots; Noxzema gives quick, soothing relief, helps promote quicker healing.
4. SUNBURN AND WINDBURN. Noxzema cools, soothes, relieves badly sunburned and windburned skin.
5. CHAPPED HANDS, FACE, LIPS. Noxzema is medicated; it helps heal the tiny cuts in rough, chapped skin.

Give some man in the service a treat he'll thank you for! Get a jar of Noxzema at any drug store and include it in your next package.

SPECIAL OFFER! For a limited time, you can get the big 75¢ jar of Noxzema for only 49¢ (plus tax). Don't miss this offer.

Hitler's Railroad Crisis

Reader's Digest reports neglect of railroads may be vital factor in breakdown of German war machine

"The German economic high command has recently made an unprecedented decision—allocation of raw materials, factory space, and manpower for the repair and construction of locomotives is to have priority rating as high as tanks, airplanes and U-boats."

From "Hitler's Vulnerable Spot—Railroads," in November Reader's Digest, cabled from London by Allan A. Michie.

Hitler gambled on superhighways and a motorized Germany to provide most of the mass land transportation, military and civilian, necessary to fight this war.

Those superhighways are now largely deserted because his far-flung army swallows all rubber, oil and gasoline.

He starved Germany's railroads. He banked on a short blitzkrieg war and stolen equipment to keep them running.

He guessed wrong on that one, too.

"The (German) railroads," says Reader's Digest, "are forced to struggle with the Nation's entire traffic, which increased 63% in 1940, 76% in 1941, and is now even higher."[1]

"Transportation men in Sweden . . . are astonished at the dilapidated condition of cars arriving by train ferry from Denmark . . ."[1]

"Neutral estimates agree that . . . one-third of Germany's locomotives are laid up for repairs."[1]

"The German Reich Minister of Economics recently admitted that transport had become the central problem of the whole German war effort."[1]

Now Let's Look At Our Own Railroad Picture

Pearl Harbor found America's railroads, in spite of lean years, ready to go at the drop of the hat.

They had worked out a plan of unified war operation. They had the men, the know-how, and the equipment to put that plan into instant effect.

For a full year of war—with the cooperation of government agencies and civilian shippers and travelers—our railroads have handled successfully the greatest traffic load in all history.

So far, so good.

But What of the Future?

Such a record has its price.

That price is immense strain on all physical plant, especially in the ceaseless pounding of trackage, cars and locomotives.

We, too, shall face a transport crisis—unless materials are available for repairs, maintenance and replacements to match this growing wear and tear.

Supreme Test Still to Come

No man knows what our traffic peak will be, or when it will come.

We do know the load increases daily.

We do know there is a limit to the performance that can be squeezed out of existing equipment.

Keep 'Em Rollin'—or Else

No nation that does not possess efficient mass transportation can hope to win a modern war. In America that mass transportation job is squarely up to her railroads. If they fail, we lose.

To meet this tremendous responsibility, we ask for every possible consideration in the allocation of materials for vitally essential repairs, maintenance and new equipment.

DR. BEN REITMAN WILLS $250 MEAL TO HOBO FRIENDS

Unique Document Pays Tribute to Mother.

Dr. Ben Reitman, founder of a hobo college and former associate of Emma Goldman in anarchism, who died Monday, wanted his funeral to be a "happy good time" for his hobo friends, his will, filed in Probate court yesterday, disclosed.

The will requests that $500 be spent for his funeral, with $250 going to the undertaker, "and a like sum for food and drink for hoboes and unemployed who will be invited by my son to a funeral dinner. I should like the service to be in a big hall with food, drink, and fun, and a happy good time for all."

Funeral Services Today.

Funeral services for Dr. Reitman are to be held at 1:30 p. m. today in the chapel at 7726 South Ashland avenue. The son, Lieut. Benjamin M. Reitman, is now with the army air force ferry command.

Three wills were found, the latest dated Oct. 16, 1936. In it, Dr. Reitman said: "I wish to testify that life has been good, all of it. I enjoyed my childhood. I have had a wonderful mother, who let me live my life in my own way and who stood by me in everything I did, when I was arrested, when I became an anarchist, and when I did many other things she did not like.

Pays Tribute to Son's Mother.

"I want to state also that I had the most wonderful lover, companion, and wife in Anna Martindale Reitman [Dr. Reitman's first wife, who died in 1930]. She gave me her loyalty, devotion, and coöperation that were constant and beautiful, and she gave me a son of joy and passion, a planned son, not an accident."

To his widow, Mrs. Rose Siegal Reitman, 310 Riverside drive, New York, Dr. Reitman bequeathed an oil painting called "The Lovers," and an autographed photo of Walt Whitman.

Dr. Reitman left his home at 6826 Bishop street to his son, Benjamin, referred to parenthetically in the will as "Brutus," and the furnishings to his mother, Ida. The will says Dr. Reitman's son, the testator's mother, and one daughter, Helen, known as Jan Gay, are beneficiaries of insurance policies of "ample provision." The remainder of the estate is left to the son.

Son Named Executor.

"All my life I've been a radical and revolutionist," Dr. Reitman wrote in the will, "and have been interested in the anarchist, socialist, communist, I. W. W., and hobo movements. I ask my son to make a liberal contribution to organizations fostering these movements. I hereby acknowledge parentage of Mecca, the unborn child of Medina Oliver, and ask Brutus [Benjamin] to provide liberally for its support as he deems necessary."

Benjamin is named executor and Dr. Herbert A. Blumer of the University of Chicago sociology department, co-executor.

Frank Lyman, Probate court clerk, received a telegram from Mrs. Rose Siegel Reitman saying that she was Dr. Reitman's "only legal wife" and requesting that all legal proceedings of the will be postponed until she arrived in Chicago.

Traffic Charge Against Woman Driver Dropped

LAST ARBUCKLE HEIR DIES; VAST FUND TO CHARITY

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 18 (AP).—Miss Margaret A. Jamison, last surviving heir of the Arbuckle coffee fortune, died tonight in her farm home in New York. She was about 72 years old.

She was a granddaughter of Thomas Arbuckle, founder of the fortune, which was appraised here in 1937 at $40,000,000.

Most of the money is expected to go to charity thru the Arbuckle-Jamison Foundation, established by her sister, Martha A. Jamison, who died in 1941.

Martha's will left her share of the estate to Margaret with the provision that at the sister's death it was to go to the foundation.

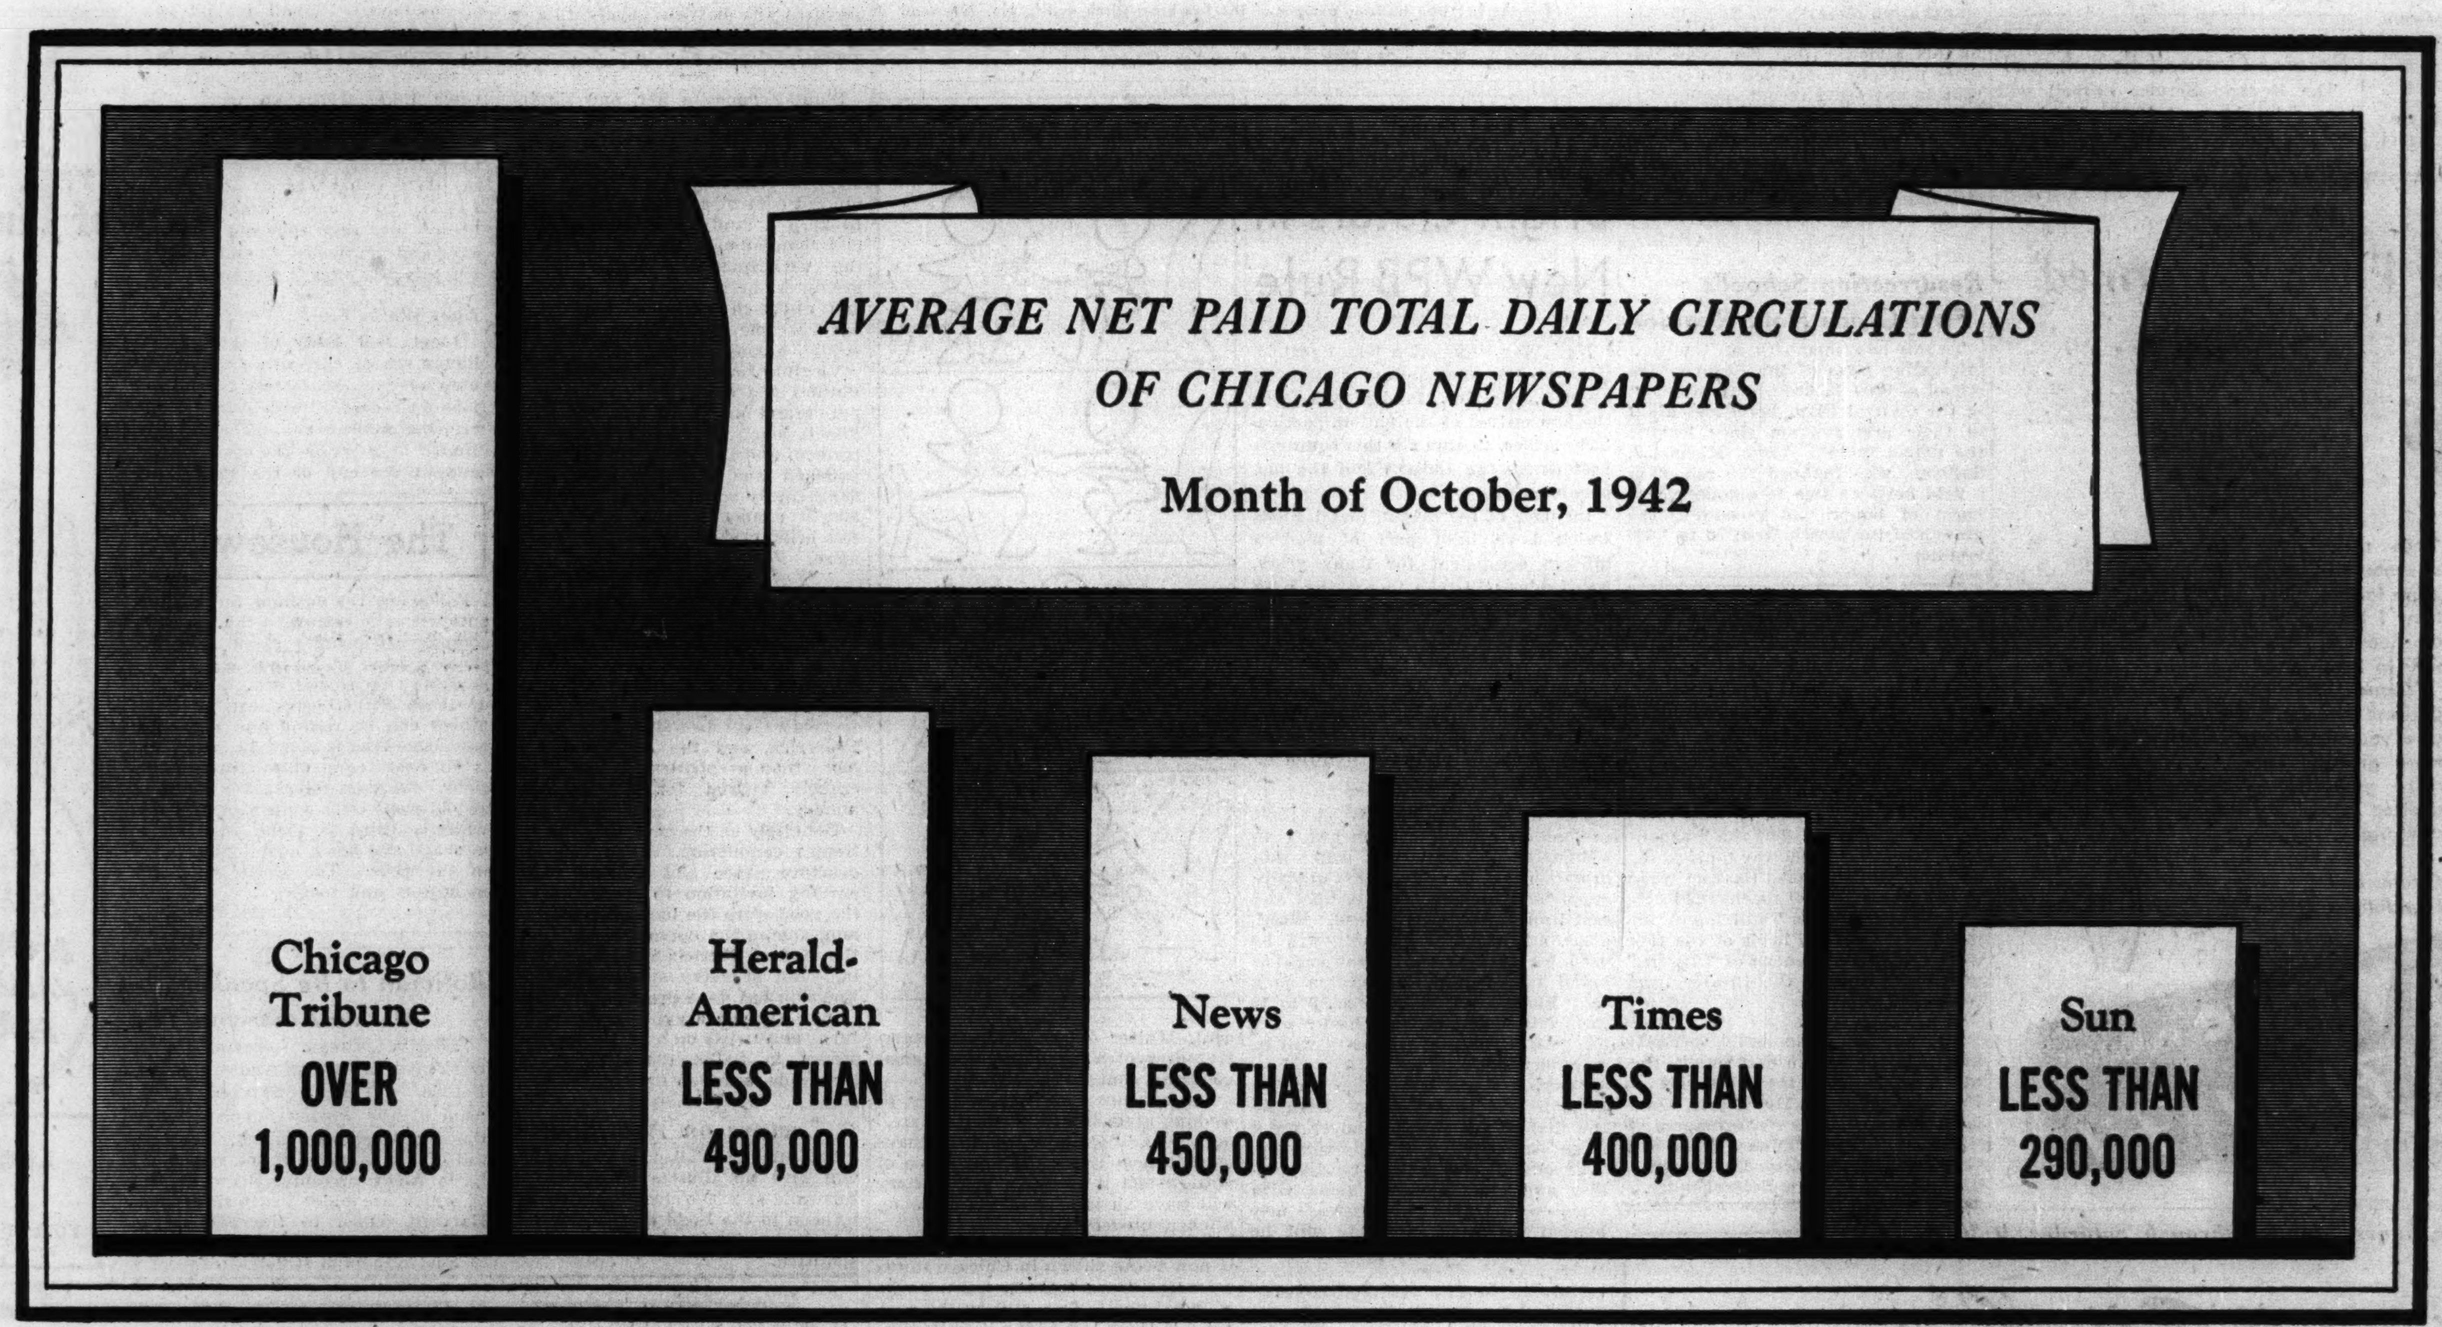
More than Twice the Daily circulation of any other Chicago newspaper

...and more than any 2 other Chicago daily newspapers COMBINED!



Averaging over 1,000,000 net paid, Chicago Tribune total daily circulation during October was more than double that of any other Chicago daily newspaper—and more than any two other Chicago daily newspapers combined.

EACH DAY the people of Chicago and the midwest have an opportunity to decide which Chicago newspaper best serves their interests. Their verdict is shown in the chart above.

It provides graphic proof that readers look to the Tribune as the Chicago newspaper on which they can rely for the news. It makes plain how readers value the service which the Tribune delivers.

Because it produces a newspaper so informative and interesting to people in all walks of life, the Tribune is the one Chicago newspaper which delivers the equivalent of majority coverage of all the families in Chicago and suburbs.

During the past ten years Tribune daily circulation increased by 32%. Sunday Tribune circulation in the same period gained 49%. The Tribune's lead in daily circulation over the second Chicago newspaper increased from 81% in 1932 to 109% in 1942. In 1932 another Chicago newspaper led the Tribune in Sunday circulation by 3%. In 1942 the Sunday Tribune led the second Chicago Sunday newspaper by 37%.

Because the Tribune delivers a better value to readers, it is able to deliver a better value to advertisers. That they recognize this fact is shown by the Tribune's mounting leadership in total volume of advertising.

During the first ten months of this year, the Tribune's lead over the next Chicago newspaper in total volume of advertising linage amounted to 81.5%—the largest percentage of lead in history.

Further underscoring the Tribune's position is the fact that during the same period advertisers placed in the Tribune 48% of their total expenditures in Chicago newspapers—or practically as much as they placed in all other Chicago newspapers combined.

To get maximum returns from your promotion funds in the Chicago market, build your program around the Tribune. Rates per 100,000 circulation are among the lowest in America.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Answer to a Maiden's Prayer.

The white collar girl, who penned a plea to this column for suggestions for Christmas gifts that her company could send to service men, might be interested in the questionnaire filled out by men at the defense recreational headquarters in New York City, reported in Commerce magazine.

Well—here 'tis: Sailors like, best of all, a waterproof wristwatch. ["Swell" was the rating by 89.7 per cent — "swell," "fair," and "junk" were the three columns into which the service men were asked to place the gift suggestions.]

Soldiers also rated the wristwatch as "swell." A small portable radio ranked second with the sailors and third with the soldiers [soldiers rated cigarets as first and wristwatches as second]. Pen and pencil sets—"the kind with clips at the top" came high on the list. Stationery is appreciated; a leather wallet with "proper insignia on it" came well near the top. "Homemade cookies, cakes, jams, and prepared packages of food; socks, completely fitted sewing kits and windproof cigaret lighters" were not hard to take! Sailors like photographs better than soldiers [4th place with the sea faring boys; 12th place with the army]. Soldiers like extra shirts better than sailors; both want good regulation socks. Sailors were undecided between cigarets and overnight bags for 5th place.

And, says the article, "here's one that's hard to explain. More than 58 per cent of the boys in blue said a pocket sized bible would be swell to have, comparing with 49.5 per cent for the soldiers."

Diaries were listed by 48 per cent of the soldiers and 42 per cent of the sailors as "junk."

Merry Christmas to All.

Perhaps this is as good a time as any to make known the fact [rushed by pony express from the greeting card industry] that "Christmas card creations not only take into account the WAACs, the WAVES, and the army and navy nurses but all the volunteer workers as well—"the air raid wardens and spotters, members of the Red Cross, the OCD and the AWVS, the ferry pilots and women in industry"—or, as Tiny Tim said, "God bless us every one."

Cause and Effect.

Doubtless it was purely a coincidence that paragraphs anent the subject of a man and wife in business together should be written on stationery inscribed "Cause and Effect."

"A man and woman enter business life together the minute they become husband and wife," says the letter to this column, "for certainly building a home and family is, or should be, very much of a business—personal and private if you like, but a business nevertheless. So, when a wife takes a place beside her husband in his money making business world it is just a continuation of their business of home and family. However, to be successful, a husband and wife team in the money making business world must be as sympathetic as is their home making business. Otherwise the wife would better stick to the home building world or select a 'boss' other than her husband!"

Individual Differences.

"There are so many individual differences among women that no one criterion, such as age, should be a rigid determining factor in hiring"—from the Journal of the National Association of Deans of Women.

Business Men Win Applause as Musicians

Concert by the Chicago Business Men's orchestra, George Dasch, director; Maria Kurenko, soprano, soloist. Presented at Orchestra hall Wednesday evening, Nov. 18, 1942. The program:

Overture, "The Merry Wives of Windsor" .... Nicolai
Symphony No. 5, C minor ...... Beethoven
[a] Aria of Constanza from "The Abduction from the Harem" .... Mozart
[b] Aria from "Manon" .... Massenet
Mme. Kurenko.
Waltz, "Tales from the Vienna Woods" .... Strauss
American Fantasy .... Herbert

In these hectic days it is pleasant to discover that busy people can find the time to practice "nonessential" hobbies with all the spirit and gusto of prewar days. The Chicago Business Men's orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Dasch, offered a good sample of such a spirit last evening and added the perfect extra touch by presenting Mme. Maria Kurenko as soloist.

Spirit and gusto are not always unmixed blessings; at least they cannot take the place of careful balance and inner understanding of musical scores. However, the orchestral portion of the program came off creditably, if not always perfectly. The members of the orchestra are obviously eager and ardent in the pursuit of their second calling and they deserve much approbation for their contribution to Chicago concert life. There were moments in the Beethoven fifth when there was danger of a dead level performance thru rhythmic inertia, but for the most part the job was well done.

Mme. Kurenko sang the aria of Constanza from Mozart's "Il Seraglio" in her usual impeccable style. It seemed to this reviewer that her voice was more perfectly controlled and colored than in any other recent singing that she has done. Her Manon aria was just as beautifully conceived as the Mozart from the artistic standpoint. Artistic integrity and musical understanding such as Mme. Kurenko possesses are rare in these later days.

Resurrection School's First Grads Hold Reunion

Twenty-two members of the first graduating class of the Resurrection school at 5000 Jackson boulevard met in the Central Plaza hotel last night in their first reunion since leaving the school in 1913. Msgr. Michael J. Sullivan, who founded the school in a field between two farmhouses, was guest of honor and recounted the growth of the parish from 50 to 1,000 families.

Stage Notes

"The Merry Widow," Franz Lehar's popular operetta, will open at the Selwyn theater on Dec. 27, as predicted in this column two days ago. Altho no prima donna is mentioned in the official release from the theater, Muriel Angelus has been appearing as the Widow in the east. Unless there is truth to a rumor that she is sought for a projected Broadway musical she probably will still head the cast when the Shuberts' revival reaches Chicago. "The Merry Widow" will follow immediately upon the heels of the four week return engagement of "Claudia," which will occupy the theater from Nov. 29 to Dec. 26.

The Austin Theater guild, formerly known as the Austin Community theater, moves from the west side to Forester's theater, 1100 North Dearborn street, to give performances of "Stage Door," by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman, on Dec. 5 and 6. The director is John Bettenbender.

Kitchens to Lose Bright Colors in New WPB Rule

New War Production board restrictions on the manufacture of kitchen utensils, effective Monday, will force the housewives of the nation, particularly brides, to emulate this country's first chefs—the Indians and the pioneer women.

In place of the bright, metal goods which have been part of modern kitchen equipment for many years, war brides will take to cooking with pottery, as the Indians before them, or with some heavy cast iron pieces similar to those used by their grandmothers and great-grandmothers.

This was the consensus of several Chicago kitchenware manufacturers and dealers yesterday in predicting depleted stocks of metal utensils by the first of the year.

The new restrictions, which limit production of metal kitchenware to a handful of items, will bring into prominence pottery and glass utensils, supplemented with some enamel and cast iron pieces, they agreed. Wood, glass, and acetates probably will be used for storage equipment such as bread boxes, canisters, cookie jars, etc. Black steel frying pans, 8 to 12 inches in diameter, and heavy duty black steel roasting pans still will be manufactured.

"Our stocks of aluminum cooking utensils will be greatly depleted by the first of the year," a buyer for a large department store explained. "Already we are selling mostly pottery and glass utensils, along with some enamel pieces. Glassware now banded by metal probably will be rimmed by wood or a plastic."

Melville Moses, representative of one of the country's largest chrome cooking utensil companies, outlined a possible production of roasting pans and soup kettles in enamel, frying pans in steel, small sauce pans in glass and casseroles in ceramics. Kitchen gadgets, such as mashers, canisters, soup dispensers, bins and the like, will go into wood and acetates, he expected.

Cast iron, unless frowned upon because of weight, will be used for large pots and boiling pans, it was anticipated. One company which formerly specialized in aluminum and cast iron cooking devices, now manufacturers cast iron products alone—and only some six or eight pieces out of their former 200 items.

Enamelware still will be available, altho the new order restricts the use of metal in enamelware to 25 per cent, Walter Zitzetwurtz, secretary-treasurer of a large kitchen utensil company, contended.

"It appears that the majority of cooking utensils will be enamelware," he stated. "Quite a few firms have gone in heavily for the production of pottery and it is likely that pottery will have an important place among kitchen utensils."

Bright, attractive kitchen pottery is now being shown in Chicago stores as a Christmas feature, altho stocks of metal utensils are still on the market and the effect of the War Production board edict might not be felt for several months, certain dealers explained.

'Mignon' Sung, but That's Just About the Story

"MIGNON."

Opera in three acts with music by Ambroise Thomas, libretto by Barbier and Carré, based on Goethe's "Wilhelm Meister." Presented in French by the Chicago Opera company at the Civic Opera house Wednesday evening, Nov. 18, 1942.

THE CAST.

Mignon .... Jennie Tourel
Philine .... Virginia Haskins
Frederick .... Elizabeth Wysor
Wilhelm Meister .... Richard Crooks
Lothario .... Virgilio Lazzari
Laertes .... Frank Finn
Giarno .... Edward Stack
Conductor .... Leo Kopp
Stage director .... William Wymetal

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

"Mignon," at best a static opera festooned with pretty tunes, was given a desultory performance at the Civic Opera house last night, its few good points wasted in a desert of dreary incompetence. Two last minute changes of cast complicated its career. Gladys Swarthout's cancellation sent Jennie Tourel, late of the Opera Comique, into the title rôle, and Giuseppe Cavadores' illness put a chorus man into the fat part of Laertes. All this so exhilarated the French prompter that every one in the performance seemed to be haunted by an echo, in some cases slightly more robust than his vocal self.

Miss Tourel is far from a bad Mignon—she simply is not a brilliant one who can dominate a cast and make it glitter. She lacks the sparkle of stardom, the wealth of opulent mezzo necessary for the score and the gamin quality necessary for the story. She is a small, plump routined singer with a soft voice which she uses with a reasonable amount of skill, and a mature manner which obscures the hoyden gayety that is the highlight of Mignon's wistful moods.

Singing opposite her, and singing superbly, was Richard Crooks, as good a Wilhelm Meister as opera could hope to capture. He has elegance of style, a gleaming tenor under magnificent control, and the easy presence to keep a stuffy rôle from seeming less than human. Even singing over the vociferous badgerings of the prompter, he retained the silky line and unflawed purity of tone which have become almost his unique possession among tenors.

Virginia Haskins, the tiny, birdlike Philine, was exquisite in miniature—but grand opera is not miniature. She is lovely to look at, exquisitely trained, and her dainty coloratura is polished and gleaming. But it is dangerously small for the big house, and it cannot hope to capture the full brilliance of the glittering polonaise.

For all his beautiful voice and poetic makeup, Virgilio Lazzari failed to hit his stride as Lothario, the wandering minstrel who turns out to be Mignon's father. And beyond him the cast simply fell apart. Miss Wysor seemed to be rehearsing for truculent Frederick, and the chorus was no more than a spiritless group picturesquely attired for a "Mignon" holiday.

Definitely on the good side was Leo Kopp's conducting, which gave the overture grace and sparkle and a curving invitation to song. Also to the good were the handsome settings long among the opera treasures, and the ease of Patricia Bowman's dancing. But at every appearance, Miss Bowman has done precisely the same thing. Even in a gypsy caravan, she turns and twirls on a pretty toe. She proved in Ballet theater that her technique is not so limited.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY MARCIA WINN

This Changing World.

The managing editor of a Chicago newspaper which has replaced its copy boys with girls told the girls they would have to work late on election night, but advised them not to worry, as he would send them home in cabs. "Just give me your addresses," he said, "and I'll work out a route." All the girls complied except one, and she said politely that he need not bother sending her home as Charles would come by for her. "And who is Charles?" the managing editor asked jovially. "Your boy friend?" "No," the copy girl replied. "He's mother's chauffeur." She was the same girl the sports editor tipped a dime for getting him a cup of coffee.

Exit Nathan Hale.

From the Camp Robinson [Ark.] News we learn that it no longer is fashionable to die for one's country. "Instead," admonishes Corp. Joseph Gale, "make your enemy die for his."

Wine for Ladies.

Army and navy officers lounging at the Officers' club in the Hotel Knickerbocker are having a fine time with a book they found there, Collier's "Encyclopedia of Social and Commercial Information," published in 1870. The chapter on etiquet is especially popular, as it advises gentlemen: "You cannot be too careful to avoid slipping on ladies' dresses when you get in and out of a carriage, and also beware of shutting them in with the door." Gentlemen are admonished never to offer to "assist" their neighbors at dinner to this or that dish. "The word is inexpressibly vulgar," the author says. "'Shall I send you some mutton?' or 'May I help you to canvasback?' is better chosen." From the section on table manners come these words on wine: "If the servants do not go around with wine, the gentlemen should take upon themselves the office of helping those ladies who sit near them. Ladies take more wine in the present day than they did 50 years ago; and gentlemen should remember this and offer it frequently."

Navy Works Fast.

Lieut. Bill Eddy of the Navy's Radar school currently is credited with one of the fastest recruiting jobs on record. He delivered a recruiting message on "The Hoople Hour" over W-G-N the other night, and at the end of the 15 minute program put on his cap and started out the door. As he did so, two breathless applicants dashed in. They had heard the first part of his talk, and wanted to offer their services before the quota was filled.

Adverbs.

War Casualty.

Penguin Pete, the exquisitely dressed penguin who starred with Bob Hope in "My Favorite Blonde," is dead, a casualty of war. His master, Pvt. Ralph T. Luxford, an animal trainer until he joined the army, left him with the curator of the Los Angeles zoo when he went off to war. Not long ago came a wire: "Penguin Pete is dead. He was lost without you. Never saw anything like it. Just pined away, so I buried him best I could."

This is in line with a letter from Edith Thomas in yesterday's mail: "Several times, while driving on a country road near Wheaton, my husband and I have been stopped by an old dog who would bound into the center of the road and stand there, wagging his tail and barking. We have been obliged to come to a full stop to avoid hitting him, and after running around the car, jumping on the running board and smelling the wheels, he has returned to the farmhouse, dejection in every step. We had decided he mistook us for some one else and was disappointed. Today, after the usual performance, we happened to glance at the house. Hanging in the window was a single service star."

The Housewife

Following the fashion for copying antiques in miniature, a famous clock company is making small reproductions of some of the most interesting models of an earlier day. A number of these little clocks are electric; others can be wound and are eight day. One that is about 12 inches tall is an exact copy of a grandfather's clock. Another follows the lines of an old shelf clock with a peaked top, while a third is plain, rectangular in shape and has a quaint picture set in the door. The woods used are mahogany and maple.

LOVELY LINENS for the Holiday Season

More than ever you want sparkling white linens at this season. There's no summer sunshine to help whiten them, but here's a simple, time-tested "recipe":

1. Sprinkle 2 tablespoons Climalene in tub or washer before putting soap in.
2. Add about ⅔ of usual amount of your favorite soap.
3. Use 1 teaspoon Climalene in first rinse water. It helps prevent soap scum.

Invitations Sent Out for Dec. 6 Benefit of Travelers Aid Board

BY JUDITH CASS.

IF THERE is such a thing as a foolproof benefit in this difficult year of 1942 the woman's board of the Travelers' Aid society has found it. The Cardinals-Chicago Bears football game—the finis of the professional season here—which the board is sponsoring on Dec. 6, will appeal to sports fans, and the goal post party to follow in the Red Lacquer room of the Palmer House will provide music and refreshments for those who prefer indoor entertainment. Husbands and beaux will need no urging to purchase tickets, and the wives of those called away from Chicago by wartime duties need have no hesitancy about going unescorted.

Gay invitations designed by Mrs. Paul Butler, who used the theme of a football player descending by parachute onto a turquoise field, are being received today thru the mail. Until the benefit the ticket office at 840 North Michigan avenue, manned by Miss Myrtle Lampert, will be open daily from 9 to 5 o'clock. Box seats are $5 each, reserved seats $2.50, and unreserved seats $1.65.

For the after the game party in the Red Lacquer room, under the supervision of Mrs. Edwin W. Sims Jr., there will be appropriate Victorian decorations, designed by Mrs. Butler. Also assisting Mrs. Sims are Mrs. Charles Cutter, chairman of entertainment; Mrs. John W. Clarke, who will do the tea table; Mrs. Richard D. Culver and Mrs. John Morgan, in charge of door prizes; Miss Lillian Lampert, Mrs. Courtenay Barber, Mrs. Lester Knight, and four members of the senior board, Mrs. Herbert W. Kochs, Mrs. Robert Strauss, Mrs. Irving Florshiem, and Mrs. Ralph Larson, as well as three Travelers Aid volunteers, Mrs. Kendall Lingle, Mrs. O. Horton Kaufman, and Miss Lois Baur.

Mrs. D. Wendell Fentress Chief Chairman of Benefit.

Mrs. D. Wendell Fentress, chairman of the entire benefit, has asked Miss Myrtle Lampert to take over the ticket sales and Miss Charlotte Righeimer and Miss Martha Schueler to handle the programs.

The board will miss the support of several active members. Mrs. George Bates is at Jefferson Barracks with Capt. Bates; Lieut. and Mrs. F. Osborne Elliott are in Gulfport, Miss., and Lieut. and Mrs. Richard D. Vanderwarker are in Norfolk, Va. Mrs. Eugene Mance, who dropped into yesterday's luncheon meeting of the board at the Woman's Athletic club, is leaving today for New Orleans, La., with Lieut. Mance.

Still available to work for the benefit, however, are the wives of Lieut. John Evans Love, who is at Quonsett, R. I.; Ensign L. Gifford Gardner, who is on an island in the Pacific; Capt. Ian Hodge, who is in New Caledonia, and Lieut. Gardiner B. Van Ness Jr., who is in Panama. Two of the board members, Miss Prudence Johnson and Miss Righeimer, themselves are "in the service" as nurses' aids.

Last year the society helped 80,000 travelers, but wartime emergencies have increased this number to almost a million.

Patricia Ruth Harshaw to Be Married Tonight.

Miss Patricia Ruth Harshaw and Ensign John Boylston III. will be married at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the children's chapel of the Winnetka Congregational church, where the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Turner Harshaw of Winnetka, were married 25 years ago. A reception will follow in the Harshaw home.

Arrangements for the wedding were completed suddenly, as no announcement had been made of the young couple's engagement. Ensign Boynston, son of Mrs. John L. Clarkson of Lake Forest, received his commission on Saturday from the naval reserve school at Northwestern university. Miss Harshaw will be attended by her sisters, Martha Jane as maid of honor and Hope as bridesmaid. Lieut. Comm. Clarkson will be his stepson's best man, and ushering will be Ensign Boynston's Williams college roommate, Ensign Paul Lawrence, and Patrick ReQua. Ensign Boynston will take his bride, who is leaving her classes at Northwestern university, on a short trip before they report to his eastern post.

Boyd-Shepard Wedding Takes Place on Dec. 8.

Miss Jane Shepard and Lieut. Kinsley Boyd of the army are to be married on Dec. 8, it was announced yesterday by her mother, Mrs. Seth Shepard of Evanston, formerly of Winnetka. Lieut. Boyd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Henry Boyd of New York, but of Evanston until recently.

The wedding will take place at 4 o'clock in the home of the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Robert C. McNamara, in Winnetka, with the Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard officiating. Miss Jeanne Mitchell will be the maid of honor for Miss Shepard, who is a graduate of Kemper hall. Harold C. Pynchon will give his niece in marriage. Lieut. Boyd, a graduate of Princeton, will take his bride to his army post in Texas. Seth Shepard Jr., who is serving in the coast guard, will not be able to attend the wedding.

The Vocational Society for Shut-Ins and the White Elephant Rummage shop are holding Christmas sales soon. Invitations printed in red showing some of the attractive merchandise that may be found at the Vocational shop, 628 North Michigan, herald that sale, to be held next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Children's toys, gifts for the house, linens, knitting bags, etc., in a variety of colors are carried by the shop.

The White Elephant sale will be held in its shop at 27 East Ohio on Dec. 1.

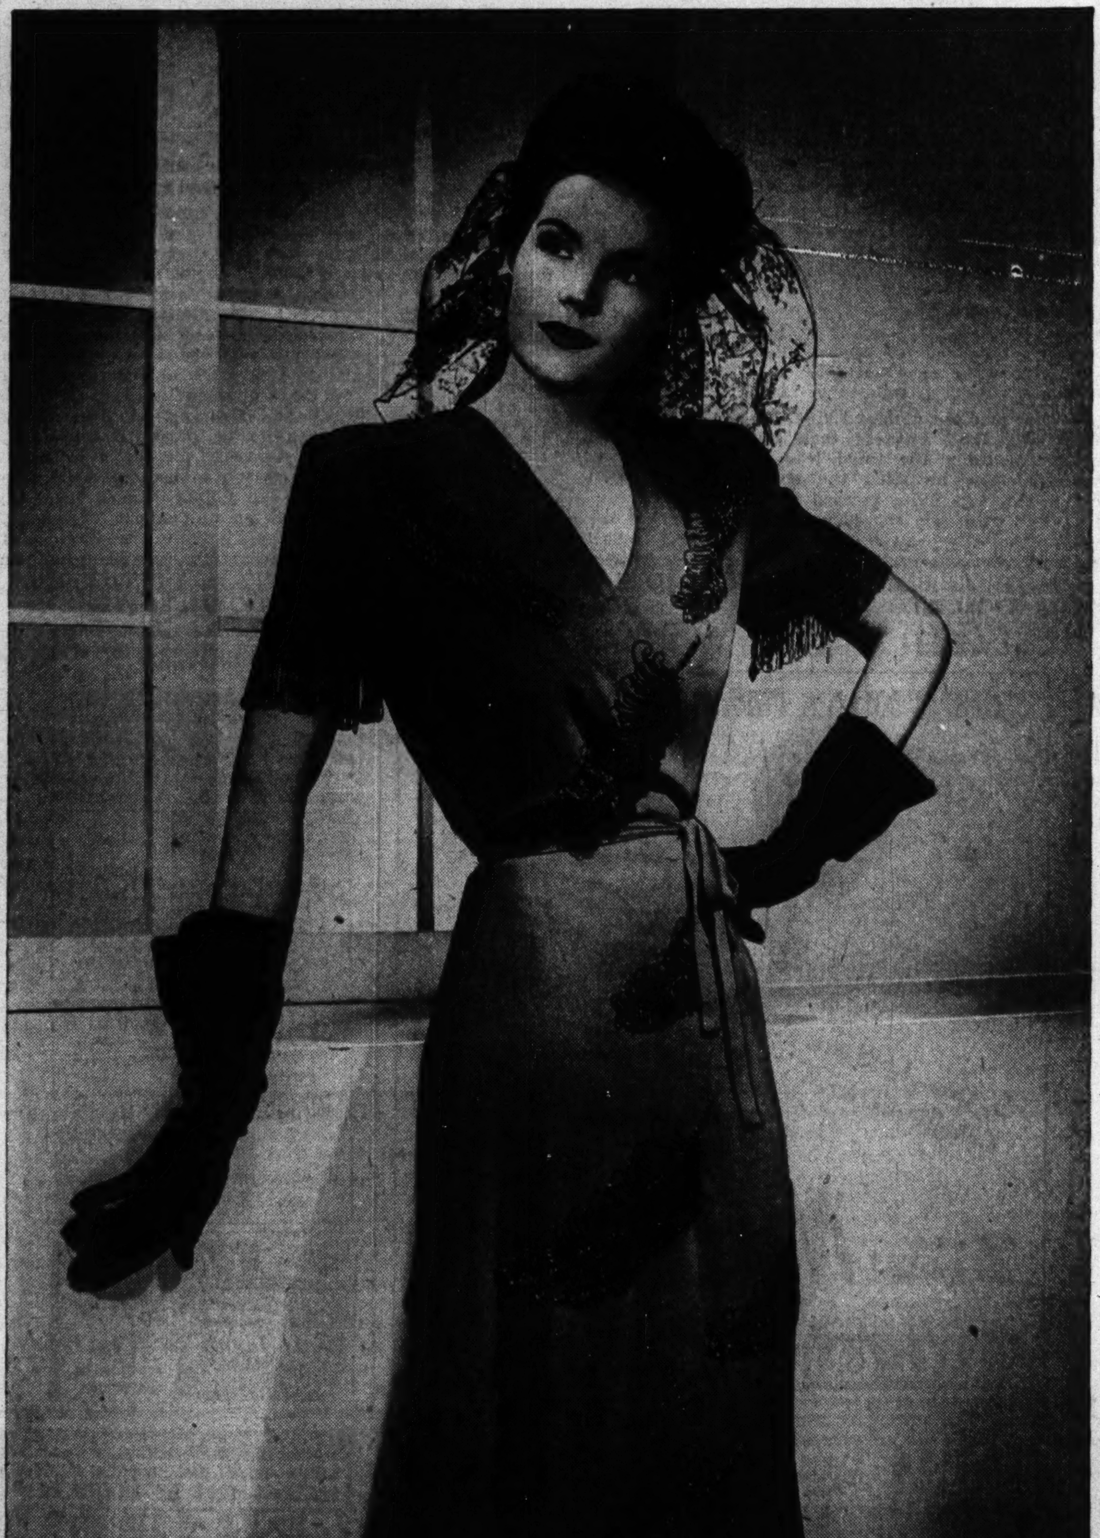
Stanley Johnston to Talk at Racquet Club Dinner.

The Racquet club has sent invitations to members of the Casino to join in its dinner and program tonight. More than 200 guests are expected to hear Stanley Johnston of the Tribune staff tell of his experiences in the Coral sea battle.

Jan I. Noest, Netherlands consul general in Chicago, and Mrs. Noest will give an informal reception from 6 to 8 o'clock tonight in their home for Dr. Alexander Loudon, Netherlands ambassador to the United States, Mrs. Loudon, and Rear Adm. Gerhard Stoeve, commander of the Netherlands East Indies navy.

Thorne hall, at Lake Shore drive and Superior street, will be thronged with visitors today and tomorrow, as the woman's auxiliary board of Wesley Memorial hospital is holding its annual fiesta there. Mrs. Paul Walker, Miss Florence Elder, and Miss Bertha L. Knapp are in charge of the friendship booth and of the articles that will be sold from it. The wares of many foreign nations will be sold at the international booth, which is in charge of Mrs. Ernest Lynn Waldorf. The fiesta will be open from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night both days, and the proceeds will go to the hospital's work and to the American Red Cross.

Attractive Costume for Afternoon Wear



Here's an afternoon costume in sophisticated scarlet and black. The slender short sleeved dress in livid red crepe is decoratively embroidered in plumes worked in scarlet beads. The flattering small black hat is completely covered in an all over design of jet beads and has a fine black lace veil at the back. Both dress and hat are from a Chicago shop. BY CECIL SMITH.

The private problems of a drama critic do not, I am sure, ordinarily hold much fascination for the general public. But in "Jason" Samson Raphaelson has elected to make one of these hothouse creatures the hero of his play, and has succeeded in transmuting the special confusions of his life into a story which is bright, lifelike, and by turns both appealing and amusing.

Jason Otis is no comic strip caricature drawn with a pen dipped in gall, like Mortimer Brewster of "Arsenic and Old Lace." His identification with his craft is idealistic and intelligent; yet 15 years of a critic's career—in which, as he says, he has formed the habit of viewing plays as tho they were more real than wine and women, and wine and women as tho they were mere works of art—has left him with a warped outlook toward his fellow men.

His attitude, which may be described as one of troubled complacency, is abruptly shaken by the intrusion into his life of a brash young playwright. This self-styled young genius, obviously modeled satirically after the loudly uninhibited William Saroyan, lures Jason into first hand contact with the underpriviledged. The educational process might have succeeded without a hitch, if Mike Ambler, the playwright, had not elected to make love to Jason's wife a few hours before Jason is going to have to review the opening of Ambler's first Broadway play. The confluence of these strands of plot and character development in the third act somewhat stymied Mr. Raphaelson in the writing of "Jason," I fear, so that the solution of the drama is somewhat less satisfying than the events leading up to it.

But despite an ending which does not realize the promise of the rest of the play, "Jason" bubbles with life and zest. Mr. Raphaelson has never written so well, or so wisely; there are moments when he nearly reaches S. N. Behrman's level in keen-edged conversational give and take. This is, I think, much the best play in town at the moment, for it is unfailingly provocative and delightful.

Minnie Galatzer's players give one of the best performances in their 10 year history. Arthur Peterson's quiet manner and the vigorous extroversion of Sam Siegel create an excellent balance between the antithetical characters of critic and playwright. Arlene Friedrich, as Jason's wife, reveals an emotionalism which is not synthetic. Smaller parts are well handled, especially by Brinton Turkle, Vera Conroy, and Mary Ann Marsh.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

The OCD community chairmen of the home nursing service of the Red Cross met in two sessions yesterday at Red Cross headquarters, to report on the results of a recently organized program for recruiting women in their communities and outline plans for the coming year.

Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy, chairman of the service, who presided at both sessions, commended those chairmen who have successfully carried out an all-out program for one woman home nursing graduate in every household.

She also encouraged those whose efforts, while carried out painstakingly, have not met with the desired response, and suggested that they ask fuller coöperation from their zone and block captains. Various chairmen made further suggestions to aid recruiting, such as announcements in community papers and contacts with churches and women's clubs.

Some of the major problems confronting the women planning the program concern payment of light and heat bills or janitor service in buildings where classes receive instruction. Permanent classrooms in vacant buildings are probably the best solution, according to Mrs. Cudahy, but she urged the chairmen to ask churches, clubs and other organizations for aid along this line, in breaking down operational barriers and coöperating more fully in this vitally necessary part of the war effort.

More than 50,000 women and men already have received home nursing certificates, and the enlarged plan will provide thousands more, thus releasing doctors, nurses, and hospital beds for the acutely ill.

Yesterday's meetings prefaced a series of city-wide home nursing courses, as well as daytime and evening classes to be held at Red Cross headquarters, starting on Nov. 30. Registrations are now open for the latter classes, and application should be made at 529 South Wabash avenue.

Four women from Chicago and vicinity have been commissioned ensigns in the WAVES at Northampton, Mass. They are Florence M. Smith, 5435 Iowa street, who has been assigned to the bureau of personnel in Washington, D. C.; Jesse A. Hall, 4 East 111th street, who will be on the staff of the naval reserve midshipmen's school in Northampton, and Mary H. Banker, Evanston, and Edith A. Cannon, Hammond, both assigned to the office of the chief of naval operations in Washington. Fourteen members of the WAVES' enlisted personnel left Chicago yesterday morning to begin yeoman training at Oklahoma A. & M. college at Stillwater, Okla.

Thirty ordnance inspectors, 24 of whom are women, will be graduated from a nine week ordnance inspection training course at a luncheon tomorrow at Younkers' restaurant. The inspectors have been the employés of the Chicago ordnance district during their training period and have received a salary of $120 a month in addition to free instruction. William Mier, Chicago ordnance district official, will welcome the new inspectors at the luncheon and will give them their assignments.

Mrs. Jacob Baur.

A special event in Women's National War Bond week, which opens on Sunday, will be a meeting on Tuesday — designated as Club day. Five hundred women's club presidents will meet at 2:30 o'clock at the Chicago Woman's club to report on war savings sales and hear Mrs. Charles Gates give an eyewitness account of the bombing of Pearl Harbor. Mrs. Gates, who comes from Denver, Colo., was here last spring and her return is at the special request of those who did not hear her then. Mrs. Jacob Baur will preside.

Ministers will announce the opening of the week in churches on Sunday, and that evening Lieut. Gov. Hugh Cross will convey Gov. Dwight H. Green's message for the week on the air. Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, chairman of the women's division, Chicago and Cook county war savings staff, will speak at 12:05 o'clock from Treasury center Monday over W-G-N and at 4:30 o'clock over WBBM.

Monday will bring emphasis on the war savings sales in retail stores; Tuesday is Club day; Wednesday will be theater and movies day. Thursday, Thanksgiving, has been set aside as "Home" day, with no special campaign to sell other than radio appeals. Friday is stamp tag day, and theaters and movies will lead the program again on Saturday.

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and answers questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

Blind Service's Directors to Entertain for Students

Directors of the Blind Service association will be hostesses on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 28, to blind school and university students. Highlight of the event will be a Thanksgiving luncheon of turkey. Mrs. Harry Brewer is chairman.

New Hats Airy Trifles of Lace, Beads, Tassels

BY REA SEEGER.

Eye catching trifles that perch so smartly atop the town's smartest women rushing from wartime duties to late afternoon parties are hats in the most alluring and feminine models. There are confectionery ideas with lots of black lace [a nonpriority item the gentlemen in or out of uniform spurn], lots of shimmering black and colored beads, frivolous bows of ribbon or velvet, and fancier creations dripping with tassels, fringe, and what looks like antimacassar braid. Tiny rounds of ostrich feathers come in black, brown, green, copper, and pastels. Many of these typically feminine feathered concoctions are easily matched with flattering round muffs of the same ostrich feathers the same shade as the hat.

Many airy bits of plumage masquerading as a party hat feature a couple of ostrich feathers "climbing like a homesick angel" from a bit of net or felt, satin or velvet that hugs the head firmly and smoothly. Tiny dinks go dress parade even tho they are made of knitted or crocheted yarn because of hundreds of tiny loops of beads attached hither and yon over the yarn pattern, black or white, silver or gold or high colors like red, turquoise, and copper in fetching contrast to the shade of the yarn of the dink.

Ravel edge taffeta ribbon in gay French colors and patterns are telling bits of headline beauty, doubly so, when there are long gloves to match made of the same taffeta. Tricornes and bicornes in white have dashing Spanish type veils with quarter size dots. Candy pink feathers or the sky blue models made of dozens of velvet bows run the very sophisticated all-black, jet trimmed, or the all-black braid or tassel dripping small ink spots a good race for the money.

INSTALMENT IV.

THE DIARY.

After Dr. Shaw, the good man Tessa still thought of as father, was buried, she had gathered together his instruments and his few selfless possessions. It was then that she had found the little old red leather book that was the diary Dr. Shaw had kept back in his early days as a medical missionary in the north before he had been transferred to India.

And with it was the letter that he had written her when at last he had known that his fate was sealed. She had read it and felt grief a thousand times more shattering than death.

"I am not your father, except in love and service. . . . You must go to him now, your real father. It is my wish. . . ."

No need to re-read it now. Its words had long since been written indelibly on her brain.

". . . twenty years ago when my wife, the woman you called 'mother' and I were medical missionaries in northern Canada. We maintained a distant station at a place called Wanataskee Landing among the Indians where we were the only white people. Until we were joined one day by Tessa Devlin.

"We had never seen her before nor she us, when she arrived in the company of a group of natives who had been down to Chicatoumi, 200 miles to the south. She was frail and pretty and frightened of what lay before her.

"Her husband, Tom Devlin, had left her in Chicatoumi while he went north to explore a gold claim he had staked out the previous year. He had not known when he left nor had she, that she was to have a child.

"She had no friends in Chicatoumi, for she and her husband had been there only a short while in the hurly-burly of a boom town gold rush. And so she begged to be taken north to our mission station. For two reasons, I was the only doctor for hundreds of miles, and our station lay along the trail thru which her husband planned to return in the fall. Well, he returned in the fall, all right, but by that time she was dead in childbirth and you were a month old infant.

"I pass quickly over these events for you will find them recorded in more detail in the old diary which I kept during those early years in the north. Your father left you in our care, and continued south. He had found that his claim bore promise of being a very rich strike and he wanted to get capital to develop it.

"He promised to return for you. He didn't come back for a year, for 18 months. And all the time you were growing into our hearts, the center of our lives, our happiness, the child your 'mother' could never bear. And then came orders that we were to be transferred from Canada to India, to the other side of the world.

"We tried to get in touch with your real father. Once we heard from him. He would be in Chicatoumi 'soon.' But he didn't come, and the day finally arrived when we must go. We wouldn't leave you behind. There was no one to take care of you. But more than that.

"We couldn't tear you out of our hearts without tearing them apart. And so we did a monstrous thing. Or was it so monstrous? We claimed you as our own, and there was no one to dispute us except the Indians that we were leaving far behind.

"We brought you to India as our 'daughter,' and you lived and grew in loveliness and filled our lives with joy and promise of all good things. And when your 'mother' died, you carried on her work as if the same gallant blood flowed in your veins.

"Was it so monstrous—that thing we did? I don't know.

"I only know that now that I am about to leave you, I must right that wrong—if it were a wrong. I have always kept track secretly of the man who is your real father, and it has not been hard, for his fortunes have prospered and he is head of a great business company. You must go to him. You must tell him. Let him decide whether I have cheated him. It is my wish. . . ."

It is my wish.

And only because it was his wish, his last wish, she had come here to this strange, alien place. Down from the hills, back thru the jungles, across the oceans, across the great, endless land that was America—to this.

Standing there in the cold October night she shut her eyes and her mind to that first meeting. To the man who was her father, to the woman he had married, to the irascible, comic old fellow who was part of their household.

She wanted to cry out, to pierce thru to eternity. No, no, NO! It was no monstrous thing you did. You did him no wrong. He . . .

She couldn't put it into words, even in her own mind. She could only feel it, sense it with a sense that was neither sight, sound, touch, smell, nor taste, but rather some sixth perception of the feelings.

She had come to him across time and the oceans and he had opened his home to her but not his heart. Was it because that heart was still frozen by the tragedy of young death so long ago, or was it because there was no heart there, either to freeze or burst into flame?

He had gone thru the empty motions of fatherhood, but all the time she was conscious of some strange emotion. Was it the pain of old sorrow, was it some ineptness or gaucherie of her own alien spirit, or was it some deep uneasiness whose source she could not fathom?

But he had tried after a fashion. She must not be unfair. He had made an attempt to reconstruct with her those early days of her infancy 20 years before which she had found recorded in Dr. Robert Shaw's diary.

But she had drawn back, hugging to herself the little red book. Some strange, fierce loyalty to the man who had not been her father kept those pages, in which he had spread out his heart, inviolate against the man who was her father.

Her shoulders sagged with the exhaustion of too much remembering, too much groping and analyzing, and a dry sob caught in her throat.

But she jerked herself up sharply and a little frisson shot thru her at the touch of her arm. She turned. It was Jayson Plaice. He had come upon her quietly in the darkness. He was looking down at her, smiling, faintly mocking, appraising.

"There's rain on your eyelashes," he was saying, "and—and you know you're rather beautiful."

* *

"She's been strange lately," Kate confided.

"How do you mean, 'strange'?" Bart sprawled in a chair by the kitchen table and picked at a bowl of fruit while Kate was making coffee.

"Oh—I don't know. Sort of quiet, as if she were mulling something over in her mind."

"Somebody's new dress?"

"No, no. Phoebe's not that sort. She has never gone in for artistic posing about her business. And you know she has put up the cottage for sale."

Bart sat up. "You mean the cottage in the country? But she only just bought it!"

"I know. Just the same she told me to put it up for sale. Last week. And she was a little short with me when I protested. Not like her at all. The real estate market's slow now and it won't be easy to dispose of it. I suggested jokingly that we might turn it back to Uncle Billy and she got quite snappish."

"Cash getting low?"

Kate shook her head. "Never higher. We netted 20 thousand last year."

"Oh, well . . ." He put sugar into the coffee that Kate had poured, but there was a little frown of worry between his dark brows.

It was mid-morning, an unusual time for a visit from nearby St. Theresa's, but he had a couple of hours free and he had dropped over to the aristocratic old 56th street house that held the living quarters of Kate and Phoebe on its top floor, and Phoebe, Inc., below.

Both Bart and Kate turned quickly as the door opened.

"Bart darling!" It was Phoebe. "What a nice surprise. In the middle of the morning!"

He hugged her and gave her a smacking kiss. "I'm being transferred to surgery today and I want you to design me something very special in operating gowns. Have some coffee?"

"Thanks, Kate, that man from Bianchici is waiting. I think you had better see him."

Kate took a final sip of coffee and rose. As she went out the door she exchanged a swift glance with Bart. When mother and son were alone, he reached across the table and touched her hand with affectionate concern.

"Feeling all right, Toots?"

"Of course."

"Kate said you've been off your feed lately."

"Oh—Kate." She seemed to dispose of the matter, but he refused to accept the dismissal.

"Says you're trying to sell the house you just bought."

Her hand holding her cup paused half way to her mouth. She set the cup back in its saucer.

Fiancee Should Meet Young Man's Family

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

She has been going steadily with a young man for 15 months. There is an understanding about marriage, tho no definite date has been set for it.

"Never once in all the time I have known him," the girl confides, "has he suggested that I meet his parents. He has been to my house times without number and has met every member of my family, including aunts and uncles and in-laws. He speaks very little of his parents and of his brothers and sisters. They live not far away but his home can be reached by street car. I would like to meet his people. His reticence about them whets my curiosity. Besides, I do feel that a girl ought to become acquainted with her young man's family, don't you? HONORE."

It may interest Honore to know that one thing that is being strongly recommended to fiancées of army men, especially in cases of short term acquaintances, is to visit the man's family, become familiar with his home background, know all that can be learned about the family members before taking the matrimonial leap. Just that important is this angle of marital alliances considered by authoritative voices.

Few people in this close knit world of ours escape contact with in-laws.

So, we feel that a girl is fully within her rights to come out boldly with the question of why she has never met her fiancé's family. Or, a better way to handle it is to say that nothing would please her more than to be granted the privilege of meeting the parents who produced so perfect an answer to a maiden's prayer. There may be nothing wrong with that family, some men being sensitive of home criticisms and comments on their girl. The girl's appeal to meet them may just clear up any and all sensitiveness he may entertain.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass	1 spade	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
5 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the diamond king. Declarer won and blithely took out trumps, winning the third lead in dummy. Now he tried the spade finesse and was quite pleased when the queen held. He should not have been! On a repeat finesse, West pounced with the king, returned a spade, and declarer was "stuck" with a losing diamond and a lost contract.

Declarer's play had been criminally shortsighted. Had he been playing a slam contract, he would have had to depend not only on the spade finesse, but on an early capture of the spade king. Since he could afford to lose two tricks, however, he should have driven out the spade king while retaining the heart ace for entry to dummy. The best plan was to cash only two high hearts from the closed hand, then to lead a low spade. If the king did not appear, another spade would be led to the ace and a third round would force the king and establish the suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question 22: Your are West, declarer at a three no trump contract. The opponents did not bid. Your hand and dummy are as follows:

West	East [dummy]
♠A K 9	♠5 4 3 2
♥K J 5 4	♥A 7 2
♦A 8 3	♦7 5 2
♣A K Q	♣6 4 3

North leads the spade seven, South plays the jack. Presumably, you win. [You do not want a diamond shift.] What card do you play from your own hand and dummy at the second and third tricks?

YESTERDAY'S QUESTION.

Question 21: Both sides vulnerable; both 80 part-score. The bidding goes:

North	East	South	West
1 spade	Pass	?

You are South and hold:

♠10 8 4 3 ♥J 5 ♦Q 10 9 ♣Q 9 5 2

What call do you make?

Answer: Two spades. This raise is purely preëmptive or shutout in nature. The fact that you are bidding over score does not make your raise a slam try. Unless your partner's hand is terrific, West would probably make a defensive bid if you were to pass; the two spade call will force him to risk a bid at the three level [or the equivalent, two no trump]. If partner is strong, your two spade bid can do no harm; if he is not strong, there is all the greater defensive reason to use this mild preëmpt. [Ten points demerit for 1 no trump; 15 points demerit for a pass; 35 points demerit for any other call.]

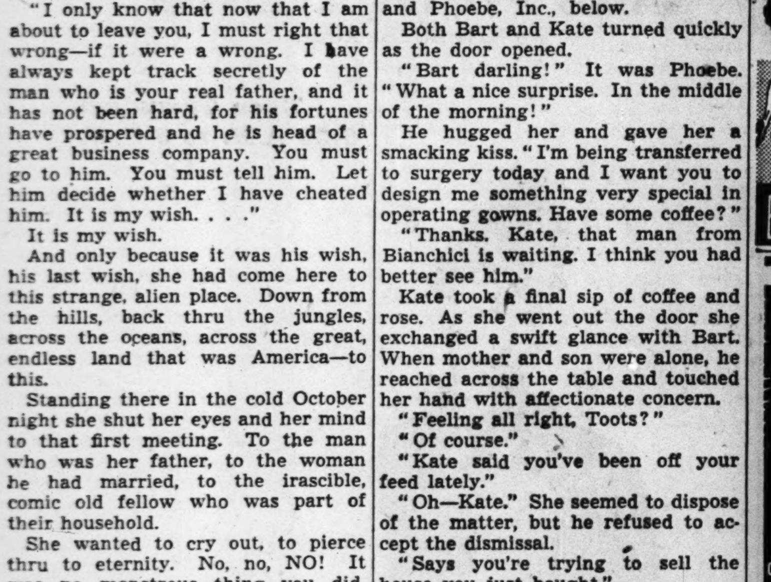
Married... to an Iceberg



WHY had her husband's ardor gradually changed to—cool indifference? She didn't guess that her "one neglect" was carelessness about feminine hygiene (intimate personal cleanliness). Today, so many modern wives use Lysol disinfectant. It cleanses quickly, thoroughly, and deodorizes, too. Yet it's so gentle it won't harm sensitive vaginal tissues—just follow easy directions. Costs so little. Write to Lehn & Fink, Bloomfield, N. J., for FREE Feminine Hygiene Booklet CH-11 (in plain wrapper)

Oatmeal is an ingredient in many kinds of cookies. It gives body and chewiness to the cookie, and, at the same time, extends the cookie flavor economically.

Dried fruits compensate for the dryness in oatmeal cookies. Most recipes which call for oatmeal also list a dried fruit among the ingredients.

Scotch Date Sticks.

[One and one-half dozen.]

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup rolled oats
½ cup shortening
½ cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons milk or water
1½ cups dates, pitted
¾ cup water
3 tablespoons orange juice

Cook dates and water over low heat until thick. Add orange juice. Let this filling cool. Mix and sift flour, salt, and baking powder. Cream shortening thoroly and beat in brown sugar. Add milk, then rolled oats and flour. Mix thoroly and divide in halves. Roll one-half on a lightly floured board to form an 8 or 9 inch square. Place the square in a well greased and floured cake pan of the same size. Spread with cooled filling. Roll remainder of dough out in the same way and cover filling. Bake cookies in a 350 degree oven for 30 to 40 minutes. Remove from pan and cut into sticks about 4 inches long and 1 inch wide.

Raisin Oatmeal Cookies.

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
¼ cup milk
1⅔ cups oats
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup seedless raisins

Pour hot water over raisins, wash and drain. Cream shortening and sugar until light. Add beaten eggs and milk. Add oatmeal and raisins and mix well. Sift flour, soda, cinnamon, and salt, and add. Mix well and drop from a teaspoon onto greased cookie pans. Bake about 12 minutes at 350 degrees.

Fig Oatmeal Cookies.

2 cups dried figs
2 cups rolled oats
1 cup granulated sugar
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cloves
¾ cup shortening
2 eggs

Rinse figs in hot water and clip stems. Put figs and rolled oats thru food chopper, using medium knife. Combine with sugar, and flour sifted with soda, salt, and spices. Cut in shortening as for pie pastry. Add beaten eggs and continue mixing. It will probably be necessary to use the hands. Shape into balls about the size of a walnut and place on a greased baking sheet. Flatten balls with the fingers. Bake about 15 minutes in a 400 degree oven.

Prune Oatmeal Cookies.

[Five dozen.]

1¾ cups cooked prunes
1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups sugar
¼ cup honey
2 eggs
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons cinnamon
5½ to 6 cups quick cooking oats
⅔ cup chopped nuts

Pit 1 cup prunes and cut into small pieces. Cream butter and sugar thoroly. Add honey and prunes and mix. Beat in eggs. Add flour sifted with salt, soda, and spice. Add oats and nuts and stir until well blended. Drop in small mounds on greased cookie sheets. Pit remaining prunes, cut into pieces and place a piece on top of each cookie. Bake in a 375 degree oven for 14 to 15 minutes.

Thru the Looking Glass

Do you have trouble keeping your finger tips looking immaculate? It may be the kind of work you do, or it may be just that your nails are the kind that are hard to keep from looking grubby.

In any case, there is a new type of nail product that will help immensely. We can prophesy that women who do really grimy work will be crazy about it. It's a nail cleanser and conditioner that works beautifully.

This is strange looking stuff, a gray-green, soft paste that comes in a jar. You scoop out as much as you need, apply it liberally around the cuticle and the free edge of the nail, and then scrub furiously, preferably with a stiff bristle brush. It will lather abundantly, and will give your nails a superb cleaning. What's more, it will help to soften the cuticle, as you'll discover when you dry your hands and work the cuticle away with the towel.

It's a well known fact, but one not often mentioned in public, that dark polish is a great camouflage for honest to goodness dirt lodged beneath the nail tip. This takes care of that, in case you're the kind who doesn't like dirt even if it doesn't show!

The women who will be particularly keen about this, tho, will be those who use pale polishes or, on occasion, none at all. It will help keep their nails looking immaculate, which is the first requisite for nails so lightly pink they are pale—at least in contrast to those coated with the popular dark shades of lacquer.

More Sacrifices Needed, Asserts Mrs. Roosevelt

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt told reporters today that her trip to England had convinced her that if American citizens could only realize that the length of the war will depend largely on what they do "we might put a great deal more into our war effort."

Mrs. Roosevelt, whose return was announced by the White House yesterday, talked to reporters for an hour and a half.

Asked for examples of what Americans could do, she said giving up nonessentials for one thing. Also, she said, if women were willing to do a great deal more work, more man power could be relieved for war industry and the armed services.

Asked whether she could sum up what she got out of her trip, she said:

"I am glad I went because I learned a tremendous amount. I came back with an enormous pride in the ability of human nature to rise above the things that bother us the most—the little inconveniences. I came back with a tremendous feeling that when you have to face things you can do it."

Mrs. Roosevelt said she had told the President about the same things she told the press conference—and the things she told reporters ranged from descriptions of factory visits to inspections of bombed out areas, Red Cross operations and trips to see how the American boys were doing in the British Isles.

Mothers Need Imagination and Patience

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The older children were at school. He was alone in the house with his mother. She was not doing anything so very special, just routine housework.

He was four, the age when it's fun to be around mother, especially if she's a nice mother. They were upstairs and mother had gotten around to doing the beds. Now if you have the sympathetic memory of the young man who told me the story, you know there were some mornings when certain doings about the house appealed to you.

Well, this was a day when you felt just like helping with the beds, when if you could stand on one side of the bed and have some one flip the sheets up and let them billow and then finally float across and over to you, it would be fun. In fact, it was one of those mornings when you were in a big bed making mood.

So our little boy said, "Let me help you make the beds, Mommie, please." Grudgingly, his mother gave permission, and got out the big pile of sheets and pillowcases. Grudgingly she let him slip around to the other side of the bed. But her acquiescence only lasted a minute, when she wouldn't wait till her small son could slowly pull the sheet straight. She had no patience with his patting the balloon the top sheet made; she got cross and hurried and all the fun went out of the day.

At last, "O get out of my way! I'll never get thru like this" was too much of a letdown. Tears began to form in her little boy's eyes and this annoyed an already impatient woman. "Now don't be a cry-baby! Go upstairs to your room until you can act like a big boy," she snapped out.

So the bright bubble of his joy was pricked, and the tears fell in earnest, and that night daddy was regaled with what a cry baby Jamey was getting to be, without one enlightening or ameliorating circumstance being given. And I am sure Jamey's mother doesn't even suspect that she was missing of pleasure in her little son, nor realize even faintly how completely she emptied the cherries out of the lovely bowl that was Jamey's happy friendly day.

I wonder when I hear mothers complain of their small boys and girls, how often their troubles with their children may not be simply due to the fact that they have no more imagination and sympathy and patience than Jamey's mother had.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 18.—"Anna Christie," in which "Garbo talked" for the first time in pictures, is going to be done again at Metro, with Kay Medford slated for the lead. She's being groomed for the rôle now, and soon as the bosses think she's ready, the picture will roll. . . . Jeanette MacDonald, who has not been saying much about her picture plans, told friends in New York that she might do a picture for Ernest Lubitsch early next year. It was under his direction that she made her first hit opposite Maurice Chevalier in "Love Parade." Jeanette plans to stay east over the holidays, in hopes that Capt. Gene Raymond may get a leave and come over for Christmas. . . . Well, the search is over. Mischa Auer is set to play the photographer in "Lady in the Dark," which Danny Kaye did on Broadway. Billy Burke probably will do the rôle of Maggie. And Ginger Rogers is trying to get Paramount to give Philip Reed the rôle of the movie star. I wonder whether there's anything more than strictly business involved in Ginger's request. . . . Morrie Ryskind is writing an untitled show for Broadway that will star Zorina, William Gaxton, and Victor Moore, who were all in the cast of "Louisiana Purchase."

Jeanette MacDonald.

On the Wing.

Joan Fontaine and Brian Aherne have gone to New York, where they'll do three radio shows in 11 days and then hie back to the coast. . . . Brian has completed the civilian pilot training course at Phoenix, Ariz., and Joan is piling up her nurses' aid hours before starting what will be practically two consecutive pictures—"Jane Eyre" for Twentieth Century, and "Frenchman's Creek" for Paramount. . . . Incidentally, with Joan set to play "Jane," which, as you know, was written by Charlotte Bronte, her sister, Olivia De Haviland, is already doing the rôle of Charlotte in "Devotion." That's keeping it in the family, anyway you look at it. . . . Harry Brand is very funny on the subject of the terrific business picture theaters are doing. "The manager opens the doors and jumps out of the way," he told me. . . . Ran into Peter Lorre at Mike Romanoff's and learned that he leaves for New York over the week-end to start rehearsals for "I Played the Devil," Ernest Pascal's new play, in which Peter will play—Peter Lorre. That's the name of the character, and the character is a sadistic actor.

B-r-r-r-r-r!

Martha Mature emerged from the Mocambo the other night on the arm of Commander B. B. Robinson. As they started for the door, Victor Mature entered with Rita Hayworth. The foursome met face to face. There was a flurried moment when Sailor Mature wasn't sure whether he ought or ought not to salute the superior officer out with his estranged wife. Ended up he didn't. But all four left a chill behind that caused me, for one, to shiver when I entered half an hour later. . . . Maria Montez has received a letter from Wing Commander Buster Tonge, who says he has an unfinished letter to her from her fiancé, Claude Strickland, who's been missing for months. He's coming to Hollywood on leave, and will bring Strickland's letter.

Congratulations!

Producer Jack Votion, who got a leave of absence four months ago from RKO [where his unit is carrying on with the Lum and Abner pictures] to enlist in the army, has been promoted to captain, and will be sent to London as special liaison officer attached to the British war office. The news will make his friends as proud as punch, but it doesn't surprise us, 'cause Jack was decorated by three governments during the first World war and is living proof that you can't keep a good man down. After the other war, he began in this business as a prop boy, with not only the usual hurdles to overcome, but also ill health from war injuries. He licked every obstacle, and just as he had arrived at his hard won goal, this country needed him. Without hesitation, Jack wound up his affairs here, put on his uniform, and took off as quietly as he's done everything else.

Bound to Happen.

Now that George Raft isn't at Warners any longer, don't be surprised if you see him teamed in a picture with Betty Grable. And what a swell dancing team they'd make. . . . Twentieth Century is working on "Battle Stations," which will be a follow-up story to "To the Shores of Tripoli," and they're hoping the Guadalcanal activity is settled in our favor soon so that history can write the ending to the script. . . . Metro's trying to borrow Lloyd Nolan from Twentieth for one of the top rôles in "Bataan Patrol" with Robert Taylor. . . . Just outside the "Merry-Go-Round" set, before election, a girl was passing out handbills for certain candidates. When Director George Stevens and Charles Coburn [who plays a congressman in the picture] came out for lunch and she offered them a bill, George said, "That's going too far—giving a congressman handbills for his opponent," and the girl ran, but fast. . . . Well, Hunt Stromberg decided in favor of home talent for "G-String Murder." He looked over 10 of Hollywood's Tall Toppers, whom I told you about yesterday, and I'll be darned if he hasn't signed seven of them!

3 WAYS TO MAKE MEAT GO FARTHER!

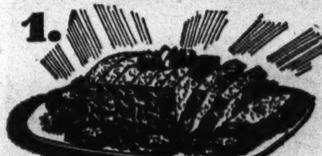
Meat Shortages Need Not Deprive Your Family of Precious Proteins and Vital Vitamin B1 If You Follow this Simple Plan

QUICK QUAKER OATS
QUICK MOTHER'S OATS

"I MAKE THEM BOTH THE SAME!"

TRY THESE "MEAT STRETCHING" IDEAS

1. QUAKER'S DELICIOUS "EXTENDER" MEAT LOAF



1¼ lbs. Beef Chuck (ground)
¼ lb. Pork Loin Ends (ground)
¼ cup Onion (cut fine)
1 cup Quaker or Mother's Oats (quick or regular, uncooked)
2½ tsp. Salt
¼ tsp. Pepper
1 tsp. Mustard
¼ cup Catsup
1 Egg (well beaten)
1 cup Water

Combine all ingredients in order listed and mix well. Pack firmly into loaf pan (about 3½x8½ in.). Bake in moderately hot oven (375° F.) for 1 hour. Slice, serve hot or cold. (Serves 8.)

2. QUAKER'S DELICIOUS "EXTENDER" MEAT PATTIES

6 slices Bacon
¾ lb. Beef (ground)
¼ lb. Pork (ground)
1 Egg (beaten)
1 cup Tomatoes (canned or fresh)
1 tablespoon Onion (chopped)
¼ cup Milk
½ cup Quaker or Mother's Oats (quick or regular, uncooked)
¾ teaspoon Salt
Dash of Pepper

Line 6 muffin tins with strips of bacon. Combine remaining ingredients and mix well. Put into muffin tins. Bake in moderately hot oven (350° F.) for about one hour. (Serves 6.)

These recipes, developed by one of the country's foremost home economists, require the use of either Quaker Oats or Mother's Oats. Those other oats, which weigh less per cup, will not produce the same delicious baking results, and they give you much less Proteins and Vitamin B1.

3. SERVE HOT QUAKER OATS EVERY MORNING

When you eat delicious, hot Quaker Oats breakfasts daily, you do not require so much meat. For whole-grain oatmeal, like meat, is rich in Proteins. As rich, ounce for ounce, for instance, as pork chops. Richer, by far, than any other cereal. Furthermore, it is triple-rich* in the important element "Thiamine" (Vitamin B1) needed for growth, energy, good nerves! Children love Quaker Oats! Grownups, too! Get its healthful benefits by serving delicious, hot Quaker Oats every morning!
*In proportion to Calories.

HERE is a way for you to give your family meat oftener. To serve them more delicious meat dishes, stretch your meat supplies and meat dollars. Famous Home Economists have devised the recipes at left. Try them! You'll want to serve them often because they are so new and delicious. And, they make meat go up to 40 per cent farther.

RICH IN PROTEINS! But here is the really important reason for using these meat-saving recipes and serving big bowls of whole-grain hot Quaker Oats breakfasts daily! It is known that whole-grain oatmeal is actually as rich in Proteins, ounce for ounce, as pork chops. Richer by far than any other cereal. Your family needs Proteins every day. For Proteins are one of the most necessary of food substances. All work, all tissue repair, requires Proteins!

AMAZINGLY ECONOMICAL, TOO! Use Protein-rich Quaker Oats in these recipes. Serve big, delicious bowls of hot Quaker Oats to your family every morning. Actually, each cent invested in Quaker Oats gives you up to 271 per cent more in body-building Proteins than the average of 5 of the most popular cereals!

Surely you'll want your family to enjoy the benefits of genuine Quaker Oats now as never before. Get a package, today!

DAY TO DEFEND MATCH TITLE IN BOWLING MEET

OFFENSE IS THE WORD FOR OHIO STATE, MICHIGAN

Title Foes Have It, Plus.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Bob Wiese.

The Western conference title game Saturday afternoon between Ohio State and Michigan matches high scoring teams which promise from their records to carry on at the same rate of touchdown production. The Buckeyes, in five conference games as compared to three for the Wolverines, lead the Big Nine in total offense. Michigan is third.

The comparative statistics do not give the complete picture, however. Michigan's five touchdowns against Notre Dame last Saturday must be considered. The third quarter of this game, in which the Wolverines scored three of their touchdowns and had the ball for 28 plays from scrimmage to six for Notre Dame, was the finest concentrated attack any Western conference eleven has produced this year.

Michigan Defense Stops T.

Michigan's victory over the Irish also was the result of an excellent defense Coach Fritz Chrisler and his assistants set up for the Notre Dame T formation. To our knowledge, no opponent of any team using the T formation ever has tried this particular strategy. The defense against the T formation revolves around which defensive player covers the man in motion.

When Green Bay defeated the Chicago Bears last year, 16 to 14, in the second game of the regular season series, the Packers used a seven man line. They preferred to jam the Bears' line and to rush Sid Luckman on his forward passes. They covered the Bears' man in motion with a half back.

Seahawks Didn't Do It.

The Iowa Seahawks used a five man line with three backers-up against Notre Dame's T attack this fall and were beaten, 28 to 0. According to the Irish coaches in charge that afternoon, the Seahawks made the tactical mistake of covering the man in motion with a defender from this row of three backers-up instead of a half back. Moreover, all three of these men shifted their defensive positions in the direction of the man in motion.

Notre Dame not only passed successfully, but since the Seahawks' backers-up were overshifted, Full Back Corwin Clatt made repeated gains at the defensive right side of the Seahawk line. Bob Dove and Lou Rymkus had the proper angles for cross-blocking and Notre Dame's Harry Wright had the correct angle to block Svendsen, who backed up the right side on Clatt's rushes.

Madar Key Man.

Michigan set up a five man line against Notre Dame. The defensive line, from left to right, was Al Wistert, Julius Franks, Bob Kolesar, Bill Pritula, and Phil Sharpe. Supporting these men, from left to right, were George Ceithaml, Elmer Madar, and Merv Pregulman. So far this defense appears to be the same the Seahawks used except that it is unusual to have Wistert, a tackle, playing defensive left end and to have Madar an end, supporting the middle of the secondary line.

Madar's position actually was the key to Michigan's defense against the T formation. He did not defend against plunges over center, but he moved to the side in which Notre Dame sent its man in motion. Undoubtedly, he had been chosen for this task because of his speed and ball handling. He did not necessarily cover the man in motion. This depended on whether the man in motion went wide or came to a stop in a position where he might block or come out for a pass.

Utilize Wiese's Speed.

Michigan's defensive half backs against Notre Dame were Bob Wiese, at left half, and Paul White at right half. Here is further evidence of Weise's speed, for this is an unusual assignment for an offensive full back.

Madar and Weise, or White, depending on the direction of Notre Dame's first man in motion, mutally signalled the defense they would use. When the man in motion went wide, the half back covered him and Madar then watched the end on that side on Irish pass plays.

A One Game Defense.

Ohio State probably is not particularly concerned over this defense, since obviously it was adopted for one game. The Buckeyes' attack is more dangerous at the ends of the Michigan line and it is quite likely that Michigan will use a six man line against the Buckeyes.

Michigan's attack is highly deceptive, with Weise handling the ball on full spins into the line or feeding the right half back for reverses on fake plunges. Ohio State's principle of attack is primarily the same. For each of these teams, attack will be the best defense of all. Football's oldest cliche is that you cannot score without the ball. Notre Dame found it true in the third period last Saturday.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

HARVARD'S football men, schooled in the traditions of sportsmanship since the day of the flying wedge, still huddle for a cheer for the winning team after each defeat. . . . Altho members of the board of education in Detroit voted by a narrow margin to retain varsity sports in the city's high schools, newspapermen there believe Man Vaughan of the physical education staff, who urged discontinuance, still may have his way. . . . The Montreal Canadiens have what Coach Dick Irvin calls a "broken bones" line. . . . It includes Maurie Richards, who suffered a broken leg two years ago and a broken wrist last season; Elmer Lach, whose elbow was smashed in the first game of last season, and Tony Demers, who was forced out by a leg fracture, also early in the 1941-'42 campaign. . . . Golfer Billy Burke and Ball Players Joe Vosmik, Roy Weatherly, Ray Mack, and Al Milnar all are employed in the same Cleveland defense plant. . . . Vince Pacewic, Loyola [Los Angeles] full back, accounted for one-third of his team's total yardage in its first seven games. . . . Iowa State college naval training school athletic teams have been dubbed "Typhoons," the nautical equivalent of Cyclones, the name given varsity teams of the college. . . . Sometimes a football drubbing is a blessing in disguise. . . . Western Reserve, for example, beaten by Ohio State, 76 to 0, in 1934, went undefeated for the next 28 games. . . . During the five year period from 1934 thru 1938, Coach Bill Edwards, recently ousted as coach of the Detroit Lions, directed Reserve to 44 triumphs in 48 games. . . . Instead, the players autographed it and presented it to Gary Odell, Coach Howie Odell's 5 year old son, who is ill. . . . Henry Goethals, Harvard blocking back, is the grandson of the Gen. The Optimist.

With eagerness he welcomes each new day,
And cheers the hours of labor with a song;
By words of gladness are his evenings gay,
And sweetly does he slumber all night long.
No buffeting or opposition can destroy
Such energizing power of noble thought;
By it his peace and happiness and joy
And beauty of sincerity are brought
To others. Everywhere his pathway goes,
He causes leaden hearts to laugh and sing.
His philosophic view of living shows
That he believes each man is born a king.
An optimist trains every sense to see
His fellow being's true nobility.

NAVY PIER WINS TEAM PRIZE IN CYO TOURNEY

3 Sailors and 1 Marine Are Victors.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Four Navy pier boxers—three sailors and a marine—last night brought back to their mates the team trophy in the 12th annual tournament of the Catholic Youth Organization, earned thru their work in the 16 bouts that thrilled a crowd of 3,500 in Ashland auditorium.

The three sailors who contributed to the team victory were Novices Sergio Bonetti and George Bray and Buddy Feathers, an Indian who clinched the triumph with his three round decision over Harry McIlvoy, Waller High school football player, in the 160 pound open division final. Wally Klingele, a marine from Yakima, Wash., scored the fourth Naval victory with a decision verdict against Leo Bagby of Holy Name.

Tommy Burns Fails.

Sailor Dick Saburn, Navy Pier middleweight, lost his novice argument against Walter Pavilanes of St. Margaret in a rousing three round battle. The sixth Navy Pier entrant figured in the upset of the evening. He was Tommy Burns, the former Fort Wayne, Ind., lightweight who reached the semi-finals of the 1942 Golden Gloves tournament. Burns encountered Melvin Johnson of Corpus Christi, a finalist in 1941. Johnson sent Burns crashing to the canvas for a nine count in the first round, but it was a body blow in the second which caused Referee Tommy Gilmore to stop it.

Corpus Christi, like Navy Pier, also had six men in the finals, but the sailors' four victories in the 16 bouts outdid them. The South Siders, however, were awarded the trophy for having entered the most contestants in the event.

A Thrilling Windup.

The evening came to a perfect conclusion with one of the most thrilling windups in CYO history. It was the heavyweight open division final between Eddie Kaminski of St. Rose of Lima and Blaze Zorich of St. Raphael.

Zorich, a big, musclebound youth, scored with a mighty right to the jaw shortly after the first round opened, and his southpaw rival went flying to the canvas. Kaminski returned to his feet almost immediately, only to go down again as the result of a similar punch. In the second round it was Kaminski's turn, for he dropped Zorich to his knees. In the closing session they traded punches freely, with Kaminski finally gaining the decision.

Between the fighting in the two divisions, the Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, auxiliary bishop of Chicago and director general of the CYO, conducted a patriotic ceremony.

Results of the bouts follow:

OPEN CLASS.

112 POUNDS—Danny Connolly, St. Brendan, beat James Sarenello, St. Philomena [3].
118 POUNDS—Lloyd Watts, Corpus Christi, beat Teddy Varnadoe, St. Joseph's [3].

BLACKHAWKS, RED WINGS TO CLASH TONIGHT

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Detroit Red Wings will show up in Chicago Stadium tonight, bent on practically destroying the Blackhawks. "Haw! Haw!" say the Hawks to this, for didn't they beat the world champion Toronto Maple Leafs, 4 to 3, last Saturday night and 5 to 4 last Sunday night?

The Hawks acknowledge that on the dope sheets the Red Wings, who are leading the league now, should keep on leading it. But they also know that the Red Wings couldn't take it in the Stanley cup finals last spring—blew four straight after winning three straight in competition with Toronto. The Chicagoans have also had one look at the highly rated Wings this season. The Hawks effected a 3 to 3 tie, thanks to three goals by Red Hamill.

Wings Have Resources.

Despite their big swooning act last spring, the Wings properly are rated the best in the National hockey league this season, for the good reason that they have been least affected by war processes and in addition have been more lavish than all other teams in the matter of player purchases.

Johnny Mowers, the Wings' young goalie, is reported in excellent form, but he's not as good as Turk Broda of the Leafs. And the Hawks made nine goals in two successive nights past Broda.

It is rather difficult to get in on top of Mowers, however, for Giacomo Orlando, Jack Stewart, Alex Motter, and Ebbie Goodfellow have a way of bowling over forwards who become a bit too aggressive.

Liscombe a Threat.

The Hawk defense will have Carl Liscombe, among others, to keep them fully astir. On Nov. 5 Carl established a new league mark for individual points in a league game when he registered three goals and four assists as the Wings were at the business of whipping the New York Rangers 12 to 5.

Three expert shooters who remain to make goals for Detroit are Don Grosso, Eddie Wares, and Mud Bruneteau.

ABC Calls Off 1943 Tourney in Buffalo to Aid War Effort

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 18 (AP).—The 43d American Bowling congress tournament, scheduled in Buffalo March 18 to May 19, was postponed today for one year. The event had run without interruption since 1901.

A special committee appointed by Martin G. Unmacht of Dubuque, Ia., ABC president, and a committee of the Buffalo Bowling association at a joint meeting adopted a resolution stating it is the universal thought and desire of ABC members that nothing be done except to further the advancement of the war effort of the nation.

Postponement of the tournament, the resolution stated, will enable many thousands of members to remain at their war work and thus hundreds of thousands of vital man hours will be saved for the national defense effort.

Many in Defense Work.

"It is the paramount obligation of the American Bowling congress and all its members to further the war effort in every respect and in no degree whatever to impede the same," the resolution added.

The group also asserted that the Office of Defense Transportation had requested the ABC's coöperation by postponing the meet and thus relieving the burden on transportation facilities.

"Thousands of our members cannot participate in the 1943 tournament because they are serving in the armed forces or are engaged in defense work," the resolution pointed out. "They want to protect their attendance records and their desire in this regard must be recognized and respected."

Officials Attend Meeting.

The 42d ABC meet held this year in Columbus, O., attracted 5,742 five man teams. Officials said the 43d tournament would be held in Buffalo, but developments in the war would guide them in deciding whether it would be conducted in 1944.

Those attending the meeting, in addition to Unmacht, included: Elmer H. Baumgarten, Milwaukee, national secretary; Michael J. Dunn Jr., Milwaukee, national attorney; John Ackerman, Cleveland, seventh national vice president, and John J. Canelli, Toledo; George G. Leuthy, Camden, N. J., and George A. Obenauer, Buffalo, members of the ABC executive committee.

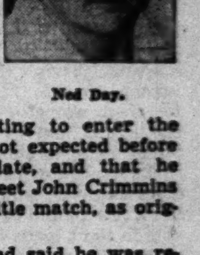
FIELD OF 100 WILL GO TO LINE IN AUDITORIUM

Tourney Draws Men from 40 Cities.

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.



Ned Day.

Ned Day, national match game bowling champion since 1938, will defend his title during the All-Star tournament in the Auditorium Theater Service Men's center Dec. 5 thru 13, he said last night. Day telephoned Louis P. Petersen, a member of the tournament committee, from Santa Monica, Cal., and said the call he was awaiting to enter the coast guard was not expected before the tournament date, and that he would be able to meet John Crimmins of Detroit in the title match, as originally planned.

Previously he had said he was retiring to enter the service, and the All-Star committee had substituted a match between Crimmins and Joe Norris also of Detroit, instead.

Field of 100 to Bowl.

A field of bowlers that probably will reach 100 and will be representative of all the territory in the United States in which tenpins is played will participate in the tournament. With the winners of elimination events in Dayton, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Kansas City, and one or two other cities still to be determined, the field as reported to the all-star committee yesterday reprsented 40 cities in 16 states.

It became apparent also that the all-star event, which is to produce the 1943 individual match game champion and is under sponsorship of the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and Bowling Proprietors' Association of America, will be the biggest bowling show of the current season. Cancellation yesterday of the 1943 American Bowling congress tournament, scheduled for Buffalo, automatically gives Chicago the distinction of housing the year's star tenpin attraction.

Alleys Already Down.

The committee yesterday inspected the Auditorium theater and found that the 12 new lanes on which the show will be held are down and that sanding is well under way. It also awarded the contract for decorating of the huge Auditorium. Arrangements for a sound system in the center already have been completed. Members of the committee who took the action were Barney Hochstadter, chairman; Louis P. Petersen, Mort Luby, C. P. Binner, C. O. Collier, and A. L. Sindelar, all of Chicago; Eddie Linsz, Cleveland; Harry Feuser, St. Louis; Hank Marino and Eli Whitney, Milwaukee, and H. P. Coker, Los Angeles, Cal.

Heading the list of cities supplying bowlers for the tournament is Chicago, which has an entry of 23 men, including seven who have been seeded. Milwaukee will have seven, including six who are to come out of a tournament Hank Marino is to open next week-end. Detroit will have 5; Cleveland, 8; St. Louis, 7, and New York, including Brooklyn, 6.

SHELL SHORTAGE WILL HANDICAP RABBIT HUNTERS

Many Stores Already Out of Ammunition.

BY BOB BECKER.

Due to the fact that many sporting goods and hardware stores are sold out of 12 gauge shotgun shells and have only limited quantities of 16 and 20 gauge shells, rabbit hunters in northern Illinois may not get in as many hunts this fall as they did in former years.

The stocks of sporting ammunition in Chicago stores have melted like ice in a hot sun. Experienced duck and pheasant hunters began to buy their shells in July and August when they saw the handwriting on the wall which indicated an ammunition shortage was in the offing. This buying took a sizable quantity of ammunition off the shelves. Then with the opening of the duck season the run on ammunition really got under way. Yesterday one of Chicago's leading sporting goods stores which annually sells millions of shotgun shells reported it had not had 12 gauge shells for some time, with the exception of a few loaded with No. 10 shot.

Use Less Effective Shells.

Rabbit and pheasant hunters who waited until the last minute to buy their ammunition have been forced to go after game with this No. 10 shot, which isn't very effective compared to No. 4, 5, and 6 shot.

The first 12 gauge shells to disappear from the shelves were those favored for duck and pheasant hunting. Then the duck hunters turned to No. 2, 7, and 7½ shot for their waterfowl ammunition, and the stores had to ration these, two boxes to a customer. All 12 gauge shells loaded with shot suitable for quail also were sold out quickly. There are a few 16 and 20 gauge shells available in light loads in some stores and some .410 gauge ammunition also is available.

No 30-30 Ammunition.

The metallic ammunition especially in those calibers bought by the deer hunters has been even more of a headache to both the stores and the sportsmen for such popular shells as the 30-30 and the 30 have been off the market for months. One of the big gunshops in the city reported yesterday that it receives an average of 25 telephone calls a day for 30-30 rifle shells and an equal number of customers come into the store each day trying to buy them. There haven't been any .300 Savage or 30-06 caliber shells for some time.

The trappers and other outdoors men up north are the ones that may suffer the most due to the lack of 30-30 ammunition. Thousands of the popular 30-30 guns are used by northern woodsmen to get their winter supply of meat. This year these useful sporting weapons may be out of service in many a camp.

FLORIDA TRACKS GET OVER SCARE ON GAS RATIONS

Miami, Fla., Nov. 18 (AP).—Miami's horse and dog track operators, already beset by wartime racing problems, got a scare over gasoline rationing today, but it proved short lived.

James A. Dixon, Dade county rationing chief, issued a statement saying drivers might lose their gas ration books if they drove their automobiles to sports events, but later he announced that his board would not attempt to control the use of A coupons.

"The present ruling is that ration boards have no authority over the nonoccupational driving on A coupons," Dixon said. "I don't know what a new ruling might bring, but under the present interpretations from Washington we will not attempt to check up on the use of gasoline bought on A books.

Dixon called a press conference this morning after the OPA announced a cut in the basic A coupon quota to three gallons of gas a week, and declared: "All pleasure driving simply is out."

Woman Bowls 680, Season's High in City

High individual and team series for Chicago this season were bowled in the Congress Women's Classic league last night when Emily Deering of the Logan Square Buicks rolled 249, 256, 175—680 and the Budweisers got 2,811 in winning three games from Congress recreation. Goranson's 20 Alleys took the league lead by running their string of victories to 22 straight. The world champion Logan Squares dropped into second place when they won two and lost the roll-off of an 817 game to the Thompson Tennis Strings. Other high individual series were marked up for Lee Liepe, who got 634 and Dorothy Miller, 628. Mrs. Deering's 680 tied for third high in the nation this season, while the Budweisers' 2,811 was fourth high.

The Monarch Beers bowlers fired a 3,263 series and 1,145 game, both season's records for the circuit, to win three games and take the lead in the Classic league last night. Their 3,219 was the previous high. Last night's match, in which the Monarchs shut out the United States Beers, was also ninth high nationally for the season. It was rolled at the Faetz & Son recreation. Dick Winsberg led the tea mwith 687, followed by Bill Flesch with 686. Harry Ledene shot a 277 game.

Charles Town Track to Open Fall Meeting Nov. 30

Charles Town, W. Va., Nov. 18 (AP).—The Charles Town Jockey club announced today its fall race meeting would open Nov. 30 instead of Dec. 1, because of the cancellation of the final day's program at the Bowie, Md., track. The Charles Town meeting will continue for 18 days.

RACING BOARD PONDERS TRACK DATE CONFLICTS

Final Decision Is Likely Next Week.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Track operators yesterday presented arguments before the Illinois Racing board in support of their applications for 1943 dates. The occasion was a hearing in the board's offices necessitated by several conflicts in the applications. After the various cases had been presented, Maj. Ednyfed Williams, chairman of the board, stated that the matter would be taken under consideration. The announcement of the dates is expected to be made some time next week. According to the racing law, it must be made by Dec. 1.

Benjamin F. Lindheimer, executive director of Arlington Park and Washington Park, submitted a prepared statement in support of the application of these two tracks for coördinated meetings running from June 21 to Sept. 6. Arlington has asked for the first part of this period, extending to July 31 and Washington Park is seeking the remainder, which would terminate on Labor Day.

Chicago Problems Outlined.

Before presenting the prepared statement, which was read by John D. Jackson, general manager of both tracks, Lindheimer outlined some of the problems Chicago faces, in attracting the country's best horses. He said that, in the course of years, certain definite circuits have been set up in eastern racing centers such as New York, Maryland, Massachusetts, Delaware, and Rhode Island in which owners find it profitable to campaign thruout the season with a minimum of shipping. Lindheimer said that he had discussed the matter with quite a few western owners racing in the east and found all in agreement that the primary attraction was high purse offerings.

The answer to this, Lindheimer said, is the program which Arlington Park and Washington Park have prepared for the coming year if they are able to get the dates requested. They will offer at least one stake race every day of their meetings, ranging in value from a minimum of $2,500 to the $50,000 carried by both the Arlington Classic and the American Derby. The program as a whole, he said, is probably the richest ever offered in America and certainly the richest ever put up in the Chicago area.

Proceeds to War Relief.

Jackson then read the prepared statement which outlined the rise of Chicago racing from its low post-depression point in 1935 to its present high spot. The part which these two tracks had played was brought out. During the 1942 season all of the big name horses raced at Arlington or Washington parks. The statement went on to promise that, as in 1942, the proceeds of the biggest days—Fourth of July and Labor Day—would be turned over to war relief.

Roy D. Keehn, one of the organizers of the move which took Arlington Park out of the hands of its original promoters and placed it on a nonprofit basis in 1928, traced the development of Chicago racing under the leadership of that track. John D. Allen, president of the group which now controls Arlington, and Walter Gregory, president of Washington Park, both spoke briefly.

Sees Need for Favorable Dates.

George A. Barr, attorney for Lincoln Fields, stated that this track has a definite place in Illinois racing and needs favorable dates to survive. He remarked that its head, Matt J. Winn, has built up great personal prestige nationally by his services to racing over a lifetime.

Charles Krutckoff, president of Hawthorne, and John L. Keeshin, president of Sportsman's Park, chose to stand on the statements made in their applications without further comment. D. C. Burnett, representing Fairmount, spoke briefly without necessity of argument because there is no conflict involved in his track's area.

The dates sought by the various tracks follow:

Lincoln Fields—May 22 to June 26 [31 days].
Arlington Park—June 21 to July 31 [36 days].
Washington Park—Aug. 2 to Sept. 6 [31 days].
Hawthorne—Aug. 2 to Sept. 11 [36 days].
Sportsman's Park—Sept. 13 to Oct. 23 [36 days].
Fairmount Park—May 29 to July 5 [30 days] and Aug. 28 to Oct. 9 [32 days].

Mandel in Washington.

In addition to Maj. Williams, the only other board member present was William Fay. The third member, Frank Mandel, is in Washington. Others present besides those previously mentioned were Clement Nance, secretary of the racing board; Albert J. Meserow, representing the attorney general; William Flaherty, a director of the American Turf association, which operates Lincoln Fields; J. E. Donavan, secretary and treasurer of Sportsman's Park, and Robert Barrett, attorney for Sportsman's Park.

In opening the hearing, Maj. Williams read a prepared statement commenting on the war work done by the tracks in 1942 and stating that Illinois tracks had turned over $634,185 to war relief and charity during the season. He praised the efforts of Board Member Fay who, as a member of the Illinois Industrial Conservation commission, had supervised a roundup of many tons of metal, rubber, and fats at the tracks. One item in the drive included Washington Park's old starting gate, which yielded 20,000 pounds.

OPENS BASKET SEASON.

Wilson City College's basketball team will start its season when it meets the faculty this afternoon in the school gym at 68th street and Stewart avenue.

STATISTICS GIVE OHIO WIDE EDGE OVER MICHIGAN

Buckeyes Second in Nation on Offense.

Strictly statistically speaking, Ohio State's panzer patterned offense should sweep right on past Michigan to the Big Nine football title Saturday in Columbus. At least that is the conclusion to be drawn from the official national figures released yesterday by the American Football Statistical bureau.

The basis for this assertion is to be found in the total offensive figures for the season where the belligerent Buckeyes have averaged 420.3 yards each of the eight Saturday afternoons they have appeared in competitive circles this fall, a figure topped in the nation only by Georgia's great offensive machine.

Marked Offensive Difference.

There is a marked difference between the Big Nine leader's offensive total and that of the chief challenger, who will play to a showdown Saturday. Michigan's Wolverines slipped into the nation's select offensive group only this week as the result of its play against Notre Dame last Saturday with an average of 285.3 yards per game. That leaves a difference of exactly 135 yards per contest between the two clubs—a margin the Wolverines will probably attempt to make up by inspired play against their traditional rival.

Consensus that Saturday's game will be of the free scoring variety can be drawn from two phases of yesterday's figures. First, neither team has shown sufficient defensive prowess to be rated among the top elevens of the nation, either against a running or passing game. And, second, the two teams in question both rank among the top rushing leaders of the nation.

Ohio Second in Rushing.

Coach Paul Brown's young men also hold the No. 2 spot thruout the land in rushing with an average of 314.6 yards per game, a figure exceeded only by tiny Hardin-Simmons college of Abilene, Tex. However, almost the same margin of difference separates the same two teams in this department, for the Wolverines moved up a step to the No. 14 listing, but still trail the Buckeyes by more than 100 yards per game with their 206 yard average.

So completely have both Ohio State and Michigan concentrated on their running games that the Buckeyes barely slipped into 14th ranking in the seeded group of passing teams, with an average of only 105.6 yards per game to show for their 99 attempts for the season. Michigan's name cannot even be found among the passing leaders, while neither team has been sufficiently concerned about its kicking to rate consideration among the punting leaders.

The fact that Ohio State's offensive measures far overbalance its defense is best illustrated by the Buckeyes' election recently to direct all kick-offs out of bounds and spot the opposition an additional 15 yards rather than risk a runback by the receiving team.

Bierman Gives Cadet Reserves More Attention

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 18 [Special].—Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman, obviously concerned about the caliber of the Iowa navy preflight reserves, again spent a large part of the Seahawks' practice session working with the third and fourth teams today.

"We've got to pick up the pace a lot if we're to carry on thru in the stretch run," Bierman declared. He said there would be plenty of stiff work for the Seahawks right up to the day of the Nebraska game.

Fred Gage, the former Wisconsin guard, suffered a recurrence of an ankle injury Tuesday, but it is not serious enough to keep him out of action Saturday.

Ensign George Svendsen, the former Minnesota center, has been named acting captain for the Seahawks for Saturday's game against Nebraska.

FIVE HUSKERS CRIPPLED.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 18 (AP).—As the University of Nebraska football squad finished its midweek routine today, it was apparent that five regulars will probably miss the trip to Iowa City, where the Huskers play Bernie Bierman's Iowa Naval Preflight team Saturday.

Cripples absent from practice today were Jack Hazen and Gerry Kathol, ends; Marv Athey, Al Zikmund, and Randall Salisbury, backs. Also on the casualty list are Fred Metheny, Bobby Cooper, and Hank Reichel, all backs.

Great Lakes Seeks Center; Tests Guards

Len Levy and Fred Crawford, two of the leading guards on the Great Lakes football team, yesterday were shifted to center by Head Coach Lieut. Paul D. [Tony] Hinkle. The two players appeared at that position in a long workout and Lieut. Hinkle indicated they would be used as centers against Illinois in Champaign Saturday afternoon.

The changes were made because of injuries to Bob Nelson and Basil Petry, regular centers, who were hurt during the Bluejackets' strenuous period of playing three games within eight days against Purdue, Camp Grant, and Marquette. George Vogler, third string center, also received slight injuries against the Hilltoppers and appears to be available only for part time duty.

The center position is not new to Levy, for three years an outstanding guard at the University of Minnesota. Levy played center in his senior year at West High school, Minneapolis, before he performed for the Gophers. Crawford, captain and guard at Texas Christian last season, has had no experience at center, but Lieut. Hinkle is confident the Texan will be an able replacement.

MAY SHIFT AGASE.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 18 [Special].—Alex Agase, regular right guard, may appear as blocking quarter back for the Illini when they face the big Bluejackets from Great Lakes Saturday.

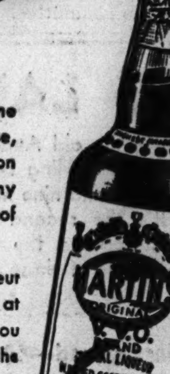
Agase's ability as a tackler and line backer will be needed, Coach Ray Eliot believes, to understudy Ray Florek, regular quarter back. Tom Smerdel, sophomore from Danville, will play left guard if Agase is shifted. Roy Hoppe, reserve quarter back, who has been disabled, reported today and may be available. Ralph Palmer, senior from Rockford, was moved to second string guard to replace Bob Wilson, who is out for the rest of the season.

Eliot worked the Illini on a long passing drill as well as on defense against the invaders.

CHICK HARBERT QUITS GOLF FOR ARMY AIR CORPS

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 18 [Special].—Chick Harbert, one of the nation's top ranking golfers and fourth among the money winners for the current season, has enlisted in the army air reserve corps. Harbert, winner of the Beaumont, Tex., St. Paul, and Michigan open tournaments this year, also found time to secure his student pilot's license.

He will report for duty early in January at the Lindberg airport at Kalamazoo. Upon completion of his training he will be assigned as either a co-pilot on a government operated air line, service pilot with the ferry command, or as an instructor for new reservists.



MARTIN'S V.V.O.

Sez You!

Speaking of rumors, pay no attention to the one that Martin's V.V.O. is difficult to buy. Of course, there was a temporary shortage. We had to ration some of our best dealers for a short time, and many Scotch lovers who appreciate the superiority of V.V.O. did store away extra supplies.

Briefly, there is plenty of this famous liqueur Scotch now available. You can get V.V.O. at taverns and at your favorite dealer's. Also, you pay no more for V.V.O. quality—including the advantage of 88 proof instead of 86.8.

DYKES MAY GET A SHOCK IN SOX TRAINING CAMP

Only 28 Players on Hose Reserve List.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

When James J. Dykes assembles his White Sox muscle stretching class at Pasadena next spring he is going to be surprised, if not shocked, by the limited attendance. The reserve list for 1943, as revealed yesterday, contains the names of only 28 prospective pupils, a total 12 short of the maximum allowed each club during the off season.

But while a squad of 28 might indicate to the Sox fan that he might be in a bad way for baseball entertainment next summer, there's no need for him to start worrying this early. It might get worse before camp opens, because several fellows on the new roster may shortly join up with the 18 now on the club's service list. In the latter the Sox are tops as contributors of American league man power to the armed forces.

Moses Only Varsity Fielder.

With Taft Wright, Myril Hoag, and Sammy West wearing Uncle Sam's clothes, Dykes' chief problem is going to be in the fly chasing department. On the present list there are seven candidates for this particular branch of the baseball art, the only proven big leaguer among them being Wally Moses.

The others are Thurman Tucker, recalled last fall from Fort Worth; Guy Curtwright, purchased from St. Paul; Ralph Hodgin, drafted from San Francisco; Tom Jordan, who can double as a catcher, brought in from Waterloo; Cecil Trent, purchased from Shreveport, and Frank Kalin, purchased from Hollywood.

There is a possibility another fly chaser will be landed in the near future and he'll be a lad who also can play the infield. The dual job men are in great demand, what with the possibilities of the player limit between May 15 and Sept. 1 being reduced to 23 from 25.

Get Set, Coaches!

The Sox reserve list also shows that Mule Haas, Bing Miller, and Muddy Ruel will remain as coaches, but, so far as is known, Dykes hasn't promised them that he won't have them in the lineup at one time or another next summer. The player roster follows:

Outfielders—Guy Curtwright, Ralph Hodgin, Frank Kalin, Wally Moses, Cecil Trent, Thurman Tucker, Tom Jordan.

Infielders—Luke Appling, Dick Culler [St. Paul], James Grant [St. Paul], Harvey Johnson [Albany], Don Kolloway, Joe Kuhel, Dario Lodigiani, Jim Webb.

Pitchers—Bill Dietrich, Orval Grove, Ralph Hammer [Shreveport], Joe Haynes, John Humphries, Thornton Lee, Lee Ross, Edgar Smith, Bill Swift [St. Paul], Jake Wade, Edwin Weiland.

Catchers—Mike Tresh, Tom Turner.

Harvard and Yale Start Tapering Off

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 18 (AP).—Harvard is getting ready for its traditional game with Yale, to be played Saturday at New Haven, and Coach Dick Harlow worked the squad on new offensive formations in today's next to last drill of the season. The Crimson spent most of the early part of their workout on their old plays and then switched to a lengthy session on Harlow's new "expanding offense."

YALE CLOSES SCRIMMAGES.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18 (AP).—Yale had its last scrimmage of the season today as it wound up serious training for the Harvard game. Most of the drill was spent working out a defense for Harvard's wide end sweeps. Coach Howard Odell apparently was settled on his starting lineup except for full back, where little Bill Kirst, Jack Ferguson, or Freshman Bob Pickett were all still in the running.

GOVERNALI IMPERSONATED.

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 18 (AP).—Coach Tuss McLaughry had Walt Snickenberger impersonating Columbia's Paul Governali in today's defensive drill at Dartmouth. Altho Snickenberger is no Governali, after the workout was over, even McLaughry had to admit the Lions are going to be tough. Snickenberger, operating on most of Columbia's favorite pass plays, completed the aerials in every sector of the Dartmouth back field.

HENNESSY EARNS JOB.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 18 (AP).—Two weeks ago, against Notre Dame, Johnny Hennessy, a freshman from Chicago, went in as Army's reserve full back and caught the pass that set up the Cadets' most serious scoring threat against the Irish. Today Johnny looked so well at end, he apparently sewed up the right wing job on the eleven that will go to work at Princeton Saturday. Indications were he would get the call over Dian Crowell.

CONNERY IS THRU.

Newton, Mass., Nov. 18 (AP).—Tough luck hit Boston college's undefeated, untied Eagles today when Billy Connery, half back rated the team's top defensive performer, turned up with a fractured leg which will keep him out of action the rest of the season. Connery told Coach Denny Myers X-rays of the injury showed he suffered the break in last Saturday's Fordham game. Myers ran the rest of the Eagles thru a stiff drill as they prepared for their game with Boston university Saturday.

Fitzsimmons Offered Job as Montreal Club Manager

MONTREAL, Quebec, Nov. 18 (AP).—Hector Racine, president of the Montreal Royals, the Brooklyn Dodgers' International Baseball league farm, announced tonight that Freddy Fitzsimmons, veteran Dodger pitcher and coach, has been offered the job as Montreal manager. The Royals' 1941 manager was Clyde Sukeforth.

Taft Prepares for Tilden and Title Game

Taft's Luck Is Bad, but It's in Title Game

Taft High school's football team is the hard luck eleven of the city prep leagues. Any Taft adherent will tell you of the misfortunes that have befallen the north section team. A few of the worries which the Taft squad has faced during the season include: It lost its coach, Joe Kupcinet, who left in midseason to enter the service; it was deprived, thru injuries, of the services of several outstanding players; it won the north section title on the strength of a 2 to 0 margin; it was confronted with the necessity of playing Austin, one of the most feared teams in the league.

So the ill fortuned Taft Eagles now are contenders for the city championship.

Faces Tilden Saturday.

This Saturday Coach Walter Oberlander, who replaced Kupcinet, will lead a Taft team—which last week beat Austin, 12 to 7—against Tilden in Soldiers' field for the City league's highest honor. Whether Taft's next worry will be concerning its ability next season to retain the championship will be determined only after the final whistle Saturday. But this much is certain: Taft's is a team that apparently thrives on hard luck.

For several months a number of the prep experts have been nicknaming the Taft team the "Presidents." The squad's nickname, as Oberlander points out, is the Eagles.

One of the factors which has brought the Eagles to their present contending position lies in Taft's unusual and efficient formation. It is a product of the ideas which Coach Oberlander, who was graduated from Stanford university in 1941, learned under Coach Clark Shaughnessy. Oberlander, a quarter back on the 1940 eleven, revamped the Taft attack, basically a short punt, and gave it a double spread and a man in motion.

Almost a T Formation.

From this style of play, which is a T in everything but formation, the Eagles are able to run passing and running plays with a maximum of efficiency and deception. A complex system of lateral passing has given the Taft back field men ratings among the best ball handlers in the league.

And it is thru the use of this pattern of play that every player comes into equal action. The Taft lineup has been unmarked this season by any standout individual performer. The Eagles, rather, have functioned as a unit in the past. The back field, Quarter Back Jack Congdon, Left Half Bill Lingenfelder, Right Half Paul Kendrick, and Full Back Bob Miller, take equal prominence in play. On several occasions during the season, lateral passes have been taken by all four, and, similarly, the successful completion of the intricate maneuvers is contingent upon the thoro teamwork of the linemen.

Taft's a Young Team.

The Taft team, completing its third year in league competition, is comprised almost entirely of juniors. Lingenfelder is the only senior in the back field. Its reserves are exceptionally strong. According to Taft followers, Oberlander will be able to alternate varsity men with second team players and lose little efficiency.

All of which should give Oberlander some assurance that his worries next season—one of which, as enumerated above, he hopes will be the retention of the league title—will be something less than they were this.

FORBES, FORMER CHAMPION, ILL IN COUNTY HOSPITAL

Harry Forbes of Barrington, Ill., who held the world bantamweight championship from 1901 to 1903, is ill in County hospital, it was learned last night. Forbes, who is a member of the Veteran Boxers' association of Illinois, was forced to leave his job as custodian in the bailiff's office recently to enter the hospital for treatment of an old ailment.

A scheduled bout in Marigold Gardens Monday between Sammy Parratto, Pittsburgh lightweight, and Alvin Gomez has been set for eight rounds. . . . Three contests of 10 rounds have been added to the Cleveland News' Christmas fund show, Dec. 1, which is headed by Ray Robinson and Izzy Jannazzo. Harry Bobo, Pittsburgh heavyweight, is paired with Alfred [Big Boy] Brown, Detroit; Maxie Berger, New York welterweight, is matched with Bobby Richardson, Cleveland, and Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati middleweight, is paired with Joe Maxin. . . . A novice amateur boxing tournament will start in the Madison Athletic club Dec. 4. The event is open to any boy 16 years or older who never has been registered with the AAU and has not boxed professionally. Entry blanks are available at the club, 4711 Madison street.

Back Julius Byrdy is expected to see considerable action Saturday for Taft's Eagles against Tilden.

Indiana Loses Sclipcea for Purdue Game

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 18 [Special].—Indiana's football team today lost the services of John Sclipcea of Indianapolis, reserve tackle, for the Old Oaken Bucket battle with Purdue Saturday in Lafayette.

Sclipcea suffered a head injury in the Kansas State game and team physicians said he will not be sufficiently recovered for the Boilermaker game.

Tom Moorehead, who blocked three Kansas State punts, moved up a notch to replace Sclipcea, and is now the only relief man available for tackle Ed Bell, who has been out of Indiana's games with Ohio State, Iowa, and Minnesota only four minutes.

The Old Oaken Bucket became the symbol of supremacy between Indiana and Purdue in 1925. It was resurrected from a southern Indiana well by George Ade of Purdue and the late Harry Kurrie of Indiana university, and has been placed at stake in each of the Hoosier-Purdue games since.

SMERKE LEADS PURDUE.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 18 [Special].—Fred Smerke, Purdue end who is one of the nation's ranking pass receivers, will serve as acting captain for the Boilermakers for the second time this season in the Old Oaken Bucket battle with Indiana here Saturday.

Following the conclusion of an effective scrimmage session on both offense and defense this afternoon, Coach Elmer Burnham announced Smerke, who captained Purdue in the 13 to 7 loss to Iowa, will lead the Boilermakers against the Hoosiers.

Smerke, a converted quarter back who has caught 16 passes in eight games for a net gain of 293 yards, is expected to wage a duel with Pete Pihos, Indiana sophomore end who has accounted for 17 completions and 210 yards, for aerial reception honors.

X-ray examination of the shoulder injury suffered by Charles Harris, veteran end and quarter back, in yesterday's scrimmage revealed there was no fracture, but the severe dislocation has definitely ended his football career for the season.

Connie Mack Relents; Johnson to Be Traded

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 18 (AP).—Connie Mack announced today Bob Johnson, slugging Philadelphia Athletic outfielder for 10 years, will be traded at the Chicago major league meeting opening Dec. 1 if a suitable deal can be arranged. In making the announcement the veteran manager retracted a previous statement made when Johnson left the club at the end of the season declaring he would never play with a team as poor as the A's again. At that time Mack said Johnson would play with the A's or not at all.

WPB Restricts Repairs for Fishing Equipment

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—The War Production board, which cut off manufacture of new fishing tackle for sportsmen on May 31, now has prohibited use of metal, plastics or cork in repairing noncommercial tackle or producing repair parts. "Since these materials are essential for repair of most types of fishing tackle," an official statement said, "the action will have the effect of preventing replacement or repair of broken equipment once present stocks of repair parts are exhausted."

Preps Await Annual Knife, Fork Action

The old familiar cry of "break up that pass" has been changed to "Pass the salt and pepper," as virtually all high school football teams have completed their seasons and the banquet campaign is under way. The only remaining important games are the finals of the City and Catholic leagues this week-end, with the two champions meeting in Soldiers' field on Nov. 28 in the annual city title game.

St. Rita High school will hold its annual banquet Saturday at 7 p. m. at the Evergreen Golf club, 9140 South Western avenue. Heading the list of guest speakers will be Harry Stuhldreher, athletic director and head football coach at the University of Wisconsin; Harold [Red] Grange, former University of Illinois football star and later a player and coach with the Chicago Bears, and George Fox, an alumnus of St. Rita, who later played football under Stuhldreher at Villanova and now is end and tackle coach at Wisconsin. After the dinner Stuhldreher will comment on motion pictures of the Ohio State-Wisconsin game.

Stuhldreher will also head the list of speakers at Oak Park-River Forest Township High school banquet, given annually by the fathers of the boys on the school's several football teams. This is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 28, in the Oak Park club.

Warren Parnell, smallest member of the Waller High school first string football team has a brother, Elmer, in the navy who played on the 1941 team. . . . Murney Lazier of Mattoon High school won the Big Twelve football conference individual scoring honors with 49 points, representing eight touchdowns and one point after. . . . Coach Irving Kuklin of Kelvyn Park High school reports 100 registrations for the Commando-Rangers and expects to double that figure. . . . Virgil Bingman, principal at Le Roy High school, will serve as basketball coach this season. . . . Gilman High has no returning regulars for its basketball team. . . . The new swimming coach at Carl Schurz High school, Eli Soodik, is a graduate of the University of Michigan. . . . Dupo High school dedicated its new $250,000 gymnasium last Friday night. . . . Effingham High schools basketball team, composed of five letter men averages six feet in height. . . . Don Nott, star right end on the South Shore High school football team, graduates in February and intends to enlist in the marines.

George [Mike] Chiankas, football star of Eureka High school, hopes to become the only 16 letter winner in the school's history before the season closes. . . . Frank Froschauer has directed the Thornton freshman-sophomore football team to 23 consecutive victories over a span of four years. . . . The parents of the Hopedale High school basketball players will handle the transportation for the team when it goes out of town. . . . Bloomington, Streator, and Urbana, co-champions of the Big Twelve football conference along with Mattoon High school, placed two men each on the Champaign News-Gazette's All-Star team. . . . Hyde Park was assessed 150 yards in penalties in the Bowen game, an all-time high for Hyde Park football teams. . . . Whiting High school of the Northern Indiana conference western division, coached by Jim Adams, has scheduled 18 basketball games.

WILDCATS JUST NATURALLY POINT FOR IRISH GAME

Lou Rymkus May Miss Game Due to Injury.

Keying Northwestern's Wildcats for their encounter at Notre Dame Saturday is one problem that does not confront Coach Lynn Waldorf this week. The players take care of that little item among themselves and promise to be up for their annual clash with the Irish.

It's a matter of record Northwestern usually plays its best game of the year against Notre Dame. So the fact the Wildcats have lost six straight conference games can be discounted in attempting to forecast what may take place when these traditional rivals square off Saturday.

Wildcats Do Rebound.

A glance over the season's record reveals the Purple proved stubborn foes for all opponents which included such high ranking teams as Iowa Pre-flight, Texas, Michigan, Ohio State, Minnesota, Illinois and Wisconsin. Probably the most significant feature about this 1942 Wildcat eleven is that it came back stronger after each successive setback.

This ability to bounce back from defeat is one reason the Purple is accorded a chance to upset the Irish. Against Wisconsin, Northwestern turned in its best performance of the year, not only outgaining the Badgers but bottling up such backs as Pat Harder and Elroy Hirsch thruout the second half.

Line Faces Big Job.

The Wildcat line which played a big part in shackling the Badgers, faces its biggest test of the season Saturday. Assistant Coach Maury Kent, who scouted the Irish in most of their games this fall, has warned the players they will be hard pressed to stop Corwin Clatt, Bob Livingstone, Creighton Miller, Jerry Cowhig and others.

But the Purple line, spearheaded by a pair of rock ribbed guards in Nick Burke and Alex Kapter and flanked by some husky tackles in Ray Vincent, Bill Ivy, Tony Samarzia, and Warren Karlstad, figures it will be equal to the task.

IRISH REGULARS REST.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 18 [Special].—Notre Dame's second team scrimmaged today while the regulars again abstained from contact. While most of the session was devoted to defense against the passes of Northwestern's Otto Graham, the shock troops were on offense long enough for Dick Creevey, left half back, to make three touchdowns.

The first came on a 60 yard run from scrimmage, and the second two on passes by John Creevey, sophomore quarter back.

Lou Rymkus, senior left tackle, may not be able to play in Saturday's game. His right elbow was injured in today's scrimmage.

Jim Mello Returns.

Jim Mello, sophomore full back who started the season as a regular but was benched with injuries after the Stanford game, marked his return to top physical shape with several gains thru the line. It is likely, however, Corwin Clatt, another sophomore, who got his chance with the first team only after Mello and Jerry Cowhig were hurt, will start against Northwestern here Saturday.

The status of Russell [Pete] Ashbaugh, right half who was hurt in the Army game two weeks ago, and Bob Neff, right tackle, and Bill Earley, second string right half, both of whom were hurt in last week's Michigan game, still was doubtful today. All were on the field in sweat clothes, but were not permitted to participate in regular practice maneuvers.

Prom Guests Coming.

The crowd at Saturday's game, which is expected to reach 35,000 if the weather is good, will include several hundred guests at Friday's junior prom. They will sit in a special section with their student hosts and will receive a special tribute from the 108 piece Notre Dame band.

Bears Back to Work for Lions; Cards Eye Steelers, Bill Dudley

The Bears yesterday held their first workout since their 38 to 7 victory over the Packers last Sunday. Co-Coaches Hunk Anderson and Luke Johnsos sent them thru a running and passing drill of an hour and a half on Wrigley field in preparation for their engagement with the Lions in Detroit Sunday.

"They're showing a lot of spirit," Anderson said. "Aside from a bit of stiffness and a few bruises, every one is in good shape and we'll be able to send a strong lineup into the Detroit game."

Osmanski Back Again.

The Bears will be bolstered by the return of Bill Osmanski, the powerful full back who was injured early in the season. They will work out again today and tomorrow and will leave on Saturday morning for Detroit.

The Cardinals also worked yesterday, their next engagement being with the Steelers Sunday in Pittsburgh. They too will have some additional strength, due to the return of Bob Maddock at guard. Maddock broke his collar bone in the first game of the season.

Coach Jimmy Conzelman sent the Cards thru a drill emphasizing air offensive. In the course of the workout, five youths strolled into the park and Steve Lach, who is in charge of the Cardinals' recruiting campaign, promptly took time out to talk them into applying for places in the naval air squadron.

Another member of the Cardinals was sworn into the service yesterday. This was Vinc Banonis, 21 year old center. He will go in with the rating of a third class boatswain's mate. Banonis is expected to finish out the football season before being called.

Cards to Meet Dudley.

During their game in Pittsburgh the Cardinals will encounter Bill Dudley, the former University of Virginia half back who has done a lot toward sparking the Steelers in his first year in the pro league. The league statistics, released yesterday, show Dudley well ahead of his rivals in ball carrying with a total of 591 yards on 131 attempts for an average of 4.5. Merlyn Condit, Brooklyn half back, is his closest pursuer with 524 yards. Gary Famiglietti of the Bears is in fourth place, behind Andy Farkas of the Redskins.

Sammy Baugh of the Redskins holds a small margin over Cecil Isbell of the Packers in the passing department, with 108 completions out of 185 attempts. Isbell has 103 completions out of 190 trials.

Don Hutson of the Packers is all by himself at the top of the classification of pass receivers. He has caught 57 for a gain of 1,032 yards. His nearest rival, Dante Magnani of Cleveland, snared only 21 for 271 yards.

Hutson also is the leading scorer with 14 touchdowns and 26 extra points for 110 points. He has missed only one try for point. Ray McLean of the Bears is 68 points behind Hutson in second place. He has made 42 points on seven touchdowns.

Layden Awards Pro Bowl Game to Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 18 (AP).—The pro bowl football game will be played this year in Philadelphia for the first time, with the entire proceeds going to the heroes of the merchant marine.

Elmer Layden, commissioner of the National Football league, announced today that the game, bringing together the league champions, probably the Chicago Bears, and the league all-stars has been scheduled for Shibe park Sunday, Dec. 27. The game was played in Los Angeles until last year when it was shifted to New York because of the war.

Adm. Emory S. Land, war shipping administrator, sponsor of the United Seamen's service in conjunction with the maritime commission, telegraphed Layden "my personal thanks to you and members of the National league for this tribute . . . to this vital service of the merchant marine."

A capacity crowd of nearly 40,000 is expected to watch the game. Tickets range from $1.65 to $5.50 with all seats reserved. Layden said no complimentary tickets, other than working press, will be issued and that the league will not receive a penny. In addition, he declared, the players will not be paid.

Layden also announced that the playoff for the league championship will be played on the grounds of the eastern title winner Dec. 13. Neither Chicago nor Washington has clinched its crown, but the odds are that the Bears and Redskins will meet Griffith stadium.

The all-star selections will be announced directly after this game. The players will come to Philadelphia Dec. 15 to start practice.

BADGERS LOSE 3 MEN FOR GOPHER GAME SATURDAY

Colds Stymie McFadzean, Wasserbach, Diercks.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 18 [Special].—The University of Wisconsin football squad suffered a triple blow today when Lloyd Wasserbach, tackle; Bobby Diercks, quarter back, and Jim McFadzean, right half back, were taken to the university infirmary suffering from heavy colds. Wasserbach was slated to start at right tackle against Minnesota here Saturday and his loss would be a keen one. Diercks also was to see action as a relief quarter back.

Bud Seelinger, hero of the Badgers' victory over Northwestern, was released from the hospital after treatment for a cold and should be ready. Jack Wink's condition is little better and Coach Stuhldreher has practically given up hope that the sophomore quarter back will be able to play at all on Saturday.

Last Game for 14.

The Badgers went thru a lengthy rehearsal of pass defense and their new plays with no contact work allowed by the Badger coaching staff.

The game against Minnesota will mark the last appearance for 14 Wisconsin seniors. Those graduating next June include Mark Hoskins, McFadzean, Diercks, Len Calliagro, and Bob Ray, all backs; Dick Thornally, Bob Baumann, Wasserbach, and Paul Hirsbrunner, all tackles; Bob McKay, a center; John Roberts and George Makris, guards; Dave Schreiner and Bob Stupka, ends.

EXPECT DALEY TO START.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 18 [Special].—Dr. George Hauser and his Minnesota football board of strategy apparently are going to shoot everything in the kickoff Saturday against Wisconsin.

It becomes increasingly apparent that he will lead off with his star left half back, Bill Daley, and let him go as long as he can in his final appearance as a senior. Daley has been alternating with Wayne [Red] Williams, sophomore who was so impressive against Iowa, but the opinion still was that Daley would be in at the start.

The rest of the changed order found Herman Frickey at right half back, Joe Lauterbach at full back, and Bill Garnaas at quarter back.

Bill Aldworth took over at tackle for Paul Mitchell, who was taking an examination. The Gophers will leave Friday noon on the Milwaukee Hiawatha and will stay in Milwaukee Friday night, leaving for Madison at 7:30 Saturday morning.

STOCKS ADVANCE ON GOOD DEMAND LATE IN SESSION

Trade Ignores Weakness in Chemical Shares.

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—Despite weakness in chemical shares the stock market bettered its position slightly today under broadening of demand late in the session. It was difficult to decide whether the leaders were shaping for an extension of the Tuesday decline or were about to seek recovery and this hesitation persisted even after announcement of the regular $2.25 quarterly dividend on American Telephone around midday.

This was counted by Wall street as good news because there had been some doubts that the big communications company would adhere to the usual rate of disbursement in view of estimates that the year's taxes would reduce earnings below dividend requirements.

Dow Chemical and Allied Chemical each closed 1½ lower and Union Carbide dipped ½. Air Reduction and Johns-Manville showed minor losses.

CHICAGO LIST LOWER.

Chicago stocks were mostly lower yesterday, altho 22 issues advanced. New 1942 high marks were set by Ontario Manufacturing, at 15, up 1, and Eddy Paper, at 20⅜, up 1⅜.

BOND MARKET WEAK.

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—The bond market drifted lower today in quiet dealings which brought only minor change either way in the main domestic list.

A few foreign dollar loans, advancing 1 to 5 points or more, were lacking in the big gains made daily since the invasion of North Africa.

Nickel Plate's Net Income Trails Last Year's Level

The Nickel Plate railroad yesterday reported October net income was $1,717,226, against $2,003,120 in October, 1941. Profit for the 10 months ended Oct. 31 amounted to $7,747,298, compared with $9,223,291 in the corresponding period last year. Seaboard Air Line railroad's September net income was $1,368,008, compared with $149,928 in September, 1941.

PRICES OF OATS FUTURES RALLY TO CLOSE HIGHER

Downward Drift of Other Grains Continues.

Oats futures rallied to close with small gains on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday, but other grain prices continued to drift lower as local and outside interests held back pending announcements or developments regarding several matters important to the trade. At the close oats were ⅜ to ⅝ cent a bushel higher, while wheat was unchanged to ⅝ cent lower; corn was off ¼ cent, rye ⅛ to ¼ cent, and soy beans ⅛ to ⅝ cent.

Traders operated with extreme caution, and considerable liquidation was in evidence at times.

Await Loan Details.

The wheat pit awaited details of the Commodity Credit corporation program for the sale of loan wheat in the open market, while corn operators marked time pending announcement of the government loan rate on the 1932 crop.

Oats, which broke Tuesday on news that 300 million bushels of Canadian feed grains would be made available for shipment to the United States as soon as possible, opened ⅛ cent lower on further selling by northwest interests. The market found support later, however, on the strength of good cash demand, commission house buying and short covering.

Wheat Prices Lower.

Wheat prices were off about ½ cent in early trading in sympathy with corn and under scattered liquidation by holders of December contracts. There was some switching from December to May and the difference was 3½ to 3⅝ cents at the close.

Corn was fractionally lower at the outset with moderate selling. At the extreme the decline was nearly a cent, but the market was given fair support on the break by commission house and local buying. Rye was down ⅛ to ⅜ cent at the opening on liquidation, but recovered somewhat on demand from Chicago interests.

BYRNES TO RUN INTERFERENCE FOR NEW TAXES

Expected to Demand Forced Savings.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—Director James F. Byrnes of the Office of Economic Stabilization probably will "run interference" for a new tax measure—expected to include some form of compulsory savings—in congress early next year, authoritative administration sources said today.

Drafted by the treasury department, the measure will be announced in broad outline by President Roosevelt in his annual budget message early in January, said these sources.

Ordinarily, treasury officials carry the burden of presenting such proposals to congressional committees and working with committee chairmen while the measure is before house and senate.

Reasons for Selection.

President Roosevelt is said, however, to have selected Byrnes to assume the task in this instance. One reason given for this was that, with Byrnes as its principal sponsor, the bill might be regarded as an economic stabilization measure rather than a tax bill and thus receive more cordial reception in congress. In addition, Byrnes, a former senator and associate justice of the Supreme court, is widely known and influential among members of the house and senate.

Treasury officials have said repeatedly that any such new measure—variously estimated at raising from 6 to more than 15 billion dollars—would provide for compulsory savings of some type, and Byrnes' office was said to have approved the theory of the plan as a stabilization step.

Aims at Future Earnings.

However, Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau has asserted that this does not refer to existing savings, with which he said the government has no intention of tampering. It concerns only the disposition of future earnings.

Just how much opposition the measure, following closely on the heels of the record war tax bill passed last month by congress, will meet remained strictly a metter of speculation. Some congressmen have advocated a year's moratorium on any new taxation, and the proposal is known to have gained a following as the impact of the new tax law became more evident.

TREASURY BACKS 50 CENT SILVER FOR USE IN WAR

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—Treasury approval of a bill authorizing the government to sell silver from its stock pile for war purposes at a minimum average price of 50 cents an ounce was announced today by the bill's author, Sen. Theodore Francis Green [D., R. I.].

As amended by the coinage subcommittee the bill would authorize the treasury to sell silver on recommendation of Chairman Donald Nelson of the WPB. James Forrestal, acting secretary of the navy, in his letter said this this would authorize allocation of silver to vital war industries which have the greatest need for the metal.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau requested the fixing of 50 cents as the minimum average price, asserting that the average cost of the silver was 48½ cents an ounce. Forrestal's letter said the current market price was "substantially in excess of this amount."

DECLARES NEW PLAN WILL RAISE OUTPUT 10 PCT.

Under the new controled materials plan for allocating steel, aluminum, and copper, vital war production will be increased 10 per cent, E. H. Eitel, regional WPB priorities manager, said last night at the war production forum of the Chicago Association of Credit Men.

The plan will gradually replace the production requirements plan during the first half of next year, and be in full operation by July 1.

Under the plan, Eitel said, each certification of needs will provide for allocation of the material. It will provide "vertical" allocations, so that each producer of parts will get just what material he needs for the exact number of parts to be produced. In that way, he said, a producer of carburetors for a truck maker cannot make more or less parts than will the producer of some other part, such as transmissions, for the same trucks.

$75,000 WAITING FOR DEPOSITORS OF CLOSED BANK

More than $75,000 is waiting for 24,000 depositors of the Washington Park National Bank of Chicago, which failed in June, 1931. The receiver, Harry Joseph, 100 West Monroe street, said yeserday he has 50,000 unclaimed checks which may be claimed at his office or by mail upon presentation of receiver's certificates or other proper proof of ownership.

Joseph is terminating the receivership Nov. 30 and will turn over all unclaimed funds to the division of insolvent banks of the controler of currency's office in Washington, D. C., after Nov. 25. After the money is turned over to the federal government, he said, it will still be available, but the claimant will face a long delay.

Need in East Held Cause of Oil Rationing

Increased war demands for fuel oil in the east in the face of a growing shortage and lack of transportation facilities are largely responsible for the decision to ration fuel oil in the midwest, Joel Dean, director of the fuel rationing division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., said yesterday. He spoke at a crowded meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce at the Hotel La Salle.

Joel Dean.

Dean said that the petroleum shortage is primarily visible on the east coast, but it is just as real in the midwest. He also said there is little likelihood of further postponement of gasoline rationing in the midwest.

Terms Situation Critical.

"I want to tell you that we are faced with a very critical situation," said Dean. "Altho it is true there is now no shortage of petroleum production in the United States, we have an acute shortage in transportation facilities which is resulting in a desperate shortage of petroleum products in certain areas of the country.

"It is obvious that an ample supply of petroleum is useless unless it can be distributed to the areas where the demand is greatest. Within the last few days the demand for petroleum products for use by our expeditionary force in North Africa has exceeded any figure that might have been estimated in advance."

Lists Factors in Decision.

Dean gave the following considerations as prompting the decision of the War Production board to impose oil rationing on the midwest:

1. A need for increasing the efficiency of the tank car fleet by shortening the haul to save transportation time.
2. Expected development of shortage areas in the midwest because facilities will no longer be available to make intradistrict shipments on normal schedules.
3. The uncertainty of wartime transportation facilities which makes it necessary to maintain larger reserve stocks in many midwestern markets than would be necessary in normal times.

Ample Supplies Here.

[Chicago oil company officials said yesterday there are ample supplies of fuel oil in the Chicago area, asserting there is sufficient oil to handle the demand without rationing in the Chicago area and at the same time supply the east with all the oil for which transportation facilities are available. Midwestern storage facilities were said to be sufficient for normal demands.]

During a question and answer period Dean reported a gloomy outlook for operators of hotels, theaters, and other institutions which heat by oil. They must convert to coal or prove that they are unable to do so, he said. He said he believed such businesses were subject to the hazards of war.

Dean indicated that midwesterners will have to get along as best they can under gasoline rationing because the restrictions will not be eased until the rubber situation improves.

HIGHEST STATE COURT KILLS TAX ON SALES BY CLUBS TO GUESTS

The Illinois Supreme court yesterday reversed a decision of Circuit court Judge W. V. Brothers and held that social clubs do not have to pay sales tax on food and beverages sold to members and guests. It also ruled that sales taxes paid during the last three years under protest should be refunded to the clubs.

The Svithiod Singing Club of Chicago was the principal organization involved, altho 12 other social groups were named in the case.

FIVE MILLION DOLLAR RAIL LAND IS SOLD AT AUCTION FOR $100,425

Twenty-one parcels of west side real estate, purchased for about 5 million dollars by the Pennsylvania railroad 25 years ago as a right of way for a contemplated freight terminal which never was built, were sold last night at auction for $100,425.

The auction, conducted by Samuel L. Winternitz & Co., Chicago auctioneers, for Arthur Rubloff & Co., agents for the seller, was held at the Hotel Sherman and was attended by about 300 persons. The auction was unrestricted—that is, no matter how low the bidding, the final bidder got the property he sought.

The lowest bid was $22 for a small parcel which finally sold for $325. The largest sale was $36,500 for two parcels. The land, extending from 15th place north to Van Buren street, was mostly between Jefferson and Desplaines streets.

Short Lines' Pay Increase Is Authorized

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—The War Labor board today authorized "short line" railroads to put into effect the wage increase of 10 cents an hour recommended on Sept. 15 by the railroad emergency board.

The "short line" case was a leftover of the big railroad wage case of 1941 in which the principal carriers signed the so-called Chicago agreements calling for a 10 cent increase.

[Chicago railroad officials said yesterday that no action had been taken on the demand of the 15 nonoperating unions, made in September, for a 20 cent an hour wage increase.]

WLB sources explained that today's action did not order wage increases but only approved increases up to 10 cents on those lines covered in the September recommendations.

The WLB action was necessary, it was said, because the recommendations in the short line case came so late that some of the carriers involved had not made the raise effective when the President's Oct. 3 stabilization order was issued.

Under that order formal board approval of the increase was necessary. The board found that the 10 cents for short line employés was "necessary to correct maladjustments and inequalities in terms of employment by carriers that did not sign the Chicago agreements."

OPA RENT CHIEF SAYS WAR ISN'T A 'BOOM PERIOD'

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 18 (AP).—Paul A. Porter, deputy administrator in charge of the OPA rent department, said today that by Dec. 1 federal rent control would be in effect in 353 areas, covering a population of about 75 million.

Asserting it was the OPA's intention to hold rental profits to peacetime levels, Porter told the convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, "It would not be reasonable to expect us to consider the war as a boom period," adding that nation-wide surveys had disclosed "in general the net operating position of landlords is easily as favorable now as it was before the impact of war."

Porter said cellings on the basis of a particular date had proved itself equitable for at least 92 per cent of the rented dwellings.

RAWLEIGH WARNER
Vice-President and Treasurer

U. S. Forestry Rule Termed Output Threat

Wilson Compton, executive officer of the Lumber and Timber Products War committee, warned government procurement agencies yesterday to expect another bottleneck in lumber production if federal controls of forestry practices sought by the United States forest service are imposed on the industry. He addressed joint annual meetings of the National Lumber Manufacturers association, American Forest Products Industries, Inc., and the Timber Engineering company in the Blackstone hotel.

Federal regulations, in addition to those of the states and conservation practices of the industry itself, not only are unnecessary but "will drive a lot of log and lumber production back into the ground," he asserted.

Says Shortage Is Exploited.

"Our industry has met all war requirements this year by supplementing production with existing inventories," Compton said. "The so-called 'lumber shortage' is being exploited to procure covertly by executive order, without public notice and without public consideration, a federal control over local forest enterprises which for more than a quarter century congress had declined to grant."

Compton said the merits of federal control should be deferred for careful consideration after the war. He said timber reserves and mill capacities are adequate to meet 1943 lumber demands, but urged steps to protect the industry's labor supply, assure it adequate repair materials, and correct income tax provisions which, he said, penalize extraordinary production of lumber needed for war purposes.

Hints Lessening Regulation.

Lieut. Col. Fred G. Sherrill of the army engineers' office told the lumber men to expect increasing lumber demands next year, especially for use in shipping munitions and supplies overseas. He and J. P. Boyd of the army and navy munitions board intimated the government would adopt a course of less regulation of the industry as a means to speed production.

"Every effort is being made toward easing the burden of federal requirements on the industry," said Lieut. Col. Sherrill.

"The eventual trend will be toward relaxation of federal controls as soon as possible," Boyd said.

W. F. Leicester, vice president of the Casein corporation, urged the lumber and furniture industries to coöperate in a program for complete utilization of their resources to satisfy postwar demands for products made of wood. He predicted vast strides in plywood, both in manufacturing process and use of plywood products, when wartime demands have been satisfied and phenol-formaldehyde resin glue is made available for unlimited civilian use.

48 HOUR WEEK IS INDORSED AT LABOR PARLEY

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 18 (AP).—The ninth national conference on labor legislation today indorsed a 48 hour work week providing time and one-half pay is retained for all hours over 40.

The conference, the first ever held outside of Washington, is being attended by 150 delegates from 40 states. They include federal and state labor officials and union leaders.

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins read a message from President Roosevelt in which he said the work of the conference in conserving man power and protecting industrial workers was essential to victory.

3½ MILLION WAR LABOR INCREASE DECLARED NEED

Held Vital to Supply Large Army.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

To achieve necessary war production and provide for essential civilian needs, an increase of 3½ million persons in the labor force will be required in the next year. This is the conclusion reached by the Brookings institution from a study of the man power situation.

Results of the study, made for Brookings by Howard W. Metz, are set forth in a pamphlet, "Is There Enough Man Power?" which has just been released.

A striking difference is noted by the Brookings study in the man power problem that is faced by the United States and the situation existing in Great Britain, Russia, and Germany. Other belligerent nations made more extensive preparations for war and most of their troops fighting on or near their own soil. As a result a substantial number of the troops are available for production during several months of the year in those countries.

Supplies Allies, Too.

"Only a small portion of the United States army," Metz said, "is expected to be retained in the United States, the rest being in far distant areas. Moreover, the United States is expected not only to supply the needs of its own troops but also to continue to be the arsenal of our allies. In the light of these important differences, it seems doubtful that we could have as large a proportion of our men under arms [as other countries] even tho American industry is more productive."

The goal of 12 million men in the armed forces in 1944, it is noted, would represent 9 per cent of the population. This would contrast with the 8.3 per cent under arms in Great Britain where the armed forces number about 4 million. The German army is estimated at about 8 million men which is 10 per cent of the population [including annexed German areas].

Need 3½ Million More.

The 1943 goal of 9½ million men in the armed services would mean 3½ million more workers will be needed. This increase in the labor force will be difficult to attain, it is asserted, and if 12 million men are in the armed forces in 1944 a far greater strain would be put on available man power.

The present labor force is estimated at 58.7 million persons. The additional 3½ million needed in the next year would bring the total to 62.2 millions. In 1944 a labor force of 65.1 would be needed if the armed forces do not exceed 9½ million men.

To achieve the 6.4 million increase in the labor force, the following steps would be necessary:

Employ 60 per cent of all nonfarm "housewives" under 45 who do not have small children.

Employ 15 per cent of the youths between 14 and 19 who normally would be in school.

Secure 150,000 Mexican workers.

Increase the work week to 48 hours—5.4 hours more than was actually worked in the first half of 1942.

Cut the production of civilian goods by one-third.

U. S. Demands Heavier.

This would mean, the study concludes, that greater demands were being made on our man power than in other belligerent countries.

A question is raised whether the United States will have sufficient shipping to maintain five million or more men abroad and at the same time supply other united nations.

Without sufficient shipping it would be necessary to decide whether to immobilize men and equipment in this country or reduce the size of the armed force and release the equipment to other united nations.

The question is one of strategy, on which a decision must be made, the author asserts.

Penalty Clause for Steel Strikers Rejected by WLB

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—The War Labor board, following the recommendation of a mediation panel, has rejected the proposal of the Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation that its contract with the CIO United Steel Workers include a clause penalizing employés $1 a day for each day they are on strike. The board approved the same wage and union security provisions as it ordered in the United States Steel case.

A. T. & T. Votes Full Dividend; Pullman Declares Added $1.25

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—The American Telephone and Telegraph company today declared the usual common stock dividend of $2.25 a share, thereby maintaining its time honored rate of $9 annually.

There had been unusually wide interest in today's meeting of the A. T. & T. board because of recent reports the company might reduce the dividend as a result of the big increase in wartime taxes. The company has about 635,000 shareholders.

American Telephone's record of disbursements to shareholders has been a dividend landmark. Every year since 1922 the company, parent concern of the Bell system, has paid $9 a share, involving an annual distribution of about $168,100,000.

For the last several years the company has earned the dividend with something to spare but, with the steep lift in federal taxes in 1941 and the record wartime levies applicable to 1942, the question of the company's ability or willingness to continue the $9 annual payments has increasingly become a matter for debate in financial quarters.

PULLMAN VOTES TWO.

Directors of Pullman, Inc., yesterday announced a "further" dividend of $1.25 a share on the capital stock in addition to the regular quarterly payment of 25 cents. Both are payable Dec. 15 to stockholders of record Nov. 30, bringing 1942 payments to $3, compared with $2.50 in 1941.

Additional dividend declarations are listed on page 32.

American Cyanamid company, New York, declared a special dividend of 75 cents on the common stock in addition to the regular quarterly dividends of 15 cents on the company's A and B stock, payable in shares of the company's 5 per cent $10 par preference stock except to holders of less than 13⅓ shares of class A or B common.

An extra dividend of 50 cents on common was announced by Kimberly-Clark corporation, Neenah, Wis.

Aluminum Company of America announced a dividend of $3.00 a share on the common stock, bringing total payments for 1942 to $6.00. A common dividend of 25 cents was announced by Middle West corporation.

WLB Submits Ward Dispute to President

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—The War Labor board submitted to President Roosevelt today the Montgomery Ward & Co. case in which the Chicago mail order house has objected to a board order for maintenance of union membership.

The dispute was taken to the White House by a member of the board who submitted papers in the case to a Presidential secretary.

In three previous instances the board has sent to the White House cases involving failure to comply with board rulings. In each case the government moved into the plant.

Would Submit to F. D. R.

However, Montgomery Ward has said that if the President asked acceptance of the board's ruling "we will respectfully obey."

[Officials of Montgomery Ward & Co. said yesterday that they had not been apprised of any developments in the War Labor board case.]

The company objected primarily to an order for inclusion of a maintenance of membership clause in its contract with CIO's United Mail Order, Warehouse, and Retail Employés union.

Calls It a Closed Shop.

In its reply to the WLB, Ward said of the maintenance clause:

"Under this form of closed shop, the employés who are members of the union would not be free to resign from the union without being discharged, and Ward's would not be free to retain a competent worker who had resigned from the union. This making of union membership a condition of employment is the essence of the closed shop, whatever form it may take."

The order gives employés who are union members 15 days to withdraw from the union if they do not want to be bound to remain members for the duration of the contract.

STEEL OFFICIAL AGREES PROFIT WAS EXCESSIVE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP).—A steel company official was accused today of setting up a firm that made $73,000 profit on a $23,000 investment on war contracts by Chairman Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.] of a senate committee investigating war spending. The witness, Kenneth T. Burr, replied that he was willing to return $33,000 to the maritime commission. He is general manager of the Bancroft Rollings Mills of South Portland, Me.

He said he established a private firm, the Materials Handling company, at the suggestion of the Todd-Bath Shipyards, to haul steel for merchant shipbuilding in the area. He put up $3,000 cash and borrowed $20,000 to get the contract started.

Burr testified, under the questioning of committee members, that he charged up more than $73,000 profit on contracts with the British government and the maritime commission, and also received a $10,000 salary in addition to the $30,000 the Bancroft firm pays him annually.

Of the total, $33,000 profit was made by hiring trucks at $3 an hour to haul steel and charging $3.50, Burr said.

FOOD COST RISE NEARLY 2½ PCT. WITHIN A MONTH

City Retail Prices Up Thruout Nation.

'Face Food Scandal'

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—Paul S. Willis, president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc., told the association today that unless a national food director is appointed soon, the nation faces a "food scandal far greater than the rubber situation." "The necessity for a food director," he said, "is not merely an industry matter. It is a matter of great urgency to every soldier and civilian of the united nations." He explained that there is "an agency in Washington to deal with the particular aspects of food supply, but that no one is there to coördinate their efforts."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—Retail prices of foods bought by city families increased 2.4 per cent in the month ended Oct. 15, bringing the food price level to the highest point since May, 1930, the department of labor reported today. Food prices in Chicago in the same period jumped 3.4 per cent, the survey showed, compared with a decline of 0.3 per cent between Aug. 15 and Sept. 15. The average for the 51 cities covered had risen 0.4 in the month ended Sept. 15.

The latest increase brought the food cost index of the bureau of labor statistics to 29.6 per cent over the 1935-'39 average and to 16 per cent over the level of October, 1941.

Living Costs Also Rise.

The food price rise was largely responsible for an increase of 1 per cent in the average cost of living, which the labor department reported for cities thruout the country for the period from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15. The cost of living in Chicago in this period rose 1.4 per cent.

Living costs for city residents on Oct. 15 were 19 per cent higher than the 1935-'39 average and 20.7 per cent more than the level of August, 1939.

The climb in food costs in the latest month reported was nation-wide and was largely in lines which have not been brought under federal price control or were not controled until Oct. 5, the department said. On that date the Office of Price Administration froze at Sept. 28-Oct. 2 levels the prices of an additional 30 per cent of the nation's food bill, bringing all but about 10 per cent under price ceilings.

Vegetables, Produce Soar.

Food prices still uncontroled by OPA, largely fresh fruits and vegetables, increased 5.9 per cent from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15. Prices placed under OPA ceilings on Oct. 5 had already risen 5.6 per cent over the Sept. 15 level, the report showed. The latter group included poultry, eggs, butter, and other dairy products.

Since May 15, just before general retail price ceilings were imposed by OPA, food prices have advanced 6.6 per cent and costs of all other goods and services have gone up 0.2 of one per cent, the department reported.

SAVING AND LOAN LEAGUE ATTACKS REGIMENTATION

Asserts War Is Being Used as a Subterfuge.

BY AL CHASE.

A strong protest against government use of the war emergency as a subterfuge for regimenting the economic system and extending socialized housing thruout the nation was adopted yesterday by the United States Savings and Loan league at the final session of its three day war conference in the Palmer House.

Other resolutions by the league included a plea for economy in government, for adjustment of the rent freeze date on houses to Sept. 15, 1942 "to achieve parity with the treatment accorded labor and farmers," and a general protest against regimentation attempts by government agencies which have no clear relation to the mobilization for war.

The conference also expressed its determination to do the war housing job thru privately financed construction to the extent that permanent units are required and declared that there is abundant evidence that public housing officials are using the war housing program as a vehicle to broaden the scope of social housing.

Commends House Group.

Another resolution commended the Boykin subcommittee in the house which, thru threats to investigate the War Production board, caused the WPB to revoke its recent order stopping the issuance of priority orders for private housing.

The resolution asking decreasing expenditures asked the congress specifically to do the following things: Require the Federal Housing administration to stop insuring mortgages on existing homes; discontinue federal subsidy for farm credit, and discontinue the expenditure of government money to house middle class people at government expense, except to the extent necessary for war production.

The league also asked the government to restrict the cost of information services and unnecessary use of the government frank. It asked the congress to discontinue purchase by the government of mortgages thru its agencies such as the Federal National Mortgage corporation and Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Hits Use of War as Wedge.

In a final resolution the conference declared: "Definite distinction exists and must continue to exist between the prerogatives of government agencies now in operation for defeating the axis and those agencies whose responsibilities are not created by the war.

"We protest vigorously, wherever it exists, the use of the powers which an independent citizenry has temporarily surrendered to its government in order to win a war as an excuse for the permanent establishment of a regimental economic system."

COURT APPROVES GENERAL MOTORS ACCORD ON BONUS

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—Federal Judge Vincent Leibell, who on Nov. 4 rejected an offer of 4 million dollars, today approved an offer of 4½ million made by certain officers and directors of General Motors corporation in settlement of a stockholders' derivative suit.

The action involved operations of the firm's so-called bonus plan, and the defendants last April were held liable to $4,348,044, plus interest.

The offer approved by the court, a compromise, includes provision for waivers of certain possible causes of action not previously concerned in the suit, but excludes settlement of any claim that General Motors may have against the Regent corporation, John J. Raskob, and Pierre S. du Pont for any benefits realized by them as the result of the exchange June 4, 1930, of 2,400 managers' securities, class B shares, owned by the Regent corporation, for 243,392 common shares of General Motors, owned by General Motors.

GALESBURG YARD EXPANSION AIDS WAR GOODS FLOW

Burlington Doubles Its Train Capacity.

BY CECIL LE BOY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 18.—The progressiveness of American railroading in expanding facilities to handle and speed the increased flow of war materials was demonstrated here today by the Burlington railroad, whose tracks form one of the most important midwestern links in transcontinental freight movement.

The road's Galesburg switching yard, sometimes called the "heart of the Burlington system," thru which passes a large part of the nation's transcontinental freight, has been placed into full operation after a five month expansion and improvement program costing the road a million dollars.

Biggest West of Chicago.

The switching yard, comprising about 210 miles of track with double its former capacity, is said to be the largest and most modern west of Chicago. Over a myriad of tracks, automatic switches and controls, about 125 freight cars can be classified and routed every 20 minutes.

The new facilities, obtained after three months of conferences between Burlington executives and WPB officials at Washington, were placed into partial operation Oct. 15. From that date to Nov. 7, one freight train made up of about 69 loaded cars was moved out on the average of every 26 minutes.

The Galesburg switching yard, known in railroading as a "hump" yard, is in the form of a large saucer containing scores of classification tracks over which freight cars are routed. The cars are pushed over a hump and allowed to coast downward onto their proper track, towermen directing their course and speed with electrically operated switches and pneumatic retarders.

Second Hump Saves Minutes.

The yard formerly contained a single hump used in making up both east and west bound trains. Extensive engine switching operations were needed. It now has two humps with 84 classification tracks and 10 outgoing tracks each for west and east bound freight.

Benefits expected from the expansion include the saving of 104,025 freight car days annually, thru reduction of time each car stands idle, and an annual saving of about 45,000 tons of coal for switching engines.

HEAVY SUPPLIES WEAKEN PRICES ON HOG MARKET

Hog prices weakened yesterday under pressure of heavy supplies as farmers began digging deeper into the record crop of 1942 spring pigs. The "fall movement" reached the heaviest volume in 10 months. The supply of 30,000 in the Chicago stock yards, including direct shipments to packers, was the largest for a Wednesday since January.

Prices declined mostly 10 cents a hundred pounds. Steers were mostly 25 cents lower. Lambs advanced 10 to 20 cents.

NO EQUITY.

Please explain why in some corporate reorganizations, particularly in the case of railroads, bondholders of the old company get the new securities and the common stock holders get nothing.—K. E.

Answer: Bonds represent a debt of the corporation and generally are secured by a mortgage on certain assets. Stocks are evidence of ownership. They represent a share in the assets and earnings of the corporation.

When a corporation is reorganized, new securities are issued against the value and earning power of its assets fixed at the time of the reorganization. Since the bondholders and other creditors have a prior lien on assets of the old company, they are first in line for the new securities.

If the value of the company is fixed at less than the amount of the outstanding debt, there is nothing remaining against which new stock can be issued to shareholders of the old company.

Common stock holders under railroad reorganizations often find they are without equity in the new company. Many of the roads now in receivership or which have emerged recently from bankruptcy originally were capitalized at a time when revenues were high and competition was at a minimum.

Competition from bus, truck and air lines and reduced traffic during the depression of the early '30s caused a substantial drop in railroad revenues. Capitalized on the basis of considerably higher income, many roads were unable to meet fixed obligations such as interest on funded debt.

Reorganization plans formulated for many financially distressed roads provided for sharply reduced capitalization and fixed charges. As a result of the scaled down capitalization and new valuation on the company, it was held in many cases that the common stock holders were without equity in the new company.

NO CASH PAYMENTS.

Did North American company pay any cash dividends on the common stock in 1941?—G. T.

Answer: No. However, in the first quarter of 1941 a dividend was paid in participating units for common stock of Washington Railway and Electric company at the rate of one unit for each 40 shares of North American common held. In each of the following three quarters, distributions were in capital stock of the Detroit Edison company at the rate of one share of Detroit Edison for each 50 shares of North American common held. Cash was paid in lieu of fractional certificates.

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE CORPORATION

DON'T BORROW

Borrowing is not always the proper solution to a money shortage. But there are times when a loan is both provident and wise. For instance you might borrow to move into a more economical house, nearer to work . . . to pay cash for medical and dental attention before your favorite doctor is called into the armed forces . . . to buy winter fuel and clothing . . . to clean up past due charge accounts and other bills . . . to buy tools, to pay union dues, or to take special courses for a new job on war production . . . and for many other purposes equally worthy. Loans $10 to $300. "While you wait" service to those who phone ahead or come prepared to present proper identification and evidence of employment.

This is a new map of the western Mediterranean sea and contiguous land areas, from Gibraltar on the west to El Agheila, Libya, on the east. Showing all of Italy as far north as Genoa and the most of North Africa involved in the new invasion by united nations forces and the even more recent invasion of Tunisia from the west, this map covers what is expected to develop into a major front against the European axis nations.
